PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.
We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS in this business is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be enjoyed by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders as direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may feel secured that their orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Advertising.

For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $5, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.

Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.

Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

There is an extraordinary love for steeple architecture among the church-going people in Connecticut. Along the line of the New York and New Haven Railroad, ambitious spires run heavenward to a most extraordinary extent. Some of them are out of all proportion to the building itself, or the resources of the parishes that build them. Bridgeport has a remarkable passion in this line. In the great struggle there, who should have the highest spire, Rev. Dr. Hewitt's parish was the most successful. Like the man who drew the elephant in a lottery, now they have the tallest steeple, and have almost impoverished themselves by it, they don't know what to do with the "animal." It threatens to tumble down every time the wind blows, but to keep it fast in position, it has been anchored to the earth by two huge iron chains.

☞ The Lawrence Journal states that the project of opening the navigation of the Merrimac, between that city and Haverhill, is being revived.

☞ A very singular scene was presented to many eyes a few days since in Hellam township, York county, Pa. One morning the fallen snow was literally covered with small black ants, crawling and kicking with as much animation as do insects in midsummer.

☞ Three-fourths of the city of Kanagawa, Japan, has been destroyed by fire. The loss was about $200,000. The Japanese embassadors to England and France were expected to start from Yeddo on their mission, on the 21st of January.

A sailor dropped out of the rigging of a ship of-war, some fifteen or twenty feet, and fell plump on the first lieutenant. "Wretch," said the officer, as he gathered himself up, "where did you come from?" "I came from the north of Ireland, your honor."

☞ A proposition made by Mr. Bartlett of Gallatin county, in the Illinois Convention, to revise the Constitution, to expel negroes from the State, was voted down by two to one.

☞ There is a beautiful young lady down in Maine, who has knit one hundred pairs of mittens for the soldiers, furnishing the yarn herself.

Major Slemmer, it is said, is rapidly recovering his health.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1862.

☞ There are now at Fortress Monroe about five thousand contrabands, two-thirds of whom are able bodied men. Their aggregate pay is ten dollars per month, two dollars of which is paid in cash, and the rest retained for the future wants of themselves and families.

A modern middle ground doctrine is broached, something like this:—"You may confiscate a slave so far as taking his services away from his rebel master—but if you give the man his freedom, that would be an outrage upon the Constitution! You must hold him, and after the war return him to his former status of slavery, either by giving him up to the forgiven rebel, or by passing him over to some Southern man who has ostensibly maintained his loyalty."

This is, probably, a very strict construction of the constitution; but the thing is more easily told of than done.

There is no knowing how it might be, without trying; but all half way measures are liable to a hitch. The British found it so, in their West India Apprenticeship: but when they finally cut the Gordian knot, the difficulties all vanished, and in these many years since, they have never returned.

☞ A discreditable affair recently took place at Cambridgeport, Vt., in the meeting house there at a funeral. Two choirs took their places in the seats allotted to singers, and, when the hymns were announced, each struck up a tune. Thus two tunes were sung at the same time, making most discordant sounds, and entirely destroying all the solemnity that usually invests such occasions. The difficulty originated in some trouble about rival preachers.

☞ The ship Great Republic, 3356 tons, and the ship George Washington, 1532 tons, have been chartered for the Butler expedition, and are fitting out at Boston with all possible despatch. The Great Republic will take five hundred men, five hundred horses, and one thousand tons of coal. The ship Black Prince, which sailed from Boston Dec. 22d, arrived at Ship Island Jan. 15th. She had on board stores and horses for Butler's division. On the third day out she encountered a gale, and 147 horses out of 153 on board, were killed and thrown overboard. They were a superior class, most of them being valued at $200.

ARREST OF BRIG. GEN. STONE.—The following is the substance of the charges under which Brig. Gen. Chas. P. Stone was sent to Fort Lafayette:

1st. For misbehavior at the battle of Ball's Bluff.

2d. For holding correspondence with the enemy before and since the battle of Ball's Bluff, and receiving visits from rebel officers in his camp.

3d. For treacherously suffering the enemy to build a fort or strong work since the battle of Ball's Bluff under his guns without molestation.

4th. For a treacherous design to expose his force to capture and destruction by the enemy, under pretence of an order for a movement from the commanding General, which had not been given.

A Court Martial will be speedily ordered.

☞ A letter from New Orleans, received at Havana per steamer Victoria, says the superintendent and various employees of the Opelousas Railroad have been arrested, a conspiracy having been discovered to deliver to the Union forces the entire railroad and give other aid at Berwick Bay. The letter says this has been suppressed from the papers.

☞ Rev. Mr. Gerwig, Chaplain of the 37th Ohio regiment, at Camp Clifton, Va., committed suicide early last Monday morning in his tent, by blowing out his brains with a revolver. The cause is said to have been reports that had been circulated, charging the chaplain, who had the direction of all the letters in which money was enclosed to the friends of soldiers at home, with appropriating the money.

☞ The house and barn belonging to widow Robert Getchell in Wells, Me., was destroyed by fire on Saturday, Jan. 25th. Mrs. Getchell's son saved a considerable portion of the furniture in the house from the flames, and James Tabor, a young lad living at the house saved all the stock in the barn. Loss $1200 to $1500; insured for $500 or $600, in the So. Berwick Mutual Co.

☞ Grace Greenwood's "Little Pilgrim" is certainly one of the best as well as most attractive magazines for children in this or any other country—and tells about almost all countries. No family which has ever enjoyed its monthly visits, will willingly do without it afterwards. Only 50 cts. a year. Published by L. K. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

☞ Venezuela advices received via Havana, state that the whole country is again engaged in civil war, all the people between 16 and 60 being called to arms.

ANDREW JOHNSON.—The following is a condensed report of the close of Senator Johnson's powerful speech, in the U. S. Senate, which probably turned the scale, and resulted in the expulsion of Senator Bright:

"Mr. Johnson referred to the speech of the Senator from Delaware, (Saulsbury,) and contended at some length that the South was entirely responsible for the war, and, that the North gave all the compromise that was necessary, but that the Southern traitors would not accept it. If the Senate had not moral, physical, and political courage enough to expel those who are unsafe depositories of the public trust and power, then they were unfit to remain there themselves. He (Johnson) did not say these things in any spirit of unkindness, but for the sake of constitutional liberty, and for the sake of his own wife and children. By the failure of the government to enforce the laws, his wife and children had been turned into the street, and his house turned into a barrack. He had two sons in law—one was in prison, and the other was in the mountains to evade the tyranny of the hell-born and hell-bound spirit of disunion. Yet when cries come up that the laws may be enforced, the Senator [Saulsbury] says: 'I am opposed to the whole coercive policy of the government.'"

The only way (continues Mr. Johnson,) to settle the question now before the government is not compromise, but to crush out the leaders of the rebellion. We have got to show pluck, and have got to fight.—He desired peace; but the only way to get it was to sacrifice blood and treasure.—Then let us crush out the rebellion, and look forward to the time when we shall raise the glorious old flag beneath the cross, and gather around with the cry of 'the Union, one and inseparable, now and forever.' Christ first, our country next.

FOREIGN.—Steamship Jura, from Liverpool Jan. 30, and Londonderry 31, arrived at Portland on Monday. Mason and Slidell have arrived at Southampton. There was no demonstration.

It was rumored that the British Government had ordered the Nashville to quit Southampton, but extended the time of her departure, owing to the danger from the Tuscarora: also that the Government would prohibit any armed ships of either side remaining over twenty four hours in any British port.

The Gibraltar Chronicle says the U. S. consul at Cadiz protested against the assistance given to the Sumter at that port.

The worst fears were realized relative to the accident at the Hartley coal mine. Not one of the buried miners was found alive.

It is rumored that the vessel which the Sumter encountered off Algiers was the Iroquois. There is no news of either vessel. It is reported that the Tuscarora was about to quit Southampton,—destination secret.

☞ Earl Russell, in a dispatch dated Jan. 23d, to Lord Lyons, says the English Government differ entirely from Mr. Seward's conclusions on the questions whether the persons taken from the Trent and their supposed dispatches were contraband. The British Goverment would not acquiesce in the capture of any British ship under circumstances similar to those of the Trent, and the fact of its being brought for adjudication before a Prize Court, though altering the character, would not dismiss the gravity of the offence. Another dispatch gives Lord Lyon's conversation with Mr. Seward on the Charleston blockade. Mr. Seward stated that the plan was not devised to injure the harbor permanently, but merely to aid the blockade.

☞ The Emperor Napoleon opened the French Chambers on the 27th. In his speech he said: "The civil war which desolates America has greatly compromised our commercial interests. So long, however, as the rights of neutrals are respected, we must confine ourselves to expressing wishes for an early termination of these dissensions." Some of the English journals construe the allusion to America as a threat and as significant that France is impatient, and will interfere when the occasion appears to demand it.

☞ By a general order just issued, Gen. Hunter declares martial law throughout the State of Kansas, and says the crime of jayhawking shall be put down with a strong hand and summary process.

A contemporary criticises the application of the word beautiful to a prayer. Why not a "beautiful prayer?" If there is any form of language more beautiful than a simple, earnest prayer, we hardly know where to look for it.

☞ Orders have been issued at Washington prohibiting any more furloughs, and all officers are ordered to return to their regiments.

A Yankee, going with a friend to dine at the house of an acquaintance, in order to save time, said, "scrape for me, while I knock for both of us."

☞ It is announced that on account of the failure of the crops in Honduras all articles of produce are to be admitted free of duty for one year.

A young lady who had lost or mislaid her beau, was advised to hang up her fiddle. She said the advice did great violence to her heart-strings.

☞ The New England Regiment of Cavalry will not be changed to infantry, as has been reported.

THE REBELLION.

A special dispatch states that the enemy is still encamped near Fort Henry, and that preparations for a further movement are going vigorously forward. The river is high and part of Fort Henry is overflowed. An unfinished fortification, called Fort Hermann, opposite Fort Henry, has been taken possession of. The panic is so extensive in Tennessee that the river is considered open for Union fleets to its headwaters. The late garrison of Fort Henry has taken refuge in Fort Donaldson, making the force there between 8000 and 10,000. The rebel steamer Orr, being chased by the gunboat Conestoga, was fired by the crew and abandoned. Several other rebel steamers are said to have been captured by the gunboats Lexington and Conestoga.

The cheering intelligence that Gen. Burnside has triumphed in his attack upon Roanoke Island has been received. The General effected a landing on Sunday afternoon. The Philadelphia Inquirer's dispatch says three rebel gun-boats had been sunk and two captured, one of which was the flag ship. The Stars and Stripes could be seen waving over the batteries from Elizabeth City.

The Island was captured after three days' fighting. A large number of prisoners were taken. The people of Norfolk and Portsmouth are panic stricken. The rebels acknowledge that the only obstacle of importance to retard Gen. Burnside's march upon Norfolk, are the swamps, marshes and sickness.

Five rebels were killed, and 30, with their horses, captured by our forces on Sunday, 7 miles east of Fort Henry, on the road to Fort Donaldson, Tenn. One Federal was wounded. Our troops on Saturday evening destroyed a portion of the bridge on the Louisville, Clarksville and Memphis R. R. The rebel camp at that point had previously been evacuated.

NAVAL. — Upwards of thirty-seven hundred men are now employed at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

There are now at the Charlestown Navy Yard eight vessels which will be ready for sea in a few days, viz: the Vermont, Wachusett, San Jacinto and the Kensington, and the gunboats Katahdin, Kennebec, Chocorua and Marblehead. The labor necessary to put these vessels in such a state of forwardness has been immense, and the successful effort, the Boston Courier says, is creditable in the highest degree to Mr. William L. Hanscom, who is the energetic and skilful naval constructor at the yard.

Sloop-of-war Savannah, Commander John S. Missroon, arrived at New York, on Saturday, from the blockade off the Savannah river. Com. Missroon will be succeeded in command of the ship by Capt. Ellison, late of the Richmond, who left for the blockading fleet about a week ago, with orders to join the Savannah.

Steam sloop Richmond, 22, is nearly ready for sea, and will sail from New York in a few days. Her forecastle has been lengthened some twelve feet, to make room for an 80-pound rifled Dahlgren gun, she is to carry.

☞ Capt. Dupont, in a communication to the War Department, states that the remainder of the stone fleet were got into position and sunk in Charleston harbor, Jan. 25th. They effectually block a deep and excellent passage to the north of Rattlesnake Shoal. Capt. Dupont says the rebel steamer Isabel did not get into Charleston harbor by the main channel, where the previous fleet was sunk. The obstruction there is complete, and had not been removed by the late gale. The water breaks clear across them. The Isabel got in by Maffit's channel, which is now closed by the stone fleet and the blockading vessels.

☞ Washington is again filled with rumors predicting all manner of forward movements in every direction. It is known that Col. Thos. A. Scott, Asst. Sec. of War has been in Indiana and Ohio to make arrangements for the use and occupancy of the rolling stock of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad Company, as well as other companies connected therewith, for the period of six consecutive days; but when it is to commence is not stated.

☞ The report of Mr. Ward on the reciprocity treaty recommends the appointment of three Commissioners to meet a like number on behalf of Great Britain, to regulate the commerce and navigation between Her Majesty's possessions in North America and the United States, and to make them reciprocally beneficial and satisfactory, as was intended by the reciprocity treaty.

☞ The Nashville Patriot contains a long card from Ben McCulloch, addressed to the Richmond Whig, in which he roundly abuses Gen. Price, accusing him of robbing the Louisiana and Arkansas soldiers of their share of the glory won in the battle of Springfield, in which the Louisiana regiment (so Ben says) took Sigel's battery at the point of the bayonet.

☞ A Southern mail recently captured, contained a letter from some high officer, which speaks of the demoralizing effect of the rebel defeat at Somerset. It says another at Fort Henry would be almost irreparable.

☞ Prof. Shed, of Andover Theological Seminary, was unanimously chosen associate pastor of the Brick Church, New York, at a meeting held on Thursday evening.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahnemann, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. JEFFORDS' eye CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, sore throat, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curative for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. TULLER, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

THE FRANKLIN.—The Secretary of the Navy, in reply to an inquiry of the Senate, says:

"In reference to the steam frigate Franklin, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, the present vessel is not the old one altered and repaired, but an entirely new one, altogether different in form and dimensions. It does not appear upon the records of the bureau that any portion of the old vessel was used in the construction of the new one. The total cost of the ship to the present time is nearly $446,000. With regard to her completion no time has been determined. The plans of the machinery have just been arranged, and its construction and erection will require not less than twelve months."

The Franklin is really a very fine new ship, rebuilt under the head of "Repairs,"—yet there is just enough of the old ship left in the new, to preserve her identity, and so keep up the name, without an actual "transmigration of souls."

The story of her transfiguration is sufficiently curious to bear telling in this place.

When the Dry Dock built here was ready for use, it was necessary to have some large vessel docked, to try the working of the dock, before the work was accepted and paid for. As we had no United States ship here, the Franklin 74, a mere hogged hulk, without masts, rigging or guns, was towed round here from Boston, for that purpose.

After proving the dock, the Franklin lay alongside the wharf for some time; but early in Pres. Pierce's administration, and as we suppose somewhat by his influence, it was ordered,—that the Franklin be docked again,—that she be put on dry land,—then that the hog, or twist, be taken out of her, that she be sawed in two, and the head or bow carried forward so as to build in a piece. When this had been done, then an order came to take the Franklin down, and put her together in the great ship-house, for the needful repairs and improvements.

She was taken down, her materials properly taken care of; and the repairs and improvements made were quite extensive.—Close down to her keel a very fine large timber from the old ship was built in; and a number of lower deck beams from the old ship, being perfectly sound and admirably seasoned, were put into the new. All the rest of the hull is new, or was, when Pres. Buchanan and Sec. Toucey took the reins:—and in spite of the five years' subsequent decay, she is an excellent ship now. We hope to see her afloat and fitted out in due time.

☞ We have neglected to state before that Mr. Chas. F. Browne brought out "Artemas Ward" here in his own clothes, last Friday evening—and that Artemas appeared like himself as we have long been acquainted with him through the press—only he is a better speaker than we expected.—The lecture was a "medley of nonsense," of course—that was all it professed to be—but contained much valuable truth, well put, nevertheless; and but for having been piratically reported in the great city press in advance, would have been one of the most enjoyable treats to all the large and appreciative audience. His "subject" was not, though the title of his olla podrida was, "The Children in the Wood." We, as one of the laughing philosophers, can but pronounce Artemas a first rate lecturer, as he long ago proved himself a first rate wit.

P. G. L. Co.—At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Gas Light Company, on Tuesday, 11th inst., the old Board of officers was re-elected:

Directors—Ichabod Goodwin, John Knowlton, Benjamin Cheever, Leonard Akerman, Thomas L. Tullock.
Treasurer's Clerk—David Kimball.
Agent—John Trundy.

☞ As will be seen by his advertisement, Mr. Bishop will exhibit his Panorama of the War at the Temple, on three evenings this week, commencing this evening. His painting is highly recommended by the press in the cities which he has visited, and the Bath Times says of the proprietor:—"Mr. Bishop is a gentleman of culture and good taste, who is sure to make friends, and to leave a good impression on the minds of all those with whom he does business. We wish him abundant success. His sterling merits entitle him to it."

☞ We notice that the bill-headings which are frequently coming to us from the paper warehouse of Mr. Getchell, at Exeter, though not bearing the Ballot's imprint, are printed "Exeter, M. H.," which we can't understand, unless it means mutton-head.

☞ The rebel Government have sent word to Hamilton Fish and Bishop Ames that they will not be admitted into the Confederate States to discharge any mission whatever.

☞ In the high country of the Upper Potomac dry winds have prevailed recently and the ground is now in a position to bear heavy artillery.

☞ The amount of duties collected at the Custom House in Portland, for the month of January this year, was $75,098.06; against $3,949.21 in January, 1861.

☞ Advices from Vera Cruz to the 21st ult., have been received via Havana. The Allies had sent their ultimatum to the Mexican Government. The report that the Spaniards had met with a defeat at the National Bridge is not confirmed. No important military movement had been made.

☞ The Student and Schoolmate, published monthly by Galen James & Co., Boston, at $1 a year,—edited by "Oliver Optic," is a capital little magazine for youth, and not without interest to grown-up children. $6 for ten copies; only $25 for fifty.

Censure is the tax a man pays to the public for being eminent.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS TIME OR STRENGTH OV THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE GAME OF LIFE—A HOMILY.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

There's a game much in fashion—I think it's called Euchre,
(Though I never have played it, for pleasure or lucre,)
In which, when the cards are in certain conditions,
The players appear to have changed their positions
And one of them cries, in a confident tone,
"I think I may venture to go it alone!"

While watching the game, 'tis a whim of the bard's,
A moral to draw from the skirmish of cards,
And so fancy he finds in the trivial strife
Some excellent hints for the Battle of Life:
Where—whether the prize be a ribbon or throne—
The winner is he who can "go it alone?"

When great Galileo proclaimed that the world
In a regular orbit was ceaselessly whirled,
Denied his learning and blackened his fame,
"I can wait," he replied, "till the truth you shall own!"
For he felt in his heart he could "go it alone!"

Alas! for the player who idly depends,
In the struggle of life, upon kindred or friends;
Whatever the value of blessings like these,
They can never atone for inferiority one,
Nor comfort the coward who finds, with a groan,
That his crutches have left him to "go it alone!"

There's something, no doubt, in the hand you may hold—
Health, family, culture, wit, beauty and gold—
The unfortunate owner may fairly regard
As each in it way, a most excellent card;
Yet the game may be lost, with all these for your own,
Unless you've the courage to "go it alone!"

In battle or business, whatever the game,
In law or in love, it is ever the same;
In the struggle for power, or the scramble for pelf,
Let this be your motto—Rely on Yourself!
For, whether the prize be a ribbon or throne,
The victor is he who can "go it alone!"

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us at first, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rely on having their orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Not far from Central New Jersey lived two young lawyers, Archy Brown and Tom Hall. Both were fond of dropping in at Mr. Smith's of an evening and spending an hour or two with his only daughter, Mary. One evening when Brown and Miss Mary had discussed almost every topic, Brown suddenly, and with his sweetest tones, struck out as follows: "Do you think, Mary, you could leave your father and mother, your pleasant home here with all its ease and comforts, and go to the Far West with a young lawyer, who has but little besides his profession to depend upon, and with him find out a new home, which it would be your joint duty to beautify and make delightful like this?" Dropping her head softly upon his shoulder, she answered "I think I could, Archy." "Well," said he in a changed tone, and straightening himself up, "there's Tom Hall who's going West, and wants to get a wife. I'll just mention it to him."

In a recent address, Bishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, expressed the hope that the rattlesnake of disunion might never sting the hand that waved the flag of the Union, or the heart that loved it.

The certain way to be cheated, is to fancy one's self more cunning than others.

He who can conceal his joys, is greater than he who can hide his griefs.

THE REBELLION.

The gunboats sent up the Tennessee river after the reduction of Fort Henry, have captured one rebel gunboat, destroyed all their transports, and broken up their camps. The river is now clear as far as Florence, Ala., the head of steamboat navigation, 260 miles from its mouth. Fort Donaldson, on the Cumberland, is reported to be completely surrounded by our forces. The number of rebel troops at this fort is supposed to be about 8000, including a portion of those who fled from Fort Henry. Gen Pillow is in command there, with it is said, some of the best artillerists from Columbus. There are two small forts and three camps several hundred yards from the main fortifications, and present appearances indicate that the coming battle will be much more desperate than that of Fort Henry.

It is reported that the rebels are preparing to abandon their strong position at Bowling Green and fall back to Nashville, Tenn. This report may be somewhat premature, but the military movements in that quarter will doubtless soon drive the Confederate forces from the soil of Kentucky.

The agent of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad reports that all the bridges recently destroyed by the rebels have been re-built, and that the trains are now running as usual.

A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune says Gen. Hitchcock has been ordered to take command at Cairo, Ill., where he was expected to arrive Tuesday.

A flag of truce to Fortress Monroe, brings news of the entire success of the Burnside expedition at Roanoke Island. It should be remembered that it is a rebel account, and probably not much exaggerated in our favor. The Island was taken possession of, and Com. Lynch's fleet completely destroyed. Elizabeth City was attacked on Sunday, and evacuated by the inhabitants.—The city was previously burned, whether by our shells, or the inhabitants, is not certain. The first news of the defeat arrived at Norfolk on Sunday afternoon, and caused great excitement. The rebel force on the island is supposed to have been only a little over 3000 efficient fighting men.—Gen. Wise was ill at Nag's Head, and was not present during the engagement. When the situation became dangerous he was removed to Norfolk. Gen. Huger telegraphed to Richmond that only fifty on the island escaped.

The Richmond Examiner in a leading editorial says: "The loss of an entire army on Roanoke Island is certainly the most fearful event of the war. This is a repetition of the Hatteras affair on a large scale."

Capt O. Jennings Wise, son of Governor Wise, was shot through the hip and disabled, though his wound was not mortal.—Another account reports that he was killed. About 300 Confederates were killed, and their wounded numbers over 1000. The number of prisoners taken is said to be at least 2000. A late arrival says our forces were pushing on to Edenton, N. C.

The Cincinnati Commercial says our army in Central Kentucky is in motion.—Gen. Nelson's division is marching along the Glasgow turnpike. Gen. Mitchell's division crossed Green river Monday morning, taking the advance of the main column to Bowling Green

After the capture of Fort Henry, our gunboats proceeded up the Tennessee river as far as Florence, Ala., and were received with the wildest joy along the river. Old men cried like children at sight of the Stars and Stripes, and invited the officers and men to their houses, saying all they had was at their disposal. Large numbers were anxious to enlist under the old flag, and the Tyler brought down 250 men to fill up the gunboats' crews. The official report says:—"we found the Union sentiment strong."

A Drunken Scene.—The Richmond Examiner of the 28d says a scene of indecency, drunken or sober, occurred in the House of Delegates yesterday, while that body was occupied with the question of the election of Confederate Senators, mortifying to the hundreds who witnessed it.—In the midst of the debate, John Letcher, Governor of Virginia, came in to the legislative chamber, drunk, and sat on the steps leading to the Speaker's chair for the full space of half an hour, with a segar in his mouth, making himself a spectacle for the whole house and a butt for the jokes of the gallery. The apparition occurred just as both parties seemed to be in deadlock as to who should be Senator. The occurrence might naturally have originated in a drunken imagination that a display so dramatically made at the nick of time, might suggest a compromise to both parties, and inspire a sudden enthusiasm for John Letcher and his republican segar. We can imagine no other explanation for the impertinence and indecency of John Letcher on the Speaker's rostrum, displaying his segar and making himself a spectacle to the "assembled wisdom of Virginia".

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 7th N. H. Regiment has been ordered to embark from New York, on Wednesday. They have won high encomiums by their extreme order since quartered there.

—— A young Dr. Pike, who has been attempting to practice medicine, spiritually, in Bradford, Vt., for a year past, was sent to Concord, some days since, to be returned to jail, whence he escaped some time ago.

—— At a bridal party in Manchesteron Sunday evening last, the visitors made such an undue amount of noise, thereby disturbing the slumbers of peaceful and unoffending citizens, in the neighborhood, that they were repeatedly requested by the Police to desist. But heeding not the request or the advice of the guardians of the night, a dozen of them were arrested and the next morning brought before the Police Court, and fined $5 and costs,—all for attempting to kiss a bride, nolens volens.

—— A few days ago the citizens of Moultonboro', on rising in the morning, found the surface of the earth covered with balls of snow, from four to ten or twelve inches in diameter. They seemed to be perfect globes, and not more dense than the snow that had fallen previously in the night. On some portions of the earth there were thousands to the acre. A physician, who happened to be out in the shower, described it as a shower of snow balls coming from all points, as the wind seemed to be itself at times from all quarters.—They rested upon the surface of the snow that had previously fallen in the night.

☞ A young man from this city, now on board the U. S. Ship Dale, at Port Royal, writes us:

The Dale is now lying in St. Helena sound, protecting the channel by which the secesh steamers were in the habit of traveling. We make frequent boat excursions up the creeks and rivers which here abound, and sometimes come quite suddenly upon squads of the enemy.

Some time ago our launch (under the command of Mr. H. R. Billings of Kittery,) and one of our smaller boats, went on an expedition, and after landing and going up a rather steep bank, the crews saw some eight or ten horsemen just disappearing in the adjacent thicket; while just before our boys was a nice fire, with a pot boiling, and a very savory smell of stewed turkey round about. The men gained the bank, Mr. Billings quietly and coolly wiped the sweat from his face as he exclaimed, "well, I'm blowed," while the men gathered round the boiling pot and quickly dispatched the secesh meal of stewed turkey. C. E. H.

A Drunken Murder.—The Portland Argus states that Telates Crocker, aged about 22 years, was murdered at Bucksport Sunday night by a young man named Moses Tappan. Crocker, Tappan and another young man named Otis McLaughlin had been on a sleigh ride Sunday afternoon and returned in the evening, somewhat in liquor. A quarrel commenced between McLaughlin and Tappan, when Crocker interfered, throwing Tappan into the snow. Tappan and McLaughlin then assaulted Crocker, who was stabbed. He ran for the stable, but fell dead before he arrived. Tappan and McLaughlin were both arrested. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by wounds inflicted by Tappan.

In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday Feb. 11, a joint resolution was passed, that Washington's Farewell Address be read in Representatives Hall 22d inst., before the two Houses of Congress, and the President and other official personages.

Mr. Sumner offered resolutions "declaratory of the relations between the United States and the territory once occupied by certain States, and now usurped by pretended governments, without constitutional or legal right." They declare the rebels States have committed felo de se; with their death as States their peculiar institutions, including that of Slavery, have died also, and the United States can institute new government over the territory which they once occupied, and Slavery have no constitutional or legal existence there. The resolutions were laid on the table by a vote of 21 to 15. The fortification bill was amended by placing at the disposal of the President the sum of $550,000 for defence of the harbors of Maine, and $100,000 for a fort at the mouth of Columbia river; these sums to be used if necessary.

In the House, it was voted, 85 to 40, that Mr. Segar, who claimed to represent the first district of Virginia, was not entitled to his seat. The Senate's amendment to the iron-clad gunboat bill was agreed to by the House, which of course secures the passage of the bill.

Making Them Pay the Cost.—In General Halleck's military department, the secessionists are made to feel the heavy hand of justice. The St. Louis papers contain full reports of forced sales of property owned by rebels, at public auction.

☞ Small as the American navy is, Dr. Russell, some time ago, wrote that, for its size, it was the most perfect in the world; and the experience of the past two or three months seems to justify this compliment.

☞ Very important news is daily expected from all parts of creation.

SKATING IN THE METROPOLIS.

"Rushing into 'buses, crushing into cars,
Pushing over ice packs, like a pack of bears,
Crinoline in thousands, balmorals "on a lark,"
Bless me! ain't it pleasant skating at the Park!"

New York, Feb. 11, 1862.

Messrs. Editors:—Standing on the planked terrace and looking out upon the glistening surface covered with the forms of over 4000 skaters, while the ear catches the shouts and laughter of the crowd who are enjoying the refreshments in the saloon at our left, the spirit of the throng is instilled into our own veins, and strapping on our blades we mingle with the pleasure seekers.

Skirting the edge of the pond we glide by a cloak room for ladies, a neat cottage with piazza and bay windows, which would grace the main street of any city suburb, on the steps of which are gathered a gaily dressed group of spectators, then wheeling under the iron bridge, we come to the Sixth Avenue landing.

All parts of the pond are equally crowded, and many amusing episodes occur on all sides. Couples dart by crosshanded, as in "all promenade," some getting up, others down, and many in a woful state of uncertainty between the two. A few doing the "outside edge backwards," some who have just sat down "to fix their skates," and others whose skates, having conceived a sudden antagonism toward each other, are gradually receding, leaving the operator undecided whether to "split or tumble."

With a hasty glance into the cafes where hot coffee and cider, (no stronger liquors allowed) with pies and cakes, are rapidly disappearing under the demands of appetites stimulated by the invigorating exercise, we turn toward the upper end of the pond, passing on the way, one or more of the skating chairs holding the fair form of the better half—real or prospective—of the propelling gent behind.

These chairs are of wicker-work, made in the form of a high backed arm chair, rest upon light steel runners connecting the front and back legs on each side, and have a dash board in front to hold the feet of the occupant.

They are "to let" on the ponds at fifteen cents per hour, and skates can also be engaged at prices ranging from 10 to 50 cents per hour, according to the quality.

At the upper end of the pond is the cottage familiarly known to the habitues of the park, as "The Ladies' only," furnished in a style similar to the one for gents described in one of our summer rambles to the park, with marble-top wash stands and centre table in retiring and toilet rooms, warmed with bright coal fires. A few steps to the right stands a large wooden building, closed on three sides, but open to the south, with tiers of seats rising one above the other; free to any ladies desiring a rest, and affording at the same time a full view of the sports on the ice.

On the rise of ground above this—one of the most elevated points on the island—swings the red ball, from the top of a staff 80 feet high, indicating that the ice is in "condition;" connected with this arrangement are two white flags with a red ball in the centre, which float, one of them from the roof of a building corner of Canal street and Broadway, and the other corner of Fulton street, the latter being clearly visible in Brooklyn and Jersey City. The horse cars also carry small ball flags when the Park ball is "up." Newington.

Melancholy Railroad Accident.—Marshall S. Hagar, of Richmond, Me., arrived in Portland on Monday, on his way to Boston. As the Kennebec train, in which he came, backed into the depot of the P. S. & P. Road, Mr. H. got off to deliver a letter to a friend. On returning to the depot he found that his valise was on board the Kennebec train which was then moving out of the depot. Mr. Hagar got on the train, seized his valise and in spite of warnings given him, jumped off while the train was in motion. In jumping, he struck a ridge of snow and ice on the side of the track, not more than two feet high, slipped and fell upon the track. The cars passed over him—mangling his body in a horrible manner, and dragging it twenty or thirty yards. He was dead when he was taken up. Had the deceased remained on board one minute longer, he could have got off without any trouble, as the train was only running off the main track to make way for the Boston train. Mr. Hagar was one of the most eminent and enterprising citizens of Richmond. Originally bred to the bar, he has for many years past been largely engaged in ship building. He was one of the Trustees of the Kennebec and Portland railroad.

☞ The ladies of Pawtucket, R. I., gave the New Hampshire battalion of cavalry, stationed there, a jolly surprise this week. They took possession of their quarters, spread a generous table, treated them to a concert, and last but not least, entertained them in conversation for a couple of hours. Happy soldiers!

☞ Messrs. Fessenden and Simmons, of the Senate Committee, are reported as unalterably opposed to the paper legal tender principle of the Treasury Note Bill.

The Oldest American Newspaper. We would inform the editors of the N. Y. Argus, that "The New Hampshire Gazette." alluded to above, is not the oldest newspaper in America. We have in our office a copy of The New England Weekly Journal, issued April 8th, 1728, nearly one hundred and thirty-four years of age. It purports to be in the second year of publication, and whole number 55. Printed at Boston.—Suffolk (L.I.) Democrat.

The Democrat refers to a paragraph in this paper, stating that the New Hampshire Gazette claimed to be the oldest paper in the country. We suppose the Gazette only claims the greatest age of any living paper. The "New England Weekly Journal" is not, we believe, now in existence.—N. Y. Argus.

Of course this Gazette claims only to be 'the oldest living paper,' as the Argus states. That Suffolk Democrat man must have patented a new system of chronology, if he reckons on the present ages of persons or papers long since dead. The Gazette never claimed to be the first paper established in America, (though it was the first printed in New Hampshire;) but even taking this rule, the antiquity of the cavilling Democrat's "Journal" of 1728, is nowhere—for the first American paper was printed at Boston in 1690, and a copy is yet preserved in London.

The Portsmouth Chronicle gives the names of over 300 persons of that town who have reached the age of fourscore and ten. Blessed old place. It always seemed to us that people might live to grow old in Portsmouth just as well as not. Its very air, its quiet streets, its respectable houses, its ancient and time honored memories are favorable to a prolonged existence. In Manchester it does not seem so much so.—N. H. Jour. of Agr.

Very True.—The Portsmouth Chronicle says "there are no critics of a newspaper so severe as dead-beads, who steal their reading, if they don't steal the newspapers into the bargain." That must be true, since newspaper borrowers and stealers are like all men, in being the foremost to defame those whom they have wronged or robbed.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The N. Y. Common Council spent $70,350 for advertising last year.

☞ Ossian E. Dodge, the inexhaustible humorist and prince of wits and vocalists, will give one of his unique entertainments at the Temple, this, Thursday, evening, being assisted by the famous ballad singer, Wm. Hayward. Of his concert in Salem, Mass., a few evenings since, the Salem Gazette thus speaks:—

Mr. Dodge's Concert on Tuesday evening was a marked success. Dodge's mirth provoking humor has lost none of its efficacy during his rustication, and his companion is truly an admirable ballad-singer.—The audience was large, and so appreciative that none who failed to find their eyes dimmed by Hayward's ballads, escaped the same result through a different process by Dodge's sociability.

"Great Representative Women"—Those who made arrangements for a Course of Lectures in Portsmouth, recently, and omitted to advertise in the only Daily paper here—though, to be sure, the matter was advertised in the Chronicle by the order of others interested. It is not so easy to say what those ladies did represent, but they did not exemplify the judicious public caterer, certainly—for Dodge, one of the most successful and popular of them all, thinks it worth his while to patronize said advertising medium to the most liberal extent.

☞ The U. S. Senate Finance Committee has agreed upon sundry amendments to the House U. S. Treasury Note bill, the most important of which is, that the interest on the U. S. Notes and Bonds shall be paid in coin, but the demand Notes shall be legal currency for all other purposes.—Another amendment allows the Treasury to receive deposits of $500 and over, for short terms, and pay five per cent. interest on the same.

And all duties on imports, with the proceeds of confiscated goods or property, are set apart, 1, to pay the interest in coin,—2, to pay one per cent. per annum of the funded debt,—and 3d, to go into the Treasury for general use.

Let us hear no more whimpering about "our Southern brethren;" no more lugubrious regrets that such a deplorable state of things should ever have come round; no more talk of peace. The country is in fortune. The war is a wholesome alterative against a canker that was eating out its life; and all who speak despairingly of our condition, or of our power to extirpate the poison, are traitors in their hearts.—Geo. Wilkes.

☞ A son of George Kriess, residing in Albany, aged thirteen years, became so much alarmed at a fight between two men who visited his father's saloon on Thursday night, that he died shortly after from excessive fright.

☞ Thirty-nine gamblers were arrested by the New York police at one fell swoop on a faro bank recently. The murderer "Dad" Cunningham was one of the birds caught.

☞ At the pianist Gottschalk's last concert in Havana he employed 750 musicians. The receipts were over $7000.

☞ The importation of meerschaums is said to reach $200,000 annually in the United States.

☞ Wm. J. B. Lawrence, a master's mate on board the San Jacinto, who was arrested in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, on suspicion of having murdered Mr. Sandford Udall, has been honorably discharged. It appeared at the coroner's inquest that Mr. Udall, who was 24 years of age in January, 1861, married a young lady who supposed herself to be a widow. She had been married seven years previous to Lawrence. He had sailed several voyages, had been to China in a man-of-war, and on the Paraguay Expedition. He had left his half-pay ticket with his wife for her support, but hearing nothing from her, was fearful that the money went into other hands, and so stopped any one from drawing. Meantime his wife, not having heard anything from him, and believing him dead, having, as stated, received a letter to that effect, married Mr. Udall. When Lawrence arrived from his last cruise, in the San Jacinto, he was surprised to find that his wife belonged to somebody else, got tipsy, made threats and was arrested; but the testimony on the inquest proves that he was at his boarding house and in bed on the night of the murder (if murder it was).

P. G. L. Co.—At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Gas Light Company, on Tuesday, 11th inst., the old Board of officers was re elected:

Directors — Ichabod Goodwin, John Knowlton, Benjamin Cheever, Leonard Akerman, Thomas L. Tullock.

Treasurer and Clerk—Dav'd Kimball.

Agent—John Trundy.

☞ An eminent banker in New York, wrote to his agent in London to invest $60,000 for him in State securities, but he failed to cross the first t, and his agent bought for him an interest in a slate quarry in Wales. The agent was stupid, but he obeyed orders literally.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; SAVE LABOR; SAVE WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER.

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors o apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

A HOMILY ON A HOMILY.

BY DOUGLAS A. LEVIEN.

I have read, witty Saxe, your last verses on Euchre—
It's a game I now played—altho' never for lucre.
And if you but know it as well as I know it,
You would find, oh most genial and excellent poet,
It teaches a lesson more useful than one
To be gleaned from the sentence "I'll play it alone!"

Self-reliance, we know, is an excellent trait,—
The Advance Guard of Science, who patiently wait
Until Time has developed the truths they proclaim,
Deserve a high place on the record of fame,
And often in life, as in Euchre, I own
You make a Big March when you "play it alone."

But to "go it alone," you no doubt understand,
You must hold the Big Knave of the pack in your hand,
And too often in life, in a similar fix,
You depend on such cards to secure you the tricks,
So that something too much of the knave may be shown
In a selfish desire to "go it alone!"

But the game you describe as a "trivial strife,"
Has a moral to point for the Battle of Life.
It is this: When the cards are dealt round on the stand,
And each player looks anxiously into his hand,
How bravely your partner ill-luck can resist,
If cheered by the sound of your voice—"I'll assist!"

The great Galileo, imprisoned and bound,
In the midst of his trials this sympathy found.
When angry Dominicans hurled at his head
All the wrath on which bigotry's passions is fed,
A fair form appeared through the dungeon's dim mist,
And a daughter's soft voice whispered low—"I'll assist!"

What's the worth of this world, if, designing and cold,
You selfishly seek all the honors to hold?
Repelling your neighbors with passes of stone,
And the words, hardly spoken, "I'll play it alone!"
No, no! higher up on humanity's list
Is he who can cheerfully say—"I'll assist!"

Then in love! Oh, such poet! if she whose bright eyes
Are gazing in yours with a tender surprise,
Should apply to your own case the moral you've shown,
And quietly tell you to 'play it alone!"
With what passionate ardor those lips would be kissed,
Till they murmured once more the soft words—"I'll assist!"

Then shuffle the pack! Cut the cards once again,
And let a new moral awaken your strain!
Go! teach to the world that the Battle of Life
May be lightened to all who take part in the strife,
If the generous lesson thus taught be not in vain,
And each man to his neighbor will say—"I'll assist!"

THE SENATE OF MAINE, by a vote of 24 to 4, has passed a short series of resolutions on the war, of which the first endorses the administration of Mr. Lincoln, so far, and bespeaks for it the unwavering support of the loyal people of Maine, in all measures it may adopt to crush the rebellion.

The others assert, that it is the duty of Congress, by such means as will not jeopard the rights and safety of the loyal people of the South, to provide for the confiscation of estates, real and personal, of rebels, and for the forfeiture and liberation of every slave claimed by any person who shall continue in arms against the authority of the United States, or who shall in any manner aid and abet the present wicked and unjustifiable rebellion, and that in this perilous crisis of the country, it is the duty of Congress, in the exercise of its constitutional power, to "raise and support armies," to provide by law for accepting the services of able-bodied men of whatever status, and to employ them in such manner as military necessity and the safety of the Republic demand.

Senators and Representatives in Congress from Maine are respectively requested to use all honorable means to secure the passage of acts embodying the subject of these resolutions.

THE STEEL CLAD FRIGATES.—These boasted invulnerables of the British navy are more than likely to prove failures, from several causes. The last discovered defect is thus stated in the London Times of the 9th ult:—

"One serious defect, of an almost if not quite irremediable character, exists in the construction of iron cased ships as constructed at present, and is fully exemplified in both the Warrior and Black Prince. This evil is the penetration of water between the teak and armor plates. This water naturally forces for its exit a passage between the joints of the armor plates; and the opinion at present is that nothing can remedy this under the circumstances of tongued and grooved edged plates hung on a ship's sides by through bolts. Caulking is stated to be useless, and that cannot be wondered at, considering the slung weight to be dealt with and the ship's motion at sea. But the effect of the action of the water in the grooves of the plates and upon the iron bolts, can only be expected to be such that in four or five years from the time of commission each ship will require replating."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The greatest activity prevails at Fort Leavenworth, Ks., in preparations for the expedition to start from there under Gen. Hunter. Troops and supplies are being concentrated in the southern portion of the State; seven regiments of cavalry, four of infantry, and three batteries of artillery, with Parrott and Wiard guns, now en route from the East, are daily expected to join the expedition.

The St. Louis Republican learns that Gen. Ethan Allen Hitchcock has accepted the appointment of Major General of Volunteers. Should Gen. Halleck take the field in command of the Southern expedition, which is regarded as probable, Gen. Hitchcock will remain at the head of the Department at St. Louis.

The latest intelligence from Savannah is that the Federal gunboats were at Wall's Cut, an opening which communicates with Savannah without passing Fort Pulaski.

The 7th New Hampshire Regiment left New York on Wednesday for Tortugas.

A man who left Norfolk, Tuesday morning, and made his escape from Sewall's Point in a small boat, confirms all the previous reports in regard to the Burnside expedition, and adds that Norfolk has been placed under martial law, and that volunteers to defend the city are called for in vain. The work on the Merrimac was stopped on Saturday, and she is now at the Navy Yard drawing so much water that she cannnot get out, even if ready for sea. The greatest alarm prevails at Norfolk; an attack is momentarily expected. There are said to be only 300 troops at Sewall's Point. It was rumored at Norfolk that the defeat at Roanoke Island was owing to treachery of North Carolina troops.

The St. Louis Democrat learns that Com. Foote, with gunboats St. Louis, Louisville and Pittsburg, left Cairo for Cumberland river at 10 o'clock on Tuesday night. The Carondelet was expected to join them at Paducah. In consequence of the high water and unusually rapid current in all the rivers, the fleet was not expected to reach Fort Donelson until Thursday morning.

It was rumored that the rebels were concentrating forces near the river between Point of Rocks and Leesburg, on Wednesday, and also erecting batteries there. Nothing authentic has been received.

"WHAT OF THE NIGHT?"—The darkness begins to break; the morning light appears. From every section of the army we now have cheering reports; and from the firing on Sumter to this day, our affairs have not been in so hopeful a condition.—The next thirty days must be decisive of the fate of the rebels. Not that the country can be restored in thirty days; for if a year will close the war we may be thankful; but within a month great battles must be fought, and some strongholds of the enemy taken, and probably we shall see an uprising of the loyal people of the South. With victory on our side, we shall put foreign interference far away; while another month of suspense or ill luck will set the European tide against us.—Herald.

THE SUMTER.—Letters from Gibraltar of Jan. 25 have been received. The privateer Sumter was in port at anchor. She had not been out of the harbor since the 19th, the reports of her being seen off Genoa to the contrary notwithstanding. The ship was leaky, and her boilers were out of order. No arrangement were known to have been made as to repairing there. No additional captures had been made. It is possible, however, that Capt. Semmes was watching an opportunity to seize some of the American vessels then in port (of which there were several) awaiting a favorable wind to go to sea. By telegraph to London, the Sumter is reported as still remaining there on the 30th.

WHEAT DOES NOT PAY IN IOWA.—Mr. Duane Wilson, Sec. of the Iowa Agricultural Society, estimates the yield of wheat in that State the past year at 12 bushels per acre. The price obtained is 40 cents per bushel, or $4.80 per acre.—He thinks this involves a loss of $2 per acre, or about 3,000,000 to the whole State. He thinks the farmers of the Northwestern States cannot afford to raise wheat, except for home consumption.

The great crop of the West is corn.—Iowa produced last year—estimating the yield at 35 bushels per acre, which is 10 bushels less than in 1860—over 52,000,000 bushels. This Mr. W. thinks, will fatten over $80,000,000 worth of beef and pork, even at the present low prices. He estimates that over $1,000,000 worth of sorghum syrup and sugar was raised in the State last year.

☞ The British steamer Gladiator still remained at Nassau, on the 6th, mounting guns. It was asserted she would change the flag and become a rebel pirate.

☞ The Sawyer gun at Newport News exploded on Tuesday, killing two Massachusetts soldiers and seriously wounding a third.

LOVE AND WAR.—The Valentine makers have this year made special preparation to do honor to their patron saint.—Designs appropriate to the changed condition of affairs have been got up in great variety. "None but the brave deserve the fair;" so Mr. Cupid, for this season only, sheds his downy wings for a shell jacket, and exchanges his traditional bow and arrows for a Minie musket, duly bayoneted, loaded and primed with ammunition peculiarly fatal to the fair sex. Thus armed and equipped as the law directs he presents a truly ravishing resemblance to a son of a gun of the most approved material pattern. No wonder he has become such a favorite with the soldiers in the Union camps, nor is it at all surprising that all the girls who have a beau or a brother in the army are buying largely in this line. One firm in New York has sold over $8,000 worth of this tender stationery to the soldiers, who sigh for the girls they've left behind them

To day, the 14th of February, is the anniversary of St. Valentine, but the young folks enjoy the fun so much that they usually keep it up for a week before and after that time. Let them be careful, lest by sending some wretched caricature calculated to hit off a special infirmity, they thoughtlessly wound the feelings of sensitive friends. It is by such abuses of the custom that the observance of St. Valentine is falling into disuse.

Most of the Valentines sold in this country are of domestic manufacture, though a few of the more costly are imported. The prices are as various as the styles. Five dollars will purchase a very beautiful specimen, but the average price does not exceed 50 cents. The Valentine trade of the United States is worth about $50,000 per annum, and affords employment for a great many people—poets, papermakers, watercolorists, lithographers, wood and steel engravers, printers, milliners, artificial flower makers, and many other professions.

☞ Col. Edward E. Cross, of the N. H. Fifth Regiment, has written a letter, in which he says:

"I desire to express my thanks to the patriotic people of New Hampshire, especially the ladies, for the very liberal supplies of clothing, hospital stores, stockings, mittens, &c., sent to the 5th N. H. Regiment. To the Soldiers' Aid Society of Concord, and to the inhabitants of Portsmouth, the regiment is especially indebted. Through the Concord Society, we received contributions from nearly every town in the State, and we have at present an abundant supply of everything necessary, for sick and well."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, the fortification bill was passed, 28 to 11.—A bill was reported for the re organization of the Navy Department. The House Treasury Note bill was reported by the Finance Committee, and discussed. The committee's amendments, requiring interest to be paid in coin, striking out the provision that the notes be exchanged for notes bearing 7 per cent. interest, and the others were adopted, except the one providing for deposition the notes with Asst. Treasurers, at 5 per cent. interest, which was rejected.

The House summoned Chevalier Wikoff before itself, to answer a charge of contempt, in having refused to inform the investigating committee how he came in possession of a portion of the President's message in advance of its delivery. Refusing to answer, he was committed to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Wickoff has been placed in close confinement in the Guard House at the Capitol.

☞ A Washington correspondent of the Boston Post, says:—

"The Postal Reformers of Boston, and parts adjacent—from Kennebec to Astoria—will soon be gratified by seeing the measures so long advocated by the indomitable and persevering Pliny Miles, and so strongly endorsed in Boston and New England, come before Congress in the form of a bill to be introduced by Mr. Hutching of Ohio. I hear that it will put the Post Office on a far better financial footing, and establish a great equalization of rates of postage, give us a good free letter delivery, a money order system, abolish franking, &c., &c."

☞ The U. S. gunboat Tuscarora, having been ordered off the docks at Southhampton, Eng., has taken up a position near the Needles. The Nashville is still in dock at Southampton.

☞ Asa M. Whittier, son of Obadiah Whittier, a very likely young man, 19 years of age, hung himself last Saturday, at his father's house in Vienna, Me. The cause of the act is said to be low spirits.

☞ Rev. R. J. Stewart was arrested in his pulpit in Alexandria, Va., last Sunday, because he would not read the prayer for the President of the United States.—After a short confinement he was released.

☞ Plans are being drawn for the new Hospital which is to be erected on the Navy Yard during the coming year. Its exact locality has not been decided upon.

☞ There is said to be a son of Lord Byron in Gen. Halleck's division—Captain "George Gordon de Lana Byron" is his romantic appellation.

SKATING IN THE METROPOLIS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11, 1862.

At the foot of the signal staff at the Park is a handsome brown stone building, the headquarters of the Park police, and in the centre of the pond the "guard house," a round wooden building surmounted with a staff flying the "stars and stripes," and the Park corporation flag. To this house are committed any who create a disturbance, throw any obstructions on the ice, use improper language in the presence of ladies, or disobey any command of the police, who in gray uniforms, to the number of a hundred, are scattered over the pond. Each visitor to the Park seems to take an especial pride in preserving the proper decorum, and as no intoxicating liquors are "on sale," the number of offenders is inconsiderable.

This building also serves as a temporary asylum for lost children. In a crowd of 5000 people, spread over an area of 30 acres, it is difficult to find friends who have strayed away, unless some place of meeting is agreed upon, and hence the commissioners have requested that any children lost be brought to the guard house, where they can be found by their friends, or if not sought for, sent to the city, at sundown.—Some days as many as a hundred are thus provided for.

At dark the ponds are illuminated with about fifty calcium lights, placed on the top of neat towers, with an operator to each. These from the fusion of chemical preparations throw a bright belt of light several rods in width, and the reflectors being revolved horizontally, these beams are radiated to any part of the semicircle centering at the tower.

This light is reflected from the glistening skate blades, while the bright balmorals, parti-colored furs, and red hoods form an enchanting scene, constantly changing like the beautiful arrangement of the bits of glass in the kaleidoscope.

At 10 1-2 P. M., the peal of the bell from the tower, signals visitors from the Park, and soon the pond and police are left "alone in their glory." Of course the large number of skaters,—quite a city population—have cut up the ice considerably, and the snow-cuttings have to be swept off.

The sweeping carts, drawn by two or four horses, are put upon the ice, and with the aid of a hundred workmen the pond by midnight is ready for another day. If a fall of snow occurs, large wooden shovels drawn by horses are substitutes for the sweeping apparatus, and the snow is forced to the border.

The number of visitors to the Park on Saturday last, as shown by the returns of the gate keepers, was 80,000,—15,000 being the computed number on and around the ponds at 3 P. M. These numbers are larger than usual, from the report of a proposed match between lady skaters for a pair of skates valued at fifty dollars, which however did not come off, but was postponed to some day this week.

The number of daily visitors averages 25,000, coming and going from 8 o'clock in the morning till 10 at night, about 5000 being present at one time. We have had so far twenty-eight days of good skating, which you see is reduced almost to a science, the tax-payers bearing the expense.

No one can realize the effect of several thousand people, men, women and children, skating together, unless an actual spectator, and were I to write you of matches between both ladies and gents, masquerade carnivals on the ice, and private excursions both skating and sleighing, you would admit we had sport indeed. NEWINGTON.

☞ A singular accident occurred at the Norway Iron Works, in Boston, Tuesday night. An immense fly wheel, weighing 38,000 pounds, and revolving at the rate of ninety revolutions a minute, burst, scattering massive fragments in every direction, and making wild work of the company's large building. The cross timbers of the roof were cut, and some 15,000 feet of it fell with an awful crash. Only four men were in the building at the time, and they fortunately escaped injury. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

☞ The rebel war department has issued an order to seize all the corn in the hands of distillers on account of the pernicious effects of the unlimited manufacture of whiskey, and the exorbitant price it thereby is obliged to pay for an article indispensable to the subsistence of the army.

☞ The Fall River News reports that the wife of Capt. Prince S. Borden, Acting Master of the U. S. receiving ship Ohio, has eloped with a paramour (name not given), taking with her several hundred dollars belonging to her husband. The woman's maiden name was Serena Wilbur.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Lizzie N. May, a young lady residing in Worcester, Mass., was found lying dead upon the floor of her chamber, on Monday morning. She retired at an early hour Sunday night, apparently in her usual health. It is supposed that she died in an apoplectic fit.

☞ A bill has been passed in the rebel Congress appropriating $2,000,000 for the benefit of the cause in Kentucky.

THE WAR.—The following prophetic sentence we quote from an address delivered by Hon. W. W. Boyce, to the South Carolinians, some ten years ago:

"Such is the intensity of my conviction upon the subject, that if secession should take place—of which I have no idea, for I cannot believe in such stupendous madness—I shall consider the institution of slavery as doomed, and that the great God, in our blindness, has made us the instruments of its destruction."

The loyal Episcopalians of Georgetown rather chuckle over a mishap of the Rev. Dr. Norwood, who declined to read prayers there for the "President of the United States," and finally followed his inclinations into Secessia. Invited to officiate at Richmond, he became somewhat confused, and deliberately read the prayer for the "President of the United States," as he had once been in the habit of reading it, causing a profound "sensation," and making a recantation imperative.—N. Y. Tribune.

VINDICATION OF THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—Messrs. Editors:—A few days since, a communication appeared in the Boston Journal, signed "Nassau," where in several false statements were made. As these assertions involve the interests of the yard, and also cast reflections upon the master workmen, it is proper that matters should be righted. This correspondent first says that the explosion at the Ordnance Building has greatly retarded the work and large orders remain unfilled. This is a gross misrepresentation of that department, inasmuch as the last order for gun-carriages is nearly filled, and a discharge of a part of the gang was made on Saturday last. Again, he says the yard is besieged each day with numberless applicants soliciting work, or at least to be taken on (this, in the language of A. Ward is said "sarkastically,") and too often their wishes are granted when their services are not necessary.—We have investigated this matter to some extent, and find that the average number of applicants per diem is about twenty, (not over) and in no one instance has a person been received where his labor was not required.

"Nassau" also deems it inexpedient to launch the Franklin, arguing that "she is useless for the blockade, and cannot be made ready for sea under a year," which latter statement we do not deny: but experience has proved that it is necessary to be "armed and equipped as the law directs," while we are surrounded by unscrupulous "friends," and we think that the Franklin would, by the time she is made ready for sea, be a useful and valuable acquisition to our Navy. If she is to remain on the stocks forever, she stands before the public a monument of expensive folly. If her hull is not worth equipping, she had better be pulled down and the stock worked up into other vessels. But if the thing will pay, we say set her afloat, for we know not in what emergency we may need just such a craft. An argument which is always brought up when the case of this vessel is called in question, viz. the enormous expense of fitting her for sea, hardly merits notice.

We make these corrections for the purpose of placing matters right before the public in relation to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and to remove the imputation of fraud and neglect. TYPO.

☞ We have received two circulars from New York,—one signed by many newspaper publishers, urging us to use all efforts to prevent the passage of an act to tax newspapers; the other from a collecting agent, cautioning us not to trust certain parties.

Concerning this last, we have only to say, our terms, inexorable to strangers, are cash in advance—and a person might as well try to "call spirits from the vasty deep," as to get us to alter them. And all the out-of-town advertisers who can "sell us," are welcome to do it.

As to taxing newspapers, we don't see why they shouldn't be taxed, as well as other articles. We go in for paying at least a part of the expenses of this war as we go along—and must question the patriotism which works all sorts of games to shirk out of its share of the burden—discrediting treasury notes, buying up or refusing to buy articles which are to be taxed, &c.—No: we say tax the newspapers and everything else, and earnestly support "the powers that be."

The Chronicle publisher will never forgive us for predicting, when the Daily was started, that it would be a short-lived affair. We have changed our ideas of the gullibility of the public, since reading Barnum and the Chronicle.—Ballot.

Wonder if you haven't "changed your ideas of the gullibility of that same public," since finding out that they won't read the Ballot?

The publisher of the Chronicle states serious things so funnily, and funny things so seriously, he ought to take a lesson from Artemas Ward, and append to his witticisms, "This is sarcastikle," "This is a goak," &c. It would help his readers materially by indicating where "the laugh should come in."—Ballot.

Perhaps our readers are not all equally stupid. This is not meant for a joke.

☞ The Annual City Book of Portsmouth has just been issued from the Chronicle and Gazette press, and was last week distributed among our citizens. It should be read by all who are interested in the condition of the city. Besides the receipts and expenditures, statement of the city debt, &c., are the reports of the Chief Marshal, Chief Engineer, &c.

BISHOP'S EXHIBITION, at the Temple, this evening, will consist of the panoramas of the King Philip, Revolutionary and the Present Wars;—also dioptric scenes, and the diorama of the bombardment at Port Royal by Com. Dupont's fleet. These varied attractions combined in one entertainment, cannot fail of being both interesting and instructive to all. The whole is a work of great merit. Through a mistake of the agent and the printer of the bills, the price of admission was announced at 25 cents; it should have been 15 cts.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, a communication from the Common Council, in relation to choosing certain officers at the next meeting of the two Boards, was received and concurred in. These officers are six assistant marshals, harbor-master, pound-keeper, committee on truancy and three port-wardens: the 30 days allowed the Mayor and Aldermen by law, in which to choose them, having expired, they must be elected in convention of both Boards.

A resolution to inquire into the expediency of providing some building in a central portion of the city, in which to wash engine hose, was passed.

It was voted that the interest which has accrued on the Clark fund, be added to the principal, and the interest on the whole for the present year be given to the School Committee for District No. 1, to be appropriated by them according to the provisions of the will. This fund, originally $90.25, was bequeathed to the town by Mary Clark, 'the interest to be given to the most deserving children in the schools of the town.'—It now amounts to over $300, and it is designed to give the interest to the several districts in successive years.

DODGE'S CONCERT.—As usual with him Mr. Dodge had the Temple densely packed last evening. There is no denying the fact that Dodge can draw a larger and a better audience in Portsmouth than any other man. Everybody laughed at his quaint but chaste humor, and many cried at listening to Mr. Hayward's pathetic ballads. One commendable feature of Mr. Hayward's singing is,—he speaks every word so that it can be heard distinctly in all parts of the hall. Mr. Dodge and his artistic assistant can fill the Temple whenever they consent to visit us again.

☞ The Sebago was taken out of the Dry Dock at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday. She was taken in for the purpose of adjusting her forward rudder.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are constructed so as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

A SEA-SIDE PICTURE.

But where the light winds lie at rest,
And on the glassy heaving sea
The black duck with her glossy breast
Sits swinging silently;
How beautiful! no ripples break the reach,
And silvery waves go noiseless up the beach.

A Canadian paper says that one of their officers, on hearing that the militia were to be called out, sent his commission to his Lieutenant Colonel, endorsed as follows:—"deer Curnel, i beg to resine mi commishien. Being a disciple of Krist, I cannot take up the sord."

☞ It is reported that "a high English official" recently arrived in New York from London, and that he put up at a quiet hotel in Brooklyn and for several weeks daily visited the Navy Yard; afterwards inspecting Fort Hamilton, Fort Columbus, Fort Richmond and other important military posts, and then returning by steamer to Europe. He is believed to have been a British spy.

☞ A bill to raise troops to meet the requisition on Virginia, passed both branches of the (rebel) General Assembly of that State, on Monday, in secret session. It provides for the filling up of companies now in the field to 100 men, and if the requisite number do not volunteer, then to draft from the enrolled militia.

A ZOOLOGICAL DISTINCTION.—The principal difference between the original British Lion and the Canadian variety of the animal is that the latter wants Maine.

BEAUREGARD'S CIRCULATING MEDIUM.—Checks on the Banks of the Potomac!

ORTHODOX ADVICE.—Our volunteers should bear in mind, when they are about making prisoners, that the latter should, like medicines, "Be well Shaken before Taken."

OUR BEST MAN-OF-WAR.—The merry Mac of Washington.—Vanity Fair.

☞ Lieut. Britton, of the gunboat Essex, who was killed at the bombardment of Fort Henry, was a son of L. B. Britton, the spiritualist lecturer. He was less than 17 years of age.

INDIANA.—A column and a half of extracts from the address of Mr. Kendricks, president of the democratic convention there, are devoted to a discussion of the negro question, and a plea for slavery, worthy of Bright, Breckenridge or Jeff. Davis.

A picture in Punch isn't bad. It depicts the joyful surprise of a youth who, just after putting on his clean linen, exclaims: "Hurrah! By Jove, there's a button at the back of my shirt!"

The editor of the Charleston Courier has made another trial of cotton seed coffee and thinks it will do with an onion!—Post.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1862.

"THE BOSTON BANKS which are selling specie, (the Transcript says,) are known to those familiar with banking operations in Boston. They may be exposed in their selfish business before they anticipate. The subject begins to attract attention in the Legislature. Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Twombly of Suffolk introduced an order, instructing the Banking Committee to inquire into the expediency of prohibiting banks from selling specie during the suspension of specie payments."

Without any special love or veneration for banks, we must say we can't see where in it is, in itself, any more "selfish" to sell specie than to sell Transcripts.

The Transcript also says "the injunction against the Bank of Mutual Redemption, which was ordered by Chief Justice Bigelow, of the Supreme Judicial Court, on Wednesday afternoon, will come up for a hearing in that Court, Saturday morning. We learn that among the irregularities charged against the bank is one alleging that specie has been borrowed to arrange its balances, and the bills of the bank pledged as collateral, in direct contravention of the law of the Commonwealth."

TREASURY NOTE BILL.—The U. S. Senate, on Thursday, resumed the consideration of the treasury note bill. Mr. Wilson read a letter from five Boston merchants, representing, as he remarked, forty millions of capital, in favor of the legal tender clause. The writers say they do not know of any merchant of that city who is opposed to that feature of the bill. Mr. Collamer of Vermont moved to strike out the legal tender clause. After debate, the motion was rejected—17 to 25. An amendment was adopted, making the notes fundable within two years for U. S. bonds bearing 7 3 10 per cent. interest.

Messrs. Pearce, Saulsbury and Powell spoke against the bill, as unconstitutional. They seem to regard everything unconstitutional, which can help the country thro' the war,—but would deliver it, constitution bound, into the hands of the "confederacy."

The bill, as amended, then passed. Yeas 30. Nays—Messrs. Collamer, Cowan, Kennedy, King, Pearce, Powell, Saulsbury—7.

The bill, having been amended by the Senate, goes back to the House, which will act upon it immediately.

☞ Mr. George Wilkes, who is editor of the Spirit of the Times, and a very able writer, has been with the U. S. Army on the Potomac, ever since that army has been there, and being an intelligent loyal man, is a competent witness of the feeling and purpose of our citizen soldiers.

He says they are generally intelligent, reading, thinking men; who enlisted because they wished to put down the rebellion, and who see no other way to do it than by fighting. And he brands as false, the assertions made some time ago, that they would not fight, if there happened to be a little less or a little more emancipation in the warfare, than suited their ideas. Among the officers, there were some, like Gen. Stone, who perhaps had some such scruples; but among the men, if any, they were so few as not to be of much account.

Mr. Wilkes himself, though well known to be no abolitionist in the partisan usage of the term, is yet with the soldiers, in their earnestness to fight down the rebellion, and if slavery goes down with it, to "let it slide."

In this connexion we may venture to guess, that when the U. S. forces shall get possession of South Carolina, somebody must govern it as conquered territory. It has never been much of a republic, never anything like a democracy, or government by the people. Any one who will read its constitution, will see that it is thoroughly aristocratic;—and in fact, a few families have held all the offices, and controlled everything.

It may be said that the Union men, the loyal men there, will show themselves, and they can do as Western Virginians have done, become the State. But, with their small numbers, how can they do it? Only by a good strong armed force on land and water to protect them. The question is, shall this force be of white men or black? or mixed? Probably the latter. And in connexion with this question, others will arise every day, on the spot, which can have only one solvent, viz. practical emancipation. The various half way theories would make new complications there, tho' in Maryland and Kentucky, they manage to keep a kind of balance of power, with the army to watch it.

☞ H. B. Stannard, while chopping in the woods at Andover, Vt., had his arm broken by the fall of a tree. He took his ax and coat and went to his house, harnessed his horse, and went to Chester for the surgeon.

☞ The number of hogs received at Cincinnati this season foots up 476,501.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The town of Winchester has suffered more from fire during the last few months of the year 1861, than for fifty years before.

—— The proceedings of the N. H. Baptist Convention, held at Lake Village, last October, show that there are in the State 7 Associations, 89 churches, 81 ministers, 8 licentiates, and 8,280 communicants. The whole number of baptisms for the year is reported at 152. Of the churches, 26 are marked as vacant, and of the ministers 22 are without charge. In the department of Domestic missions, appropriations were made to 16 feeble churches, amounting to $1400. The receipts for Domestic missions were $2,013 73, of which $500 were a legacy.

—— We don't know how it is about the town of Unity, there have been so many contradictory accounts respecting it. The Claremont Eagle (Republican) in this week's issue, says of it:—

A good deal has been said in the papers about the loyalty of the rayther democratic town of Unity. It has been intimated that somebody there had raised a secesh flag, and that somebody was going to resist the payment of the war tax, &c., &c. If there is or has been any such feeling there, we file as an offset to-day the generous contribution to the Sanitary Commission from the West Unity Association, acknowledged by the Treasurer in another column. This don't look disloyal or unsympathizing.

Perhaps they have been and are both black spirits and gray.

—— Even during the past "hard year" some half a dozen good houses, one large hotel, ("the McClellan,") and one large church, have been built in Kingston.

The Concord Statesman pretends that "d—n this black republican war" is the talk in more places in New Hampshire than is dreamed of in the philosophy of loyal people.—Exchange.

The statement is more than a pretence; it is a sad reality. This talk, and more like it, is quite current in certain circles.—When any disaster befals our cause, they talk loudly,—but when victory, in arms or elections, favors liberty and law, they whisper or mutter. They are known, and will be remembered.

☞ Dr. Luther V. Bell has recently died, of consumption, in the army of the Potomac. Dr. Bell was surgeon of Gen. Hooker's brigade. He was a native of New Hampshire, born in Francestown in 1806. He was widely known as a physician and a politician. For many years he was connected with the McLean Insane Asylum, and in 1857 was elected President of the Massachusetts Medical Society. He had been in the Governor's Council, Chairman of the Whig State Committee, and a candidate for Congress, and also for Governor, to both of which places many weaker and worse men have been chosen. He was a scholar, a gentleman and a patriot. He had been long suffering from pulmonary disease, and his death, tho' sudden, was not altogether unexpected by his friends.

FEBRUARY receives its name from Februalia, a feast of purification held in this month by the ancient Romans. There is something appropriate, therefore, in the action of our new Secretary of War, who intends to make this month memorable in our history for the purification of the army from traitors, and the contract-department from swindlers and cheats. It also seems probable that March, named after Mars, the god of war, will witness events which will give new emphasis to the Roman origin of the name.

☞ Miss Hannah Tewksbury was burned to death in Newburyport, on Tuesday afternoon, by her clothes taking fire. She was within three days of being 89 years of age, and had resided in the house where she died, with little intermission, for fifty nine years. Being left alone in her chamber for a short time, she probably went soon after to the stove, and set fire in some way to a cotton apron which she had fancied to wear, and was found a half hour after she had been left, badly burnt and quite dead.

☞ The Continental Monthly for March, is already published, with contributions from Bayard Taylor, Richard B. Kimball, Hon. G. P. Disosway, Charles G. Leland and other distinguished writers.

☞ The Gen. Hill, who commanded the rebels at Roanoke Island, is B. H. Hill of North Carolina, who as Colonel, commanded the battallion which repulsed Gen. Pierce at Big Bethel.

☞ The prophetic Russell, in his last letter to the London Times, thinks the Burnside expedition too small to accomplish any great object.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the complete plans and specifications of our gunboats on the Western waters were found among the effects of the rebels captured at Fort Henry.

"See here, auntie, what bird is it that rides on the tempest, and bids defiance to the storm?" "Why the American eagle, of course." "Not as you knows on; it's the weathercock!"

THE REBELLION.

News from Port Royal, to the 10th inst., indicates that important operations are going on there. Expeditions from Hilton Head are threatening Fort Pulaski, which is said to be as much exposed to our attack as Fort Sumter was to that of the rebels last April. The work goes bravely on.

The Tribune's special from Leavenworth states that the last regiment of Hunter's first brigade left on Thursday for Fort Scott. Gen. Hunter will accompany the second brigade. Senator Lane has not accepted a Brigadier Generalship as yet; and it is understood if it is not accepted within a given number of days, the President will withdraw it. When he reports for duty, he will have a brigade assigned him. Gen. Hunter is hurrying the preparations.

A gentlemen from Green River reports 35,000 Federals had crossed Green River up to Wednesday.

A special dispatch from Rolla to the Missouri Republican, says a messenger from Lebanon reports Gen. Sigel's division arrived at Marshfield, four miles from Springfield, Tuesday noon. Price is reported to have left Springfield, and is encamped near the battle-ground of Wilson's Creek. Gen. Sigel is no doubt now in Springfield.

Direct news from Gen. Burnside's fleet has been received and its entire success confirmed. Our troops pursued, and surrounded the rebel camps and took nearly the whole command prisoners. O. Jennings Wise was wounded, being twice shot while endeavoring to escape in a boat. The number of prisoners is from 2500 to 3000. They are to be sent to New York. Among them are about twelve or fifteen Colonels, Lieut. Colonels and Majors. All the rebel fleet was burnt or sunk except two, which escaped by a canal. The Sea Bird, which was the flag ship of Com. Lynch, was run down and boarded, and the gallant commander escaped to the shore by swimming. The rebel fleet was dispersed in half an hour by a portion of our navy, while the remainder attacked the land batteries. Our forces also captured five forts, forty cannon, and a large amount of ammunition and provisions. Our loss was comparatively small, only 40 killed and about 300 wounded. Col. Russell of the 10th Conn. Regiment was killed at the head of his regiment. Lieut. Col. Vezier de Monteil of the D'Epineuil Zouaves, who volunteered, was also killed. No other officer was killed above the rank of Lieutenant.—Gen. Burnside at once pushed on to Elizabeth City, and that place is now in possession of the Federal troops. The canal communicating from Elizabeth City with Norfolk is now being destroyed by the rebels.

The rebel killed is about 30, and their wounded less than 100. Elizabeth City was about half burnt by the rebel soldiers. The people sent a deputation to Com. Goldsborough, asking him to send forces to assist in extinguishing the flames. Edenton was taken possession of on Wednesday by Com. Goldsborough, without opposition.

The official account of the victory at Roanoke Island says scarcely less than 5000 prisoners were taken, and about fifty guns, a large proportion being of heavy calibre,—three 100-pounders, rifled. Other accounts say Gen. Wise's son, who was shot through both legs and the lungs, died the next day. Later rebel accounts say Com. Lynch had not been heard from, and was probably drowned.

Another glorious victory for the Union has been achieved. The Stars and Stripes flo at over the Court House at Springfield, Mo. The enemy retreated after a short engagement, on Wednesday, leaving a large amount of stores and equipage, which fell into our hands. Our cavalry are in close pursuit of Price's fleeing army.

KIDDER'S YEAST POWDER,

For sale by dec12 H. F. GERRIS

NAVAL.—Steam sloop Richmond, 14, Com'r Alden, sailed from New York on Wednesday for the Gulf.

Storeship Supply, 4, Com'r Colvocoresses, arrived at New York Thursday, from Ship Island 24th ult.

Com'r Palmer, late of steam sloop Iroquois, arrived at New York Thursday from Havana, and proceeded to Washington.

A naval officer explains the recent mishap of the gunboat Miami as follows:—

"The boilers of the Miami are much too small, and are not able to generate sufficient steam to drive her engines, the wheels only making two or three revolutions, when they should make at least eighteen. The consequence was that she was unable to make any headway, and meeting the Constitution, asked to be towed to the nearest port. Instead of having nine feet of water in her, her officers state that she had none in her hold. In regard to her guns having been thrown over, it is sufficient to say that they are all on board at the present time, and likely to remain there."

☞ Orders have been issued from the War Department for the whole force now at Augusta, Me., to enter the service as soon as possible.

☞ A letter from Newport News states that the bursting of the Sawyer gun was occasioned by not ramming the shell home.

"I'D RATHER TAKE MY CANE AND WALK ROUND TOWN."—Years ago, when we were first fitting up the Chronicle Office, an old and well known mason in this city, since deceased, priced a certain job for us; and on our offering him considerably less, he turned on his heel, with, "No, I'd rather take my cane and walk round town"—which, by the way, he was amply "able" to do when he pleased—probably because he always thus insisted on fair pay for his work. Our giving him his own fair terms, was the end of that matter—but we shall never forget it; and frequently have we answered similar offers in like manner.

Another remark we heard a laboring man make when we were but a boy—that he had "worked for a certain noted family, father and sons, for thirty years, and never saw the man who made a cent out of any of them yet." We have since seen this idea often proved—that is, that it is not the richest men whose trade or patronage is necessarily most valuable or beneficial—though beginners are apt to see through golden spectacles, and to fancy that if they can secure such for customers, they are "made."

One or the other of these lessons is often brought home to us—but both at once are recalled about once a year, by receiving an offer from Holloway, to half fill our paper, at a price which would hardly pay for setting up the type, to say nothing about editorial notices asked for, and hideous cuts of the congregation of cripples and lepers rushing after said medicines. No, sir; we had rather fill our columns with witty selections from the Ballot. Put another cipher at the end of your last offer, and we will accept.

☞ Bishop's Panorama will be exhibited at the Temple this, Saturday, afternoon, commencing at half past two—the price of admission being but ten cents. A fine opportunity is presented for children to see it. The Panorama will also be exhibited this evening.

☞ Allen Treat, Jr., 16 years of age, was so seriously injured by being run over by an engine near the Eastern Railroad station in this city on Friday morning, that he died in a few hours. He had got upon the engine while wooding up, and in jumping off as it moved slowly by the house in which his father resides, he struck against a ridge of ice and fell directly under the wheels, which passed diagonally across his legs and body, crushing him in a terrible manner.

FROM HAVANA AND MEXICO.—Miramon on arriving at Vera Cruz, from Havana, was arrested by the British Admiral for a former robbery of the British Legation in Mexico. He was arrested on board the Avon, and confined in the British frigate Challenger. He will not be allowed to land.

Talbot, formerly a civil engineer of a Mexican railroad, who left to join the rebels in South Carolina, has returned to Havana in the pirate steamer Kate, and is en route to Vera Cruz in hopes to obtain his old situation, in which he will be disappointed.

Juarez made proposals of peace to the Allies, which were rejected.

The commissioners of the allied forces had returned from the city of Mexico. The Mexican Government insist on the withdrawal of the Spanish forces, and will accept the intervention of France and England. Desertions from the Spanish troops at Vera Cruz continued, and the sickness and death among the allied troops is frightful.

The pirate steamer Victoria sailed from Havana on the night of the 7th, with a cargo of arms and ammunition, for some southern port. Capt. Maffit, formerly commander of the Crusader, has taken command of the pirate steamer Cecile.

FORT DONELSON is a fortification made of earth, and was constructed about the same time last summer as Fort Henry.—Situated at Dover, on the west bank of the Cumberland, where that river washes an obtuse angle, it is twelve miles southeast of the latter fort, and mounts about ten 24 and 32 pounders. It is said to be garrisoned by some 6000 men.

AN ANSWERED PRAYER.—Last evening seven detective police officers proceeded to a disorderly house and arrested the madame of the establishment and five girls, all under sixteen years of age. A ludicrous scene took place in the parlor. The genius who presided at the piano squared his form into a kneeling posture and exclaimed: "Officers, for God's sake spare me the disgrace of arrest? I am a member in an up-town church and get a salary as organist." Of course the detectives could not withstand such a prayer, and answered it favorably."—N. Y. Tribune.

FROM MISSOURI.—The following dissolving view of the "institution" is furnished by the Leavenworth Conservative of Friday last:

"On Tuesday night seventy negroes arrived in Doniphan County, from Missouri. They had 'conspired' together, and came over in one party. There have been large arrivals at Lawrence recently."

RHYMING IN MEETING.—Old Dr. Strong of Hartford, whose name is still a praise in the churches, had an unfortunate habit of saying amusing things when he meant it not so. As when he was presiding on a meeting of ministers, and wishing to call in one of them to come forward and preach he said:

"Brother Colton,
Of Boston,
Will you step this way,
And pray?"

To which Mr. Colton immediately answered, without intending to perpetrate anything of the same sort:

"My dear brother Strong,
You do very wrong,
To be making a rhyme,
At such a solemn time."

And then Dr. Strong added:—

"I'm very sorry to see
That you're just like me."

The good men would not, for the world, have made jests on such an occasion; but they could plead the same excuse for the rhymes that the boy did for whistling in school: "I didn't whistle, sir; it whistled itself."

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.
Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

---

It is a deception and a cheat to assume that there is any friendship for the Union existing in the rebellious States; but it is a fact that these States are the common property of the Union, and must be wrested back. This can only be done by sharp, bitter, extreme war, and every man who is honest to the country should cheerfully concede to any measures that may be necessary to its preservation. Especially should democrats, who, after having been used by the South for thirty years, were infamously betrayed, in order that, through the election of Lincoln, there might be a surface pretext for the rebellion—especially should they feel bitter and relentless to those double traitors.

But, strange to say, doubly and particularly wronged as they have been by treason, the lingering spell of Southern domination still rests upon their minds. They seem to be afflicted with the dream that this whole war is, after all, a mere political campaign, and that in due time these fearful Southerners will come frowning back to their seats in the Senate and House, and that then those of us who have been temperate, and who have spoken constantly with bated breath of "our Southern brethren," may retain their fierce favor, and be allowed to whiffle themselves into some secondary places when all is over. This calculating temper of the party hacks has unstrung much of the resolution of the people, and that is the reason why the general anger at the crime which contemplated the destruction of the country, has not been commensurate with its monstrosity—not commensurate, either, with the kind of spirit which should put it down.—Geo. Wilkes.

☞ Senator Grimes and Asst. Sec. of the Navy Fox, have for some time had under consideration the reorganization of the Navy Department. The bill on which they have agreed was reported from the Naval Committee of the Senate on Thursday. It provides;

A Bureau of Yards and Docks;
Equipment and Recruiting;
Hydrography and Lights, absorbing the Light House Board;
Ordnance;
Construction and Repairs;
Steam Engineering;
Provisions and Clothing;
Medicine and Surgery.

The re-organization, it is thought, will place the Department upon a more efficient ooting, and at the same time considerably reduce the expenses.

Some time ago, several of the master workmen in the Navy Yard received presents from the workmen, two of them a valuable set of silver each, and another a gold watch. The head of the Navy Department was informed of the circumstances, and directed Capt. Pendergast to inquire into the matter. This he did, and the facts were transmitted to Washington. The answer of the Secretary was received recently, in which he censures in strong terms the reception of presents by master workmen in the Navy Yard from the men, and says if it is again done it will subject the offender to immediate dismissal.—Philadelphia paper.

☞ Michael Sweetman, a young man in Cobourg, Cañada, undertook to gauge the capacity of his body for beer, not long since. He had been drinking whisky at intervals during the day, but concluded to finish up with a couple of quarts of beer.—He perished in the attempt.

☞ Capt. John Brown (son of the John Brown whose soul is "marching on,") arrived at Fort Leavenworth a few days since from Detroit, Mich., with forty recruits, one of whom was with his father in the Harper's Ferry tragedy. Capt. Brown's company is now full, and is assigned to Col. Jennison's regiment.

☞ Both Houses in the California Legislature have unanimously passed resolutions protesting against the discontinuance of the overland mail, and advocating the restoration of the Pony Express, and the sending of printed mail matter by sea.

☞ It is thought that Gov. Wright of Indiana, a democrat, will be elected to fill Bright's seat in the Senate. Wright is one of the strongest, best and truest men that Indiana ever had.

☞ An organ-grinder, having accidentally killed his monkey, committed suicide at Cleveland, Ohio, a few days ago, by taking arsenic mixed with beer.

☞ To add to the chapter of horrors at Richmond, so graphically described by the Examiner, that city is soon to be left, it appears, in pitchy darkness after sunset.—They have no oil and cannot get coal to manufacture gas.

☞ The adjustable armor and steel vests, so much spoken of as a protection to soldiers, have been tested at Hartford, being first fastened around a tree. An Enfield gun made a large dent and then a hole in the armor; and Colt's rifle tore a hole both in the armor and the vest.

MOOSE IN HARNESS.—C. C. Alvord and Martin G. Everts are about to purchase Ball Mountain, Vt, for the purpose of domesticating the moose. The entire base of the mountain is to be enclosed by a high fence. The object of this novel plan is to make the moose serviceable in driving, singly or by pairs.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Burnside states the number of killed in his command in the capture of Roanoke Island, at 35, and the number of wounded at 200, of whom 10 received mortal wounds.

Late rebel papers state that the Burnside expedition had taken possession of Edenton and also of Plymouth. They also state it was rumored that a couple of the vessels had proceeded on a reconnoissance as far as Coleraine. Five gunboats moved slowly to the wharf at Edenton, Wednesday, at 9 o'clock and landed their troops. Very soon afterwards fifteen more gunboats arrived. The citizens raised the white flag. Between 3000 and 4000 troops landed. The population of Edenton is about 2000. In the afternoon two gunboats went up the river toward Winton, and several others toward the mouth of the Roanoke. Harford, the capital of Perquimans Co., was taken by the Federals, Wednesday.

The Richmond Dispatch of Friday has the following: Gen. Wise is near Currituck Court House, and sent down a flag of truce to Roanoke Island on Thursday.

A Norfolk telegram says it is believed the mortar fleet is intended for that place.

The expedition up the Tennessee river has returned to Fort Henry, having captured $75,000 worth of contraband goods at Paris, Tenn. They also found the tents and camp equipage of the troops that left Fort Henry.

Dispatches from Memphis to Norfolk affirm that the Federal flag was cheered on the Tennessee river by the people, and assert that the Federals neither seized nor destroyed any private property, not even cotton.

The Nashville Union of the 5th, says Gens. Beauregard, Pillow, and Cheatham were there. It also contains Beauregard's plan of the battle of Manassas, and prodigious speculations are made of what he will do at Columbus.

The attack on Fort Donelson was commenced on the afternoon of the 12th.—Our force is said to be 50,000 (?) men, with about 30 pieces of artillery. The rebel force is estimated from the best information, to be about 15,000. The Union forces on Thursday had surrounded the fort on all sides by land, and the gunboats had dismounted three of the rebels' guns. A considerable number on both sides had been wounded. The sharpshooters had done good service. It is said they kept several of the enemy's guns idle by picking off the cannoneers as fast as they appeared at the guns. Our men have driven back the enemy in every instance. The rebel generals, Pillow, Floyd, Buckner and Johnson are said to be there.

The rebel accounts of the attack on Fort Donelson claim that at the close of the first day they had held their own, had repulsed our troops and driven back our gun boats. They estimate the Federal force there to be from 10,000 to 12,000, only. The latest Federal account of the first day's fighting says: the rebels gave battle outside of the Fort, but were driven in after a severe fight and considerable loss on both sides. Our troops captured and hold two of the batteries outside the Fort. Our loss is probably 45 killed and 150 wounded. 8000 Federal troops and 4 gunboats arrived Thursday evening.

Gen. Lander by a forced march on Thursday night, surprised and broke up a rebel camp at Bloomery Gap, Va., killing 13, capturing 17 commissioned officers and 45 privates, and losing but 2 men and 6 horses. This opens the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. to Hancock again.

Gen. Mitchell's division, by a forced march, reached the river at Bowling Green, Ky, on Saturday, and at last accounts were making a bridge; the rebels had burnt the bridge, and were evacuating the place when he arrived.

CONGRESS.—The Senate, on Friday, adopted amendments to the bill in regard to the pay of officers of the army, reducing the number of Paymasters in the army from 149 to 125, and providing that the bounty of the soldiers, in case of death, be paid to his wife, children, father or mother. The amendment to restore the 5 per cent. deposit clause to the Treasury Note bill, was adopted.

In the House, the naval appropriation bill was amended, by adding an appropriation of fifteen million dollars for the construction of gunboats. These vessels are additional to the twenty recently authorized by Congress, and for which the sum of ten millions was appropriated. It is proposed to arm these gunboats each with three or four guns of the heaviest calibre.—An appropriation of $50,000 was also added to build an ordnance foundry at Washington, and $1,000,000 for the manufacture of ordnance. Chevalier Wikoff was ordered to be discharged from custody, he having purged himself of the alleged contempt by answering the questions of the committee.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Michael McDonald, about 60 years old, was murdered at the County Farm in Goffstown, on Wednesday forenoon, by Enoch Colby, aged about 30. Both were paupers, and were at work together quietly in the cellar of the alms-house. Suddenly Colby grasped a four-foot stick, and struck his associate on the head, breaking his skull and felling him to the ground: a second blow followed, when Colby was seen and immediately placed in confinement. The injured man died in a short time. Colby has been considered harmless, though partially insane. He has a brother at the farm who has entirely lost his reason.—When arrested he remarked that "somebody was hurt," and afterwards that "somebody was killed." The next day he took his meals, acted and appeared as if nothing unusual had occurred.

—— A policeman in Manchester on Tuesday, saw a Mrs. Cronible with a large package. Suspecting something wrong, he stopped her, when she threw away the bundle, which proved to be newly washed clothes taken from the lines. She was fined $5 and costs $3,54.

—— Sherburn Sanborn, of Sandown, an old gentleman of 80 years of age, died on Saturday last in an apoplectic fit. He had maintained excellent health and was active immediately before his disease.

—— The claims which are alleged to lie against the City of Concord because of the demolition of the Democratic Standard office, in August last, have found their way into law, and suits have been issued for several sums, amounting in the aggregate to $7273. 10.

—— On Monday morning last, the body of James Knee was found in the rear of a block on Main street, in Concord. He was an intemperate person, and probably perished from exposure to the cold.

☞ The Manchester Mirror says it is the organ of the new party in this State, only in this sense—that, "as it favors every person who is honestly and earnestly in favor of putting down the rebellion and saving the Union, in the quickest possible way, without any sinister motives, so far as his acts tend in that direction, and all movements and combinations for the same purpose"—it confesses to "an admiration for the platform of the Union Party, perhaps more properly the War Party, or No Party, started by those honestly and earnestly in favor of backing the Administration in its efforts to crush out this wicked and unholy rebellion, without an if or a but." It adds:

"Our own opinion is, that if the shackles of party were removed, 60,000 voters of this State think exactly alike as to the war, and it is a shame that they cannot unite on one platform and act together. But neither of the old organizations would yield enough to suit the exigencies of the times, and the patriotism of certain minds, and hence this new movement. What it will amount to, is very difficult to foresee at this its starting stage; but we have no hesitation in recording our opinion that it will defeat an election of Governor by the people, mix up matters strangely in the Councillor and Senatorial districts, render a great uncertainty about the House, and affect more or less all the County and a majority of the town votes. So much is now certain." [Perhaps.]

—— The Eighth N. H. Regiment, Col. Hawkes Fearing, now at Fort Independence, Boston, is to go to Ship Island. Six companies embarked Friday afternoon on the ship E. W. Farley.

—— The Dover Gazette states that "on Friday last, George Nutter, son of Mr. Joseph Nutter, of Barnstead, had his nose bitten off by a horse, which he was handling. Mr. Nutter picked up his nose and carried it to the house; it is doubtful if it will grow on again; he is at present in a suffering condition."

—— The Old Folks are giving concerts in Dover. The Gazette says "the Orchestra, under the lead of Prof. Whitney, is all that can be desired. The Professor is the Mozart of our city. The choir numbers over one hundred."

NAVAL.—The new gunboats Kennebec four guns, Lieut. J. H. Russell, and Kineo, four guns, Lieut George M. Ransom, sailed from Boston, on Thursday.

Com'r Charles S. Misercon, late of sailing sloop Savannah, is ordered to command steam sloop Wachusett, seven guns, fitting at Boston.

Sailing sloop St. Louis, nineteen guns, Com'r M. C. Marin, passed the Capes of Delaware, bound to the Mediterranean, 12th inst.

☞ President Felton, of Harvard College, is dangerously ill at the residence of his brother in Chester County, Pennsylvania. His complaint is enlargement of the heart.

☞ The wife of Gen. Lloyd Tilghman, who commanded Fort Henry and was taken prisoner, is the daughter of Joseph C. Boyd, Esq., of Portland, Me.

☞ The boys connected with the Portland (Me.) High School are being drilled in the manual of arms.

☞ Dr. Hayes, the Arctic explorer, has tendered his services to the Government in any capacity it may need him.

☞ The Richmond correspondence of the Charleston Mercury describes the article in the London Times on Mason and Slidell as "a blow between the eyes" entirely unlooked for. This sagacious writer, however, endeavors to interpret the tone of the Times in a spirit entirely friendly to the rebel States, by a species of logic not very clear nor substantial.

☞ Gen. Stone was arrested while with his family in Washington, and was conveyed to his prison without exciting attention, as he and his officers were in citizen's dress. He expressed surprise at his arrest, and declares that he is entirely innocent of having ever committed any act of disloyalty, asserting that he has no fears of the consequences, and will soon be at liberty again if justice is done him.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Tribune, in an account of the capture of Fort Henry, says:—

"At midnight, as I close, the rain is pouring down in torrents, with heavy thunder and vivid lightning; but here at headquarters in the well furnished cabin of the boat, the weeping heavens do not trouble us.—This going to war in a first-class steamer, with Brussels carpet, marble-covered furniture, and a piano, is an agreeable novelty, particularly in rainy weather."

☞ The Montreal Herald gives an account of an ice avalanche upon the Lower Lachine Road, on Monday last. The recent gales disturbed the ice, which rose in mountains and was precipitated upon the roads, rolled over the land and threatened to destroy the houses. In some cases the ice was shot over the road into the fields across, for a distance of a quarter of a mile, sweeping everything in the shape of a fence before it. A number of horses were injured and many families narrowly escaped, being crushed to death or drowned.

☞ The Constitutionel says: "We find that the French population comprises in its totality 37,572,732 souls. France, therefore, finds herself to day the second of the European Powers as to population, Russia being the first with 58,470,000 souls, and Austria the third with 36,955,300.

☞ It is said that all kinds of water fowl are in great abundance in the creeks about Port Royal, and much sport in shooting them is had by the officers of our army and navy. They add an agreeable variety to many mess tables.

☞ Commissioners Fish and Ames have returned from Fortress Monroe, having been refused permission by the rebels to investigate the condition of the federal prisoners at the South.

☞ A young lady and gentleman, arm in arm, skated round the skating park in Troy, New York, thirty times without stopping, Saturday afternoon. The distance was at least ten miles.

☞ Mr. Paulsen, the chess player, is in England. At Manchester he repeated his famous performance of playing ten games at once without the aid of a chess board.

☞ Sec. Stanton has so far recovered from his sickness as to be at his post in the War Department.

THE WEAVER.

A weaver sat by the side of his loom,
A-flinging the shuttle fast,
And a thread that would last till the hour of doom,
Was added at every cast

His warp has been by the angels spun,
And his weft was bright and new,
Like threads which the morning upbraids from the sun,
All jewelled over with dew.

And fresh lipped, bright-eyed, beautiful flowers,
In the rich, soft web were bedded;
And blithe to the weaver sped onward the hours,
Nor yet were Time's feet heeded.

But something there came slow stealing by,
And a shade on the fabric fell,
And I saw that the shuttle less blithely did fly,
For thought hath a wearisome spell.

And a thread that next o'er the warp was lain,
Was of melancholy gray;
And anon I marked there a tear drop's stain,
Where the flowers had fallen away.

But still the weaver kept weaving on,
Though the fabric all was gray,
And the flowers and the buds, and the leaves were gone,
And the gold threads sankered lay;

And dark and still darker—and darker grew
Each newly woven thread;
And some were of a death-mocking hue,
And some of a bloody red.

And things all strange were woven in—
Sighs, down-crushed hopes, and fears;
And the web was broken, and poor and thin,
And it dripped with living tears.

And the weaver fain would have flung it aside,
But he knew it would be a sin,
So in light and in gloom the shuttle he plied,
And weaving the cords in.

And as he wove, and, weeping, still wove,
A tempter stole him nigh;
And with glozing words he to win him strove,
But the weaver turned his eye—

He upward turned his eye to heaven,
And still wove on—on—on!
Till the last, last cord from his heart was riven,
And the tissue strange was done.

Then he threw it about his shoulders bowed,
And about his grizzled head,
And gathering close the folds of his shroud,
Laid him down among the dead.

And after I saw, in a robe of light,
The weaver in the sky;
The angels' wings were not more bright,
And the stars grew pale it nigh.

And I saw, mid the folds, all the Iris hued flowers
That beneath his touch had sprung—
More beautiful far than these stray ones of ours,
Which the angels have to us flung.

And wherever a tear had fallen down,
Gleamed out a diamond rare;
And jewels befitting a monarch's crown,
Were the foot-prints left by Care.

And wherever had swept the breath of a sigh,
It was left a rich perfume;
And with light from the fountain of bliss in the sky,
Shone the labor of Sorrow and Gloom.

And then I prayed, when my last work is done,
And the silver life cord river,
Be the stain of sorrow the deepest one
That I bear with me to heaven.

FOREIGN.—We have news to Feb. 2d. The Sumter was still at Gibraltar. A letter from Earl Russell to the Lords of Admiralty, prohibiting the use of British ports to vessels of either belligerent, is published. The port of Nassau, N. P., and other ports of the Bahama Islands, are specially mentioned.

It was believed the Nashville had been ordered to quit Southampton.

The Independence Belge asserts that the Southern Commissioners have informed the English government that in return for the recognition of the Southern Confederacy, they would establish most absolute free traffic and emancipate all the blacks born after the recognition. These offers, however, would not determine Lord Palmerston to abandon the policy of neutrality.

Local.

☞ The fire engines were called out and a general alarm raised in this city on Friday evening last about half past eight, and it was stated that some building, near the Eastern Railroad depot, was on fire; but we have been unable to ascertain any good foundation for the alarm or the story.

☞ Lieut. Lowry, of the U. S. Marine Corps, has been detached from the Marine Barracks at this naval station, and ordered to report for duty to Com. Dupont, of the Southern Squadron, at Port Royal.

☞ Nineteen recruits from Belfast, passed through this city one day last week, under charge of a Lieutenant, destined for Alexandria, to reinforce a company of the 4th Maine Regiment, that suffered a severe loss at Bull Run.

☞ An accident which has resulted in the death of Lieut. Samuel Marcy, commanding the sloop-of war Vincennes, occurred a few weeks ago. He was in command of a boat expedition fitted out from the Vincennes for the purpose of capturing two vessels lying inside one of the passes of the Mississippi, waiting a chance to run the blockade. When the boats were discovered approaching, the crews of the vessels abandoned them, after first setting them on fire. Lieut. Marcy having discovered they were loaded with cotton, and wishing to save as much of the cotton as possible, endeavored, by firing the launch's howitzer at the waterline of the bark, to sink her, and thus extinguish the fire. At the third shot the pivot bolt broke, and the gun capsized, falling on Lieut. Marcy, fracturing his leg in two places, above and below the knee, besides breaking several of his ribs. He was immediately conveyed on board, and the latest accounts from Ship Island bring intelligence of his death. The vessels, with their cargoes, were consumed by fire.

☞ The fine clipper ship Bald Eagle, of Boston, Capt. Morris, sailed from Hong Kong Oct. 11, with a valuable cargo, for San Francisco, and as several other vessels which sailed three months after her, had arrived, fears are entertained that she may have been lost, especially as there were many severe typhoons experienced shortly after she sailed. The Bald Eagle was a beautiful ship of 1708 tons, rated A 1 1 2 and was built at East Boston in 1852.—She was owned by George R. Upton, Esq., of Boston.

☞ An accident occurred on board the wrecked ship Arkwright, at Long Branch, Wednesday, 12th inst. A rigger named Cofferty, of New York, while engaged in stripping the vessel, fell from the foretopsail yard, striking the deck, killing him instantly. He leaves a wife and five children residing in New York. The vessel is entirely unloaded of cargo and ballast, and men are engaged in making ready to haul her off the first stream tide.

☞ On the Potomac, Feb. 13, two men with a box of intoxicating liquor were discovered in a barge and towed to Budd's Ferry by a U.S. steamer. A N.J. Colonel in command there ordered 40 lashes on the bare back for each; it was done; the liquor was destroyed, and the dealers left.

☞ The Tribune's Washington despatch says, on the Adjutant General's recommendation, Congress will probably soon authorize the regular recruiting officers to pay the recruit at the time of enlistment, $25 of the $100 which the law assures him at the end of his term of service.

☞ The Washington papers announce authoritatively that the arrest of Gen. Stone was made by the direct order of Maj. Gen. McClellan, after that officer had devoted much time to the examination of all the accusations against him.

☞ About 5 o'clock, Friday morning, the roof over Mussey's Hall, in Mussey's Block, Portland, fell in with a terrible crash caused by the accumulation of snow and ice upon it. Two stories of the building are completely demolished, and a beautiful ball is a heap of ruins.

☞ The small pox is raging in Jewett City, Conn., to such an extent that the mills are stopped, the district schools suspended, public gatherings forbidden, and a general blockade proclaimed.

☞ The gossips now declare that the gallant young gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, is soon to marry Mrs. Villette, the lovely and accomplished daughter of Secretary Smith.

☞ The Herald states that Dr. Horton, rector of St Paul's Church, Newburyport, is about erecting a vestry which he will present to that church. The cost will be two or three thousand dollars.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for March, contains 66 engravings, among them a fine frontispiece, "It is more blessed to give than to receive,"—splendid double fashion plate, and lots of patterns.

☞ An order has been issued by the President, directing the release of all State prisoners, and granting an amnesty for past political offences.

STUDENTS AT THE SOUTH.—The Presbyterian says that the number of students in the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C., is reduced from sixty to thirty, and that the number in Davidson College, N. C., usually one hundred, is now only twelve.

That man's greatness is not appreciated who walks far in advance of his age; he dwarfs himself in the eye of the people by the distance he is in advance of them.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office will the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WINE MORE DEADLY THAN CANNON Wendell Phillips, in an address at the Music Hall, Boston, recently, said: "I know a soldier in the army of the Potomac, who was picked up in the streets of Philadelphia one year ago, a complete wreck, a confirmed inebriate,—but who was, by the love of a sister and the charity of a Boston home, placed once more upon his feet. He was at Ball's Bluff, and three times, with unloaded musket, charged upon the enemy. He was one of the six who heroically defended and brought away the body of the fallen leader of that bloody fight. The captain of the company to which he belonged died in his arms, receiving the last words of consolation from his lips. He was afterwards conspicuous in the fight, until orders were given for each one to seek his own safety. Removing some of his apparel, he plunged into the inhospitable river, and after great exertion landed on the opposite bank, seven miles below the encampment. Nearly exhausted, chilled, half-clad, half-starved, he finally reached the camp. The captain of one of the companies of his regiment kindly said to him, pouring out a glass of wine, 'Let me give you this; you will perish without it.' 'I thank you, sir,' said the soldier, 'but I would sooner face all the cannon of the enemy than taste that glass of wine.'"

THE HARTLEY PIT CATASTROPHE.—Some idea of this frightful disaster will be gained from statistical returns that four hundred and seven living men and two hundred and nineteen dead bodies have been recovered, including those who were killed by the falling of the cage. The male population of three pit hamlets are lost at one fell swoop, and of all the men employed at this important colliery, which but a few days ago was in active operation, only twenty-five remain alive.

It is said that McClellan will be able to do more, since we have a Secretary of War. From all accounts, he was obliged to perform his own duties and those pertaining to the office of the Secretary of War also, while the late Secretary was feathering his nest and those of his friends. And our General knows what he is about. A man escaped from Manassas the other day, and at once demanded to be taken to McClellan. His object was to warn the General not to attack Manassas with its strong defences and miles of rifle pits. The General turned, and taking up a map, said:—"Does this look like any place you ever saw?" It was, indeed, a plan of the whole place, rifle pits and all. This man, from Florida, had been, in Southern phrase, "compelled to volunteer." He knew of Union people enough, and enough that were sick of the war, but he did not know of many who would inlist again when the year of service should expire.—Washington Corr. Springfield Republican.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE: and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in far or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

BEAUREGARD'S REPORT OF THE BATTLE OF MANASSAS.—This document has now been published in full. It states that the Confederate forces engaged in the fight amounted to over 31,000 men, and that their losses were 260 killed outright and 1,483 wounded. Our forces are put down at 55,000 men, while Gen. McDowell in his official report states that he had not over 18,000, all told, in the fight.—Our losses he puts at 481 killed, 1,011 wounded and brought in, 1,216 missing.—The comparative results then stood thus:

Total Union loss	2,698
Total rebel loss, as reported by Beauregard	1,982

—Which, perhaps, on each side, is as near the mark as we shall be able to get.

At the battle of Buena Vista Gen. Taylor had nearly 20 per cent. of his men killed and wounded; in the battle of Molina del Rey, 25 per cent. of Gen. Worth's forces were cut to pieces; at Manassas not 10 per cent. on either side were killed and wounded.

In conclusion, Beauregard frankly confesses that his army was too much exhausted by their trying day's work to follow up the victory, and that the heavy and unremitting rain on the next day, and the want of a sufficient cavalry force "made an efficient pursuit a military impossibility;" so that, if our soldiers from the field of Manassas did not move "onward to Richmond," they did enough in that battle to prevent Beauregard from moving onward to Washington.

☞ Peter Cooper, one of the wealthiest and most intelligent citizens of New York city, has recently written a long letter to the President, in which, after stating the conservative ground he has always occupied, even to giving the South well-nigh everything it asked, he argues that slavery is the cause of the war, and its main support on the rebel side, and the time has come when we must seize upon every means to crush this disastrous rebellion. He asserts that as we offered all the kindness necessary to prove our trustworthiness, and it was indignantly rejected, we are fully at liberty now to seize upon any and every efficient means to throw the expense of the war where it belongs—upon the slaveholders.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch says: "Our Tennessee exchanges give us gloomy prospects for the future in that part of the confederacy. Several journals intimate plainly that there is really a threatening state of affairs in East Tennessee, growing out of the idolatrous love of many of the people for the old Union."

A correspondent of the Memphis Avalanche writes: "The condition of the interior counties is not improved by the lapse of time. The people apprehend an immediate advance of the Northern men, and traitors to the South evince their joy in every village and neighborhood. The Unionists are making demonstrations in many of the northern counties, and even at Memphis there were exhibitions of joy at the arrival of the news from Beech Grove.—Armed bands of Johnson's and Maynard's followers are prowling about in all directions through the mountains. In remote counties many have been shot at night in their own houses, who adhered to the fortunes of the South."

A Methodist minister has invented a new shell. He presented it to the War Department, and is reported to have said:—

"Faith, sir, I preached hell fire and brimstone in the abstract a long time, and now I'll give 'em a little of it in the concrete form."

ABSALOM AND THE REBELS.

A careful reader of the old Testament, says Uncle Toby, may see in Absalom's rebellion against David, a great many typical shadowings of the rebellion now rampant in the slave States, threatening the overthrow of the Union, and designing to rule the country on a new plan.

The history of Absalom's rebellion is given in II. Sam. chap. 15 and onward.

The points of similarity are many.

David, for his many faults, deserved punishment, but he had given no cause of offence to Absalom, except that he had indulged him beyond measure. So no doubt this nation for its many faults of grasping ambition, foolish pride, and heartless oppression, deserved punishment; but no cause of offence was given to the master spirits of the rebellion, or to the slave power which they represent, except that they had been unduly favored.

Absalom was very busy, making great promises, and stealing the hearts of the people of Israel, and plotting mischief for four years before his outbreak against David. So Floyd was busy four years, stealing guns, powder, and money, and plotting with the other traitors in Cabinet and Court, before this rebellion was fully under way.

Absalom had his spies planted over the land, all ready, as soon as they heard the sound of the trumpet, to say, Absalom reigneth in Hebron; and he had corruptly invited 200 citizens of Jerusalem to go with him to a pretendedly religious feast, but really a trap into which many of them fell and were mingled in the conspiracy they hardly knew how or why. So in the present rebellion, the swindling, chicanery and fraud, by which State after State was hurried into the rebellion against the wishes of the majority, were notorious to all.

At one time it seemed probable that Absalom's rebellion would swallow up David and his kingdom;—as Warriors, Statesmen, Courtiers and Counsellors flocked round the rebel standard:—but a counter current soon set in: divided counsels took possession of the rebels, they hesitated, and when they had lost the only time to strike a deadly blow, went out to battle. David mustered his host, the bravest and best men in the land joined with his brave foreign born soldiers, and stood round him, faithful and fearless: the tide turned in his favor, and rebellion went down with a crash, bu ying the cause of it amid the ruins of the army that upheld it.

To these items, all but the very last, we have parallels so exact, that we need not point them out. It is to be hoped that the comparison may hold out to the end.

In the struggle which killed Absalom and crushed out the rebellion at the same time, there is another parallel, too curious to pass unnoticed. Absalom and his rebels aimed to destroy David and his throne together: but David, when he sent out his forces to fight the rebels, said, very carefully to the army, "Deal gently, for my sake, with the young man Absalom!" How exactly like the talk of some in our day,—"put down the rebellion if we lose thousands of lives and millions of money, but O, for —— sake deal gently with slavery and the slave power! don't hurt a hair of their heads!"

In the general melee, however, when 20,000 rebels were slain, Absalom, the cause of the war, rode his mule under an oak, his head caught in the branches, the mule went off and left him hanging; Joab thrust him through with three darts, took him down, cast him into a pit, and the people buried him under a great heap of stones.

So, if the cause of this rebellion happens to run its head into a tight place and get killed and buried, let all the people say Amen! but don't let any body here mourn as David did for Absalom.

THE PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.—The telegraph line from Chicago to San Francisco is beginning to work through with considerable regularity and promptness. On Friday the public report from the New York Associated Press to the Associated Press of San Francisco, which was dispatched at 1 1-2 o'clock, gur time, was published in San Francisco at 11 1-2—two hours ahead of time.

☞ It is believed that the recent message from the rebels was a proposition for foreign arbitration with a design of getting such fact in our papers, but Government proposes to settle rebellion in a more summary manner.

☞ Pat Mathews, the New York rowdy, breathed his last on Friday night. He was delirious to the last, raving of fights and frolics. He had made a will bequeathing a handsome property to his mother.

☞ Russell, of the London Times was amazed a few days ago, at being informed that Secretary Stanton was too busy to see him.

THE REBELLION.

After three days' desperate fighting at Fort Donelson our forces captured a redoubt which commands the fort, so that Gen. Grant was confident of taking the fort itself on Sunday afternoon. Our fleet of gunboats was the special mark of the enemy, two of them being disabled and floating helplessly down the river. The St. Louis, flag-ship, received 59 shots, and the others an average of half that number; our loss in killed and wounded upon the fleet was 54. Commodore Foote was slightly wounded, and retired to Cairo. The mortar fleet from the latter place has started for Fort Donelson. The rebels had three batteries bearing upon the river, one above another, the highest (which the land force have taken) being 110 feet above the water.

By a flag of truce from Fortress Monroe, Feb. 16, we hear that Fort Donelson surrendered to Gen Grant, Sunday. Generals Pillow, Floyd, Johnston and Buckner were taken, with 15,000 other prisoners.—Our own accounts, however, while they confirm the glorious intelligence of the capture of the fort, with Johnston, (who has been esteemed the ablest field officer in the whole rebel army,) Pillow, Buckner and 15,000 prisoners, state that Floyd stole away with 5000 men on Saturday night.

Further official advices say Floyd escaped during the night, and the rebels in the Fort denounce him as a black hearted traitor and a coward. A dispatch says the rebels are known to have had 30,000 men: 15,000 were taken prisoners, 5000 escaped and the remaining 10,000 are reported to be killed or wounded. Our loss is not stated, but it is mentioned as terribly severe. The fort was finally captured by the Federal troops at the point of the bayonet. An immense quantity of arms, ammunition, &c., was captured.

The flag of truce to Fortress Monroe reports that fighting has been going on near Savannah, and that city is probably captured.

The evacuation of Bowling Green, Ky., by the rebels is confirmed. They had previously destroyed the railroad and turnpike bridges, and left nothing at Bowling Green except a few old wagons. A part of the town is reported to be burnt. Gen. Crittenden is trying to organize another army at Carthage, on the south bank of the Cumberland. This is the only rebel force on the line from Bowling Green to Nashville.

Our army under the command of Gen. Curtis, marched from Lebanon, Mo., on the 11th inst, in three divisions, under Gen. Jeff. C. Davis, Gen. Carr and Gen. Siegel. On the 12th, at sunset, 300 of the enemy attacked our pickets, but were driven back with a loss of 30. About three o'clock on the morning of the 13th our army advanced in line of battle, and at daybreak the 3d division entered and took peaceful possession of the town. Price had left at two o'clock the same morning, leaving over 600 of his sick behind. Large numbers of forage wagons were also left. He had 12,000 effective troops and 50 pieces of artillery. A battalion of our cavalry captured 100 wagons of his train. It is reported that Price is falling back to meet McIntosh, who was coming up with reinforcements, and on his joining him would return and give us battle. The probabilities are, however, that he is in full retreat. General rejoicing is manifested among the people throughout the Southwest at the retreat of the rebels. This expedition will it is thought, end the campaign in Missouri.

Gen. Halleck has received dispatches from Gen. Curtis, stating that Price's rear guard was overtaken in the pursuit from Springfield, and after a brief resistance the rebels fled, leaving the roads strewn with their wagons and baggage. Gen. Curtis reports that he has taken more prisoners than he knows what to do with.

The Port Royal correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing 10th inst., says the fleet en route for Savannah, had succeeded in cutting off all communication between Fort Pulaski and Savannah, and the forces have destroyed the water pipes leading to the city and supplying it with water. Among the regiments on the expedition is the Fourth New Hampshire.

☞ We would refer any of our readers who desire to obtain a Safe, that shall be indeed a safe, to the advertisement of the justly-celebrated "Marland Patent," published in our columns this morning. The manufacturers, Messrs. M. B. Bigelow & Anson Hardy, of Boston, are gentlemen in whom implicit confidence may be placed, and those purchasing of them may rest assured that no misrepresentations will be made to induce them to purchase an article that will not prove to be exactly what was claimed for it. They offer unusual inducements to purchasers, as regards terms, &c., which appear more fully in their circular, which will be sent by mail to any one desiring it.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A letter from Hatteras Inlet says: "There are in the ranks many professed Christians, among whom I notice Rev. E. H. Legro, a private in Co. D, Sixth N. H. Regiment. He enlisted from South Tamworth, in that State, where he had for some time past been pastor over a Methodist Church. The good influence of such men in the ranks can not be over estimated, when they are desirous of exerting themselves for the sake of good."

—— Rev. Dr. Barstow, of Keene, has written a letter addressed to the clergy of New Hampshire, warning them against a fellow who has long been in the swindling business, and calling himself Henry A. Vernon, James Dana, or by some other name he fancies to adopt. Dr. Barstow, in his letter says:—

"You are hereby warned against a gentleman scamp of light complexion, (when his hair and whiskers are not colored,) who has already humbugged myself and many of my brethren, by raising small sums of money under false pretences. He generally puts himself off as a great friend of mine and his father is represented as a deacon in our church, or the Superintendent of our Sabbath School. Sometimes he has lost his money in one way, and sometimes in another. Sometimes he has a broken arm, and sometimes he is convalescent from a fever; but has been detained till his money is exhausted. If he can borrow $3 or $5 just to carry him home, he will return the money by the very next mail after he arrives at home.

—— The Amoskeag Veterans' anniversary will be celebrated at Manchester on Friday, the 21st inst., one day earlier than usual, as Washington's birth-day comes on Saturday. Rev. J. M. Buckley, of Manchester, will deliver the oration. The dinner will be at Museum Hall, and will be enlivened by speeches. Barwick's drum corps, in the absence of any organized band, will furnish the street music. The grand Ball in the evening will be at Smyth's Hall, the floor covered and the walls decorated as heretofore. Vance's and Goodwin's Quadrille Band will provide the music.

—— The Statesman says the slated roof of the South Congregational Church in Concord is of such slope that snow remains upon it until the heat of the furnaces on Sunday loosens it, when avalanches are frequent, and some of them of alarming import. The congregation know what it means; but the desk, in the absence of the pastor as chaplain in the army, is occupied by a succession of clergymen, who are evidently unprepared for thunder in midwinter.

—— Seven weekly newspapers published in this State, have been discontinued within a year for want of support, namely: One at Portsmouth, one in Dover, one at Great Falls, one in Milford, one at Newport, one at Hillsborough Bridge, one in North Stratford.

—— The First N. H. Regiment passed its three months of service in the division then under command of Gen. Stone, who is now under arrest.

THE TENNESSEE RIVER.—It is to be hoped that the rebels will not be allowed again to obstruct the Tennessee river, but that a force sufficient to keep it open and make Florence a shipping point for cotton will be provided. There is a large cotton growing region around Florence. Lauderdale county, of which Florence is the capital, produces from ten to twelve thousand bales of ginned cotton of four hundred pounds. Franklin county, on the other side of the river, produces over 15,000 bales.—Cotton is also produced in Tennessee, on the line of the river. In Tennessee, in the villages on the banks of the river, there are several cotton factories.

☞ Although the rebel authorities have refused to receive the commissioners appointed by the Secretary of War, to look after the comfort of the Federal prisoners at the South, it is understood, says the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. World, that they have made an important proposition, which will, of course, be immediately accepted by our government. It is, to release all our prisoners on parole, for exchange in future. This wise and humane act will be easily carried into effect, and will cause great joy among the friends and relatives of the prisoners. This course was determined on by the rebel government before the large number of prisoners fell into our hands at Roanoke Island.

☞ It was rumored in England, at our last advices, that under the pressure from American shipmasters at Marseilles, the U. S. Consul at that port had sent a request for the Tuscarora to go to the Mediterranean for the protection of our commerce against the privateer Sumter, which continued at Gibralter, at the last dates. There is no confirmation of a reported engagement between the Sumter and another vessel.

☞ Hon. William Pennington, ex-Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, died at Newark, N. J., Sunday morning, aged 68.

☞ Hon. Wm. Appleton died at his residence in Brookline, Mass., on Saturday morning last.

☞ A poor shoemaker of Brentwood, England, has, by the death of a distant relative, unexpectedly become the possessor of a fortune of £1,000,000.

A long, narrow stretch of land lying east of Roanoke Island, bears the euphonious title of "Kill Devil Hills." They looked down approvingly upon the great triumph of our arms while Gen. Burnside was bruising the head of the secession serpent.

☞ The Newport (R. I.) News states that a revenue cutter will soon be placed on that station.

☞ We should be very glad to furnish our readers with the latest news by telegraph—but we have found by experience that it is very difficult if not absolutely impossible to do it successfully. Our $200 or more investment, for all expenses in that line, last fall, was not satisfactory to ourselves or the public—and the great uncertainty of the whole matter renders us shy of it. Repeated experience has proved to us that it is very troublesome, very expensive, and very unsatisfactory to all concerned.

We are indebted to Mr. Brown of Newburyport, for an interesting dispatch on Monday afternoon,—of which we made a Chronicle bulletin only.

☞ Mr. Bishop's exhibition is one of the best entertainments of the season. It comprises the King Philip's and Revolutionary Wars and the Great Events of the present Rebellion. Some of these scenes are portrayed with great effect. The battles of Bull Run, Wilson's Creek, Dranesville, Mill Springs, and the last great naval attack at Roanoke Island are triumphs of art. Mr. Bishop is a fine vocalist Why should he not be? He is author of some of our most popular songs, and he should know how to sing with effect. As a guitarist he has no equal. The pieces which he plays for the running of the panorama are delightful and in keeping with the paintings. We advise all who have not visited it, to be present at the Temple this evening. ***

☞ A young man, belonging in this city, now in Sydney, New South Wales, has three brothers in the Union army, and, having received a newspaper from home, dated June 5th, 1861, giving an account of the rebellion in the Southern States, he wrote a letter to one of his brothers, in which he says:—"We Yankees will rejoice when we hear that the South has been whipped back into the Union, and punished for this fratricidal war." Some poetry was also contained in the letter, written under the inspiration of the moment, which, while it manifests a commendable patriotic spirit, are hardly such as to merit publication.

☞ The third lecture of the Popular Course is to be delivered at the Temple, on Wednesday evening, 19th inst., by Rev. J. C. Fletcher. His subject is—"Rome in the 19th Century," and from the reputation which Mr. Fletcher long since acquired in our city, the audience may confidently anticipate a pleasing and profitable lecture.

☞ Another endorsement of the California wines, from a high source, may be found in Mr. Thacher's advertisement this morning. These wines are fast winning their way into the favor of the public.

☞ Early Monday morning the mercury was from three to five degrees below zero, in different parts of this city. This is the lowest yet reached during the winter.

WARD THREE.—The Republican voters and all others of Ward Three who are in favor of the Union, are requested to meet at their Ward Room under the South Meeting House, on WEDNESDAY, Feb. 19, at 7 1-2 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing for the March election. Speeches may be expected from several gentlemen.

Per order.

ACCIDENT ON THE EASTERN RAILROAD. A freight train, consisting of forty cars, drawn by two engines—the longest train for years, and extending the whole length of the Newburyport bridge—passed over the road for Boston on Saturday morning. When within about a mile of Parker river the wheel of a car broke, which was not noticed until striking the bridge, where about twenty cars were thrown from the track upon either side of the bridge. Seventeen pairs of wheels were noticed in one pile.—The cars were loaded with a variety of merchandise, such as cotton and woolen goods, rifles, staves, felt hats, potatoes, beef, eggs, &c., &c., all of which were more or less damaged by water. Coaches were sent from Newburyport to convey the passengers and baggage across the ice from one train to the other, to keep up the communication on the road; and workmen were engaged during Saturday, and throughout the night, and also on Sunday, in clearing away the obstructions. The rails on the bridges were all torn up, but the bridge was not otherwise injured. The rails have been replaced, and the trains now run regularly.

LOSS OF A NEWBURYPORT SHIP.—Ship Jacob Horton, Merrill, from Calcutta for London, has been wrecked on the French coast, near Cherbourg. The J. H. was a fine ship of 1150 tons, eighteen months old, owned in Newburyport. The ship and freight were valued at $80,000. There is insurance on one half in New York and Boston for $25,000; and $7500 on one-eighth at the Newburyport Mutual, which also has $5000 on another eighth, and $500 on the captain's property. There is insurance in Boston for about $15,000 on one-quarter.

☞ Com. Lynch has arrived at Norfolk. So it seems he has not been drowned, and that the old proverb may yet have a chance of realization in his case, viz: "He that is born to be hung, &c."

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucé Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! SAVE TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Something New.

THE HOUSE-WIFE'S FRIEND and COOK STOVE COMPANION; a very neat and useful little article for removing pans from the Ovens, opening the Stove doors, removing the covers, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ In Jamaica, Vt., on Monday, as Daniel Stocker and his son were breaking out a road near their house, the wind blew off the hat of the former, and at his son's request he went into the house, while the son went in pursuit. The wind had carried the hat over a hill into a deep valley beyond, where the son secured it. But when he started on his return up the hill, a small portion of the drift gave way and carried him back again: and was quickly followed by the whole mass from the brow of the hill, completely burying him. The son not returning, the father started out to find him. Going to the top of the hill, he called, and in reply heard a strange noise apparently directly beneath his feet. He was not long in determining where his son was. Shovel in hand, he went to the rescue. The prisoner, who had begun to despair of ever seeing "the upper world" again, was liberated. He was injured but little, although pressed closely in for over an hour.

OMNIVOROUSNESS OF MULES.—A letter from Sherman's brigade, Camp Morton, near Bardstown, Ky., Jan. 6th, says:

"Besides having the wants of the men of the regiment to supply, I have 78 mules and 11 horses to take care of. The mules give me more trouble than all else, for the scoundrels will break loose at night and wander away, which causes a good deal of trouble in the morning. Then they eat everything. If they get short of hay, they eat the wagons. One of our wagons has the tongue almost eaten off; another has the spokes on the wheel eaten nearly thro'. If they are forbidden this pleasure, they eat each other's tails; and since the mule tails are shaved off, they have taken to the horses, and now every horse in the regiment is a "bob-tail" from this cause, except Dr. Mack's and mine. The mules have already disabled two or three teamsters, who sooner than be bothered with them have gone back to the ranks."

The man that laughs is a doctor without a diploma. His face does more good in a sick room than a bushel of powders or a gallon of bitter draughts. People are always glad to see him. Their hands instinctively go half way out to meet his grasp, while they turn involuntarily from the clammy touch of the dyspeptic, who speaks in the groaning key. He laughs you out of your faults, while you never dream of being offended with him; and you never know what a pleasant world you are living in, until he points out the sunny streaks on its pathway.

WANTS.—Virtue wants more admirers, Wisdom more suppliants, Truth more real friends, and Honesty more practitioners.

Religion wants less said about the theory, and more done in the way of practice.

Philanthrophy wants a residence, and fidelity an asylum.

Pride wants to be discarded, and modest diffidence introduced.

There is a wonderful tale of a dog in the Pittsburg papers. He takes great interest in regimental drills and dress parades, but he made a mistake once in coming four paces to the front, before the order to "open ranks," owing to his having a severe cold which affected his hearing.

One of the former money kings used to say that men with money are not very happy in adding to their stock, but often feel very bad when they lose any, or have to pay or give any away.

The Kansas soldiers have liberated 3,000 slaves since the war began. By what a horrible disregard of their constitutional obligations they must be animated. Perhaps they'll be indicted after the war is over.

THE BISHOP'S COWS.

They have in Claremont, an Agricultural and Mechanical Association, to which nearly all the principal people seem to belong. At a late meeting of this body, there was a debate about cows; and after several persons had spoken, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Chase was called out, and told so good a story that we copy it from the report made in the Eagle.

The Bishop said he had very little knowledge of the subject of breeds and the breeding of cattle, but he had some experience in attempts to supply himself with good cows for his family use which he could relate. While living at Bellows Falls some years ago, he was in want of a good cow, and, upon inquiry, heard of a famous animal in Westminster. Went to see the cow, found her a bony, slab-sided creature, but the stories of her milking qualities seemed so well authenticated that he purchased her for forty dollars—a great price in those days, when the ordinary price was from twenty-one to twenty-five dollars.—Well, for about three weeks in the height of the season she actually gave about 36 quarts of milk in the day! But the other side of the story was that the first six or eight quarts of it was so poor, thin and watery that upon holding a tumbler of it up to the light you could see your fingers thro' it. (Much merriment.) And besides she went dry about three months in the year.—After that he discovered that her feet troubled her, the toes beginning to turn up. He sold his forty dollar cow for six bushels of wheat, and was very glad to get anything. The man to whom he sold her, fixed her out with a set of boots, attached them to the hoofs, and filled in with grease and tar.—In a few weeks, boots, tar, old hoofs and all, came clean off, leaving her with a handsome set of new hoofs, and her owner, putting himself in communication with the cattle fanciers near Boston, sold her as an extraordinary milker for a large sum. His next venture was the purchase of a cow raised in Gilsum, which was highly recommended. She was also ill-favored. She had a thick neck, stood high on legs, and was otherwise coarse and unpleasing, but relying mainly upon the representations of her good qualities he bought her. She proved to be more remarkable for speed than for anything else. (Laughter.) He had frequently seen her at a high rate of speed go from one end of his lot to the other, about an eighth of a mile. (Great Laughter.) And she gave only 6 quarts of milk a day at her best. He thought that had the first cow been properly crossed, her progeny would have been desirable.

The Bishop said he had taken much interest in the reports of meetings, and believed the association to be a most deserving town institution and should be sustained.—As to the comparison between New Hampshire and Vermont he believed the lime so generally diffused over the surface of Vermont had much to do with its superior fertility and with the animals and their products.

Mr. Ellis wished to inquire of the Bishop if he knew of any cause for the difficulty with the cow's feet.

Bishop Chase replied that he supposed her feet had been frozen.

☞ Of Com. Lynch, the Philadelphia Press speaks as follows:

"He is a man of the highest scientific attainments, and might have won imperishable honors by his services on the Dead Sea expedition, had he remained true to the flag under which he had so long sailed. With a name sullied and dishonored, he has fallen a captive to the prowess of his late associates. For several years past he had made this city his residence, and was on terms of social intimacy with many of our best citizens. He is known to have entered the service of the rebels with much hesitancy and regret; but, lacking strong moral courage and firmness, he could not be prevailed upon to say so."

DIPTHERIA is prevailing to quite an extent in the towns of Knox and Freedom, in Waldo County, Maine. Mr. Abner Blanchard, of Knox, has buried a wife and five children, who died from this disease, within three week. In the town of Freedom, William Blacksfone, aged 20, son of the late Dr. Blackstone, died last week while walking the floor, endeavoring to obtain respiration.

☞ The exportation of saltpetre from India, except to English ports, is prohibited.

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints
Excellent Wine for Females.
Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1862.

PORT ROYAL MATTERS.—Most readers remember that Gen. Sherman, when he took possession of Port Royal, issued a general order in which he engaged to respect the constitutional rights, of citizens of South Carolina, and that some fault was found with him on this account.

He has just issued another general order, in which it appears that good white citizens are very scarce in his precinct, but that "hordes of totally uneducated, ignorant and improvident blacks have been abandoned by their constitutional guardians, not only to all the future chances of anarchy and starvation, but in such a state of abject ignorance and mental stolidity as to preclude the possibility of self-government and self-maintenance in their present condition."

For them he makes a kind of provisional government, "to superintend the management of the plantations by the blacks, to enroll and organize the willing blacks into work-ing parties, to see that they are well fed, clad, and paid a proper remuneration for their labor."

He proposes that the Government shall take charge of the plantations coming into its hands, shall raise the cotton, employ and pay the negroes, keeping the latter under a strict but kind discipline of overseers. And;—"in the meanwhile, and until the blacks become capable of themselves of thinking and acting judiciously, the service of competent instructors will be received—one or more for each district—whose duties will consist of teaching them, both young and old, the rudiments of civilization and Christianity—their amenability to the laws of both God and man—their relations to each other as social beings, and all that is necessary to render them competent to sustain themselves in social and business pursuits."

The General also appeals to the benevolent at the North to furnish clothing for the negroes, of which they are in urgent need. They number several thousands.

Just as we read these plain matters of fact on this side the water, we also learn from Europe, that the Southern Rebel Commissioners have informed the English Government that in return for the recognition of the Southern Confederacy, they would establish most absolute free trade for fifty years, abolish the external slave traffic and emancipate all the blacks born after the recognition.

These offers, in connection with the facts named above, and the movements of our troops into rebel States,—point the finger of doom at the peculiar institution.

We have no tears to shed over its prospective downfal, nor fears of any danger from its suddenness. No doubt some very honest people may have them; but the experience of the British West Indies goes to show all such fears to be groundless, and the tears gratuitous.

☞ The Beirout (Syria) Garden of News makes the following mention of the Trent affair:

"And there was an English ship, bearing two of the men of America the South, coming to 'Inghilterra;' and it ran against one of the ships of America the North, on the look-out on the coast; and the ship of the North demanded that the English ship should give up the two men in authority of the South solens volens, and the ship of the North sent forth its fires on the English ship, and took the men in authority, and plundered the ship; and at this news fell the funds in London."

☞ Honors follow swift on the heel of victory. Immediately on the receipt of the telegraphic news announcing the capture of Fort Donelson, the Secretary of War sent the name of General Grant to the President for nomination to the Senate as Major General, as a reward for his gallant services.

☞ Mrs. Pond, the wife of Rufus Pond, of Milford, Mass., committed suicide by cutting her throat on Thursday night last.—The cause undoubtedly was aberration of mind, superinduced by a state of melancholy in consequence of the death of a son, which occurred last fall.

☞ The London Star and Dial cautions Mason and Slidell to restrain their curiosity, not to show themselves too freely in England, and in particular not to visit Barclay's brewery, where Haynau, the Austrian woman-whipper, was assaulted.

☞ A Washington letter says: "The secessionists have been driven from the Capital, or have been self-expatriated, and the abolitionists must be, before we can have peace in this country."

☞ It is reported from Gen. Banks' headquarters to Gen. McClellan, that within the past week numbers of Virginians got through our lines, reached Frederick and presented themselves, desiring to be enrolled in the service of the United States.

When it is 12 o'clock noon at San Francisco, California, it is twenty-five minutes and forty-eight seconds past 3 p. m. in Boston.

THE REBELLION.

The surrender of Fort Donelson constitutes the third grand victory of the present month. The fort was surrendered only after a desperate resistance, and the loss of life was severe. Our loss is set at 300 killed and 600 wounded; the enemy, sheltered by their entrenchments, did not suffer so much. Our gain, besides the fort itself, includes Gen. A. S. Johnston, Gen. Buckner, 15,000 prisoners, (including the rebels who fled thither from Fort Henry,) 48 field-pieces, 17 heavy guns, 20,000 stand of arms, 3000 horses, and a large amount of war material and commissary stores. Gen. Floyd capped the climax of his thefts by stealing himself away from the fort during Saturday night; Gen. Pillow did the same. Both took their brigades with them, without notifying Gen. Buckner. Major Post of the 8th Illinois, with 200 privates, are prisoners, and have gone to Nashville, having been taken the night before the surrender. The works of the fort extend some five miles on the outside. The rebel troops are completely demoralized and have no confidence in their leaders, Pillow and Floyd having deserted them. Our troops from the moment of the investment of the fort on Wednesday, lay on their arms night and day, till Sunday, when the rebels surrendered—half the time without provisions, and all the time without tents. A portion of the time there was a heavy storm of rain and snow.

Commodore Foote telegraphs that he intends to proceed with his mortar-boats to Clarksville, a town on the Cumberland, thirty miles east of Fort Donelson. At this place it is understood that extensive fortifications have been constructed, and a large number of heavy guns mounted, for the protection of the railroad bridge and the communication with Nashville. This latter city is on the same river, forty-five miles southeast of Clarksville. The river is navigable for gunboats of a large size as far as Nashville.

We have intelligence from New Mexico, that the Texans who invaded the Territory were retreating towards El Paso, and Col. Canby, at the head of a strong force, was in pursuit of them.

The escaped rebels from Fort Donelson on Saturday night, are supposed to have gone to Nashville or Clarksville, Tennessee, where, it is tho't, they will attempt to make another stand. A great light was seen for several hours on Monday evening in the direction of Clarksville. It is supposed the rebels either burnt the town or their steamboats, to prevent their falling into our hands. The rebel officers admit that if we take Nashville, rebellion in Tennessee is "gone up." The Johnson captured is now said to be Brig. Gen. Bushrod Johnson, of Tennessee.

We have two rumors—that Savannah has surrendered without firing a gun, and that Price and his army have been captured, but nothing corroborative of either.

FOREIGN.—Steamship Edinburg, from Liverpool 3d, and Queenstown 4th, arrived at New York, Tuesday. The English journals generally applaud Earl Russell's letter to the Admiralty relative to the use of British ports by belligerents. The Nashville left Southampton on the 3d, and passed the Tuscarora off Cowes, where she was anchored. She steamed up, but the frigate Shannon was alongside, to prevent her departure for twenty-four hours. The Nashville was last seen outside the Needles steaming down the channel at full speed. The Sumter still remained at Gibraltar.

General Albert Sydney Johnston, who was recently assigned to the command of the rebel forces in Kentucky, was formerly a distinguished and favorite officer in the U. S. army, and on the breaking out of the war was in command of the military department of the Pacific, with the rank of Brevet Brigadier General. He was graduated from the Military Academy in 1826, served in the Black Hawk campaign of 1832, and resigned in 1834. He subsequently entered the service of the republic of Texas, in which he filled successively the posts of adjutant general, brigadier general and secretary of war. On the breaking out of hostilities with Mexico, he joined the army on the Rio Grande as a Colonel of Texas volunteers, and at at the battle of Monterey acted in the capacity of inspector general to Major General Butler. After the close of the war, he was appointed a paymaster in the army, which commission he held until his appointment as Colonel of the second U. S. cavalry in 1855. He was in command of the forces sent to Utah, to check the insubordination of the Mormons, and was subsequently appointed to command the Pacific Department, where he remained until superseded by Gen. Sumner, in the spring of 1861, when he returned and joined the Confederate army, in which service he stands second in the list of generals.—Brigadier General Simon B. Buckner, another of the Generals captured at Fort Donelson, is also a graduate of West Point, of the class of 1844. He is a native of Kentucky, and served in Mexico, where he was twice brevetted for gallant conduct in battle.—Boston Courier.

☞ We are indebted to T. G. Senter, Esq., for a copy of the Annual Report of the School Committee of Lynn, Mass., for 1861.

☞ John Smith, of Owasco, N. Y., hung himself last week for fear of being drafted for the war.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Algernon Hill, a son of Mr. Joseph Hill, of Keene, a boy about 16 years of age, was shot through both legs last week, just above the knee, fracturing the bone in one. He had been kindling a fire in the church in the rear of Mr. Geo. O. Leonard's gunshop, and came suddenly in front of a target where persons had been accustomed to practice shooting, just as Mr. Leonard was firing. The boy has been dangerous, but is now thought to be recovering.

—— The Littleton Journal says that town has been called, in years gone by, Apthorp first, than Cheswick, and finally, Littleton; while the village post-office once gloried in the name of Glynville.

☞ A murder took place on Wednesday, in Covetown district, Washington county, Penn. A respectable and intelligent man, named Frederick Smith, had for several months been paying his addresses, with no successful result, to Miss Agnes Tracy, a young lady of very respectable parentage. On Wednesday of last week, she was on her way to visit the sick child of a neighbor, having some rice in her hand. Smith met her at a distance from any house, and urged his suit in strong terms. On her refusing his offer, Smith drew a revolver, and saying she should never marry any one else, deliberately fired, the ball taking effect in her left breast, killing her instantly. The murderer, taking the rice from her, carried it to the parents of the sick child, and told them the above details of his hellish act, on whose evidence he was arrested.

A horrible murder was committed on Wednesday night at Franklin, N. J. Two men, Isaac Kingsland and Henry Vreeland, had been drinking all day, and towards evening Vreeland accompanied Kingsland to his house, both parties being very much intoxicated. During the evening an altercation occurred, and Kingsland, seizing an axe, aimed a blow at Vreeland, cleaving his body open from the left shoulder downward. Kingsland was arrested. The body of the murdered man is terribly mutilated, and appears to have been chopped by the axe in a horrible manner. Kingsland occupies a respectable position in life and is reputed wealthy. He is about forty years of age. The deceased was a shoemaker, and aged about 45 years.—Newark Journal.

SUICIDE.—Christopher Way, of Gorham, committed suicide in Portland, Monday morning by hanging himself with his pocket handkerchief, attached to a piece of board in the repair yard of Mr. Dyer, on Commercial street. The distance from the board, to which the handkerchief was attached, to the ground was not three feet, and he was obliged to throw himself upon the ground in order to cause strangulation. Mr. Way was about 50 years of age, and leaves a family.

☞ The mills at Lawrence are all running and mostly on full time. They employ not far from 5000 operatives, which is a reduction of at least 1000 since January, 1861. Their aggregate monthly pay roll amounts to about $75,000, the average rates having been cut down from 10 to 15 per cent during the past year. Most of the companies have a stock of cotton sufficient to enable them to run at the present rate for several months.

STORE BREAKING.—The "Rock Store," on Pepperell Square, Saco, Maine, temporarily occupied by Thomas Kelly, for the sale of dry goods by auction, was broken into on the night of the 13th inst., and goods to the amount of $1500 stolen. No clue to the robbers has yet been discovered. A reward is offered for their arrest.

KILLED WITHOUT A WOUND.—Col. Russell of the 10th Conn., killed in the attack upon the batteries on Roanoke Island, was ordered to have his regiment cease firing so as to allow the 9th N. Y. Regiment to charge upon the battery. This was done, and Col. Russell sat down to rest upon a sod, when a solid cannon shot passed close to his head and he fell over dead, without a struggle and without a wound!

THE ABOLITIONISTS have been holding a session for two or three days, but they have been "let alone" most severely. No person has been to hear them—no person has talked about them. They have met and ranted and resolved. Negro men have embraced white women, and "cullud gals" have returned the caresses of white males. The strong in mind and the strong in smell have mingled awhile in fragrant harmony, and have disappeared as quietly as they assembled. The air is free from them to-day. Cor. N. Y. Argus.

☞ The New Orleans Delta says that the safety of the whole South depends on the battle at Columbus. If that place is taken by the Federal forces, no effectual resistance can be made at other points.

BAD FOR THE REPORTERS.—The Chicago Journal had one reporter killed outright, and another had his leg shot off, at the capture of Fort Henry. A third escaped unharmed.

☞ A strong party in Washington are urging the establishment of a great government foundery at some point in New England.

☞ All the assessments on the secessionists in St. Louis have been paid in, or satisfied by the seizure of property.

Union Ticket.

For Governor,

PAUL J. WHEELER, of Newport.

For Railroad Commissioner.

JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussions of ancient parties and which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partisan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

NAVAL.—The following officers have been transferred from the Receiving ship Ohio to the new gunboat Sebago at Portsmouth: Acting Masters, James F. Anderson, Benjamin Byer and William H. Mallard; Acting Master's Mates, William Manning, R. B. Hines, Jas. C. Gibney and Edward D. Martin.

Lieut. P. C. Pope, of the United States Marine Corps, now stationed at the Charlestown Navy Yard, has been ordered to Port Royal, S. C., for duty at that place, under command of Major John G. Reynolds.

☞ A Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, in referring to the appropriations recently made, says:—

Mr. Marston secured an appropriation for making a valuable addition to the Navy Yard at Portsmouth by the purchase of Seavey's Island, (which is to cost $14,500) fitting up the buildings thereon for hospitals, and the construction of a coal wharf with sheds. The purchase of this island was recommended by the board of five officers appointed a few years since to examine the different yards.

An appropriation had passed the House of $10,000 at each of the Navy Yards at Portsmouth and Charlestown for building "futtock saw mills;" but Mr. Sedgwick of Syracuse, N. Y., stated that a gentleman residing in the vicinity of those yards had called his attention to the proposed expenditure as unnecessary. No one seemed to know what "futtock saw mills" are, so the item was stricken out, with the understanding that it can be restored, if it can be shown that they are necessary, and that Mr. Sedgwick's volunteer informant was mistaken.

☞ Our readers should not forget that Rev. J. C. Fletcher is to give one of his entertaining and instructive lectures at the Temple this, Wednesday, evening.

☞ A salute was fired from Fort McClary, Kittery, Me., on Monday afternoon, in honor of the recent Union victories. A salute was fired at Fort Constitution on Tuesday.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday,—Wm. Hussey, for being drunk in Congress Street, was fined $2 and costs $2.92.

THE RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPER. — The first religious publication in the United States was commenced in Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1st, 1808, under the name of the Herald of Gospel Liberty, by Elias Smith, and is still continued with the same title at Newburyport. It was designed to advance the Christian Baptist cause against the Calvinists, and did good work in that direction. This first labor for Gospel Liberty was the step to other liberty for Mr. Smith, who embraced several creeds, until, as Dr. Peabody said at the Portsmouth Printers' celebration, in 1858, there were as many that claimed him as there were cities that claimed to be the birthplace of Homer. He was a plain but earnest man, and dealt severe blows in his early contest for freedom. He says, in the first number of his paper, "A religious Newspaper is almost a new thing under the sun; I know not but this is the first ever published in the world." We have seen a file of the first volume, saved among the papers of an early admirer of Mr. Smith, that is really an interesting relic. It was accompanied by an autobiography of Mr. Smith, also a treasured relic, that gives an honest and fair history of his struggles and changes, showing him to be a conscientious if not consistent man.—The papers and book have been given to the Boston Public Library by John G. Loring, Esq.—Sat. Eve. Gaz.

In Portsmouth, N. H., live 90 men, whose ages range from 75 to 95; 53 women who are above 80, and 7 above 90 years old.—Other similar statistics show that Portsmouth people must be of the sort to whom the Scripture has promised that their days shall be long in the land.—N. Y. Argus.

CONGRESS.—A dispatch, received by Gen. McClellan, announcing the capture of Fort Donelson, was read in both Houses, on Monday, and greeted with loud applause. In the Senate, a petition from citizens of New York was presented, asking that the full rank of Major General be conferred upon Gen. Wool. The resolution in regard to the Oregon war debt was passed. The bill for the better organization of the army was taken up. The number of cavalry regiments was reduced from 50 to 40, and after further discussion the bill was laid over.

In the House the bill for the establishment of a Department of Agriculture was passed—152 against 7. The salary of the commissioners is reduced to 3000. The Senate bill making an appropriation for the signal service of the army was passed.

Some wags in Middleton, Ct., immediately after being drafted by the Selectmen, procured a copy of the summons, and having some printed, proceeded to serve them on the inhabitants generally, and sending many off to Middletonians residing in other places. The result was a great deal of unnecessary sickness.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.
Patented June 25, 1861.
This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.
Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.
Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.
Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.
Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.
These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS
Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume a little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.
Price 50 cents each.
COLE'S COMET BURNER,
A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

WHAT CAME OF A COTTON HANDKERCHIEF.—Within a few weeks there died in one of the towns of Bristol county a man leaving property to the amount of $60,000, who in his youthful days was the owner of a nine-penny cotton handkerchief, which, like many an object of more importance, has its own history. Upon one balmy day in August, when wortleberries were thick and mosquitoes plenty, he, in company with other juveniles of either sex, made an excursion for the berries. Among them was one rosy lass who was exceedingly annoyed by the numerous bills presented, and whose white neck rebelled against their acceptance; but nevertheless the aforesaid cotton flag was offered and accepted as a protection, worn home and that night thrown aside and forgotten.

The girl grew into womanhood, married, and was happy in her forgetfulness of the "cotton loan" or its embrowned and freckled owner. Not so with him. As year succeeded year and his 'pile' increased, that investment in cotton troubled him, until not long since he made a certain resolution. The next day there was heard at the lady's door the miser's nervous knock, and without introduction or parley he reminded her of the loan which for forty years she had forgotten, and informed her that upon careful calculation of the debt, he made the loan and interest amount to the exact sum of eighty-seven cents! which he suggested perhaps she would be willing to repay. In reply he was told that it would give her pleasure to discharge her indebtedness to him for even so small a sum, and that night an addition of eighty-seven cents was made to his "pile." The foregoing incident is true.—Taunton Gazette.

☞ The allies in Mexico have refused the terms of peace offered by President Juarez. It is not peace they desire, but conquest. It may turn out that their banners are not to be "fanned by conquest's crimson wing."

☞ Secretary Stanton has issued proposals for a daily line of communication between Fortress Monroe and Port Royal and Hatteras and Roanoke Island, by light, swift steam packets.

☞ On Wednesday, a son of Mr. J. N. Crossly, in Bridgewater, Mass., was thrown from a sled on which he was sliding down hill, and fatally injured.

It appears after all that the Southern Commissioners have been denied any space in the Great London Exhibition.

A lively imagination is a great gift, provided education tutors it; if not, it is nothing but a soil equally luxuriant for all kinds of seeds.

☞ The iron clad gunboat built at Mystic, Conn., was successfully launched on Friday.

A man should be cautious about what he says in jest, lest it should be repeated as if said in earnest.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions; and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the legal or other advisers of twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Thus, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made or was rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that their orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Advertising.

For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $5, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.

Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.

Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising

☞ The Portland Courier, which is sold at two cents a copy, states that, a gentleman, who kept in mind Franklin's axiom that "a penny saved is a penny earned," tried to induce one of their carriers to tear off the telegraph portion of the paper, and sell it to him for one cent. The boy couldn't see it in the right light and declined the offer.

☞ A Southerner who had secured the engraving and printing of about $300,000 of Confederate scrip at Chicago, for which he paid the lithographer $300, was arrested the other day just as he was coming out of the shop with his bundle of scrip. The article was of course confiscated, and the fellow not only loses that, but the $300 paid for its manufacture.

A friend of ours has a very knowing little mare which has raised several colts, and for the past two weeks she has had a young calf tied beside her. Singularly enough, the mare seemed to regard the calf as her colt and bestowed upon "bos" all the affection of a mother. She would caress it after the manner of her kind, and if little bos was led away, would manifest the most violent demonstrations of anxiety and unhappiness, rearing, pawing and neighing in the most passionate manner. When taken from the barn for water, if little bos bleated, she would escape if possible and rush with frantic haste to his side. In short, not one mare in fifty appears so doatingly fond of her colt, as did this one of the calf. And little bos seemed to be equally fond of his adopted mother, manifesting his unhappiness if she was taken away as calves usually do.—Portland Argus.

☞ The price of pork in Montreal is lower than it has been for eighteen years, a grievous fact for Canadian farmers, arising from the war between the North and South, which shuts western produce out of the slave states, and deluges Canada and Europe with it.

☞ About 30,000 hogsheads of molasses have been used in the Portland sugar house the past year, producing 50,000 barrels of sugar and 15,000 hogsheads of syrup.—One hundred and fifty workmen are employed in the various departments, and the monthly pay roll is about $4000.

NOAH A SCIENTIFIC SHIPBUILDER.—A scientific periodical states that fifty years' theory, and at least half that period of practical knowledge, has elicited, for the best proportions for steam vessels, the following result: Length of keel, 1; breadth of beam, 1-6; depth of vessel, 1-10. The dimensions of Noah's ark were: Length, 300 cubits, say 1; breadth, 50 cubits, say 1-6; height, 30 cubits, say 1-10. The proportions are identical. Here's a nut for those who never tire of talking of the progress made in the science of shipbuilding.

☞ The Springfield armory is in a very efficient operation. It employs 1,400 men, and during the month of January it turned out 10,500 guns. The total number in six months was 44,072.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1862.

GREAT REJOICING.—All good citizens rejoice at the success of the Federal arms at the South and West; and all humane people must deplore the inevitable loss of life on both sides, in this fratricidal war.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce in a late letter makes the following statements, which are eagerly copied by other papers of the same character, i. e. half rebel. The correspondent says:—

"It is a noticeable fact that when the bulletins of victory are read in the Senate or in the House, there are no demonstrations of satisfaction on the part of the more ultra Republicans. While some of these gentlemen evince great anxiety to deprive the region now in arms against the United States Government of all State Sovereignty, and to so abolish all local laws and institutions as to emancipate those held in slavery, there appears to be little gratification at any success calculated to restore the Union as it was."

One of these papers asks, "Is it so?."—Uncle Toby answers that he believes the gentleman lies under a mistake. The mistake is only a little one, however, for the first statement is not that these more ultra men have no satisfaction, but only that they made no demonstrations of it!

The second statement is like it, viz.: there appears to be little gratification among these same ultras.

What do these statements amount to then? Only to this: the correspondent did not see the ultras toss up their caps, nor hear them give three cheers, when the good news came: and wishing to say something bad about them, his jaundiced views painted them yellow, and his jealousy, "that green eyed monster," induced him to pen this item of weak surmise and mean insinuation.

What we see here among ourselves, however, stamps falsehood on these surmises; and late events at Washington do the same thing. The people here, who do not rejoice, are only those in sympathy with the rebels. All others do; republicans of all colors, war democrats and abolitionists, radicals and conservatives. Our home traitors chuckled over the battle at Bull Run,—but they are rather silent now.

In the U. S. Senate, when the news of our great victory at Fort Donelson was made known, Vice President Hamlin, rose, and cheers came from the galleries as well as the floor:

"Vice President Hamlin, beaming with joy, said to the crowd in the galleries, which checked its hazzaing at his rising from his seat, 'it is order to in hurrah—it is in order, boys!'"

This was certainly a demonstration, and Mr. Hamlin is an ultra republican.

☞ Saturday next, February 22d, is the anniversary of Washington's birth, and in view of the recent series of brilliant victories achieved by our gallant soldiers over traitors and rebels, it seems peculiarly appropriate that the day should be celebrated in a marked public manner,—more joyously and more universally than has heretofore been the case.

Such a celebration is announced to be made in many of the cities and towns in the North, and the birth-day of the "Father of his country" is to be commemorated by Congress by the reading of Washington's Farewell Address, and the presentation of some of the flags captured at Forts Henry and Donelson.

We trust that our own citizens will unite on that day, to celebrate the birth-day of him who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his fellow-countrymen," as well as to rejoice in the success of our armies. Let the Stars and Stripes once more be flung to the breeze, and let the ringing of bells and the firing of cannon, at least, attest the joy of a true and loyal people at the success of the People's army.

☞ A Wheeling, Va., dispatch says the Constitutional Convention adjourned Tuesday evening. The Free State measure was defeated. Commissioners, however, were appointed, with power to re-assemble the Convention, in case the new State is not recognized by Congress. This provision is supposed to look to a free State.

There was great rejoicing there over the Fort Donelson news. Gen. Rosecrans ordered a National salute to be fired at an early hour.

☞ Some persons have wondered how Floyd and Pillow could steal away by night from Fort Donelson, with 5000 men, and neither Gen. Buckner nor our troops know it till morning. The wonder ceases when we learn that the rebels had entrenchments and possessions for five miles, mostly on the river.

☞ On Tuesday, George C. Hersey, convicted last spring of causing the death of Betsey Frances Tirrell of Hingham, Mass., by administering strychnine, was sentenced to be hung, at such time as the Executive of Massachusetts shall determine.

Men do not seem to be much nearer to happiness for having everything else.

THE REBELLION.

A St. Louis dispatch says no officer in the army had any idea of Fort Donelson's defences, until they had been gained and examined. Some of the rebel officers captured there, are Cols. Gautt, Voorhies, Forrest, Brown and Abernethy. The rebel surgeons place their loss at between 300 and 400 killed, and double that number wounded. Gen. Grant energetically orders a speedy movement to still greater victories. The rebel officers assert that Gen. Johnston will concentrate every available soldier of his command at Nashville, and make a desperate attempt to retrieve the misfortunes of the past.

The following dispatch is from headquarters:—

"Major General McClellan.—The flag of the Union is floating in Arkansas. Gen. Curtis has driven Price from Missouri, and is several miles across the Arkansas line, cutting up Price's rear and hourly capturing prisoners and stores. The army of the Southwest is doing its duty nobly.

W. H. HALLECK,
Major General."

Gen. Cullum, Chief of Gen. Halleck's Staff, will go to the Cumberland for the prisoners captured at Fort Donelson. Seven thousand will be sent to Chicago, and the balance to Springfield, Illinois, and Indianapolis. Five hundred of the wounded will go to Cincinnati, and the balance to St. Louis.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says Gen. McClellan was asked on Tuesday, by a Cabinet official, if he had any news of the capture of Clarksville, and he replied "nothing—let the army have one day's rest and we will give all the news you want."

The Secretary of War has referred the case of Gen. Stone to Gen. McClellan, and the latter has ordered a court martial, but the court has not yet been organized, and it is a question whether it will be during the present active operations.

Com. Du Pont writes to Washington that in a few days from the date of his writing a most brilliant victory may be expected from his expedition.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says that Gen. Lander's resignation has not been received, and the people who know his impatience for a fight pray it may not come.

The latest accounts from Missouri represent our forces as only a short distance behind Price's main body, and entering Arkansas Sunday night. They would close up the next morning.

A Cairo dispatch says Col. Bufford, with a small reconnoitering party down the river, when within four miles of Columbus, heard heavy but irregular firing, and saw a heavy cloud of smoke. He believes the rebels are di smounting their guns prepara toy io evacuating the place.

A dispatch from Fort Donelson says two more rebel regiments were captured on Wednesday. Numbers of rebel troops came in and delivered themselves up. It was currently reported that Gov. Harris, of Tennessee, had ordered all Tennesseans to lay down their arms.

FOREIGN.—Steamship Kangaroo, from Liverpool 5th, and Queenstown 6th, arrived at New York on Wednesday.

The Tuscarora left Cowes on Thursday morning, 6th inst., for the westward.

At the annual meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, the blocking up of Charleston harbor was strongly denounced, but continued non intervention was generally approved. A letter was read from Mr. Cobden showing the paramount importance of settling belligerent rights, and the necessity for England agreeing to the American doctrine relative to private property at sea.

Mr. Bright, in a speech at Birmingham, denied that the American blockade was ineffective, and ridiculed the idea that America was in a position to be trampled on.—He pointed out the danger of interference, and strongly urged strict neutrality.

It is stated that Minister Adams does not conceal his indignation at Earl Russell's late letter to the Admiralty, relative to the use of British ports. There is also considerable difference of opinion in political circles as to the policy and propriety of the act.

CONGRESS.—The two Houses of Congress Tuesday, adopted a joint resolution to illuminate the public buildings on Saturday evening, in honor of the recent victories.—The Senate discussed the case of Mr. Starke of Oregon, who, yet resting under the imputation of disloyalty, has not been allowed to take his seat. The case was not decided. Resolutions from the Legislature of Wisconsin were presented and referred, in favor of relief to Ireland from famine, and referring to her brave sons winning glory for us on the battle fields.

The House unanimously passed a vote of thanks to Commodore Dupont for the Port Royal victory; also to the army and navy for the victory at Fort Donelson. The Senate's amendment to the fortification bill was concurred in. As a mark of respect for the killed and of sympathy for the wounded in battle, the House then adjourned.

☞ S. C. Mills, publisher, and Thos. S. Piggott, editor of the notorious rebel sheet, The South, published at Baltimore, have been arrested and taken to Fort McHenry.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

"Thy spirit, INDEPENDENCE, let me share;
Lord of the lion heart and eagle eye!—
Thy steps I'll follow with my bosom bare,
Nor heed the storm that howls along the sky!"

Messrs. Editors:—I request of you the privilege of making, through your independent and influential journal, an expose of certain facts connected with the proceedings of the Rockingham County Republican Convention, recently holden at Exeter; and a comparison of the same with those of the said Convention holden two years ago. My object is, to call the attention of the honest men of the Republican party to an act alike dishonorable to those who assisted in its preparation, and insulting to the party to which they profess an attachment. That the writer of this communication—who I apprehend will easily be guessed—should feel a peculiar sensitiveness on account of this outrage,—for so he regards it,—not only to himself, but to the whole Republican party, will not, I opine, occasion surprise.

When first informed of the action of the last Convention, relative to the selection of a candidate for Register of Deeds, I am free to confess that I was both amazed and indignant. This feeling, I make no doubt, will cause no surprise in the minds of those who are posted with regard to the proceedings of the Convention two years ago; and that this same feeling is shared by a large majority of the voters of Rockingham County, I have good reasons for believing. It will be remembered by all those conversant with the proceedings of the Convention which first put in nomination the present incumbent of the office in question, that the principal, and in fact, so far as I know and believe, the only arguments put forth by the friends of the present Register for a change of officers was, that the principle of rotation, in connection with that office in particular, ought to be carried out. So clamorous, and apparently so sincere, were those who endorsed this sentiment, that the Convention finally gave in, and the change was accordingly made. The numerous friends of the former incumbent acquiesced, not because they approved of the measure, but because their opposition evidently would avail nothing. They supposed, as a matter of course, that the covenant would be kept in good faith, and that the principle of rotation would thereafter be rigidly adhered to and kept inviolate. Now the convention forces hold off upon my mind, as I have no doubt it will upon the minds of all those who will investigate the matter, that the action of those who were so boisterous for a change on the principle before mentioned, was concluded upon and designed to deceive the opponents of the dogma. It was a piece of political jugglery without a parallel in this section. They made the sentiments, as the sequel shows, their hobby-horse, and on it they rode triumphantly into power. So earnest and enthusiastic were these Simon Pures of Republicanism, that in order to show to the world their complete devotion to the great principle with which they were filled, even to overflowing, a resolution embodying the same was offered in the convention and decisively carried, virtually pledging themselves by its adoption, to be governed in future, so far as the office of Register is concerned, by the principle of rotation.

This immaculate clique then and there, as it were, built them an altar, and inscribing thereon "in letters of living light," "ROTATION IN OFFICE," they, perforce, seized the then Register and offered him up as a holy sacrifice! Bowing themselves they shouted aloud, 'Great is the fundamental principle!' Now, alas, "a change has come over the spirit of their dream." The cup which they presented two years ago, when put to their own lips is rejected, turned aside with loathing. In short, it is clearly apparent that the cry of "rotation" then so fondly cherished, so strongly advocated, was only meant to bring about the nomination of their favorite candidate. It was merely a ruse, whereby they succeeded in the accomplishment of their wishes.

Now, Mr. Editor, I desire to put the question to the honest men of the republican party, "Is this fair play? Is it honorable? How long, think you, will the party in this section, hold its ascendancy, if knavery and treachery, such as I have exposed, be permitted to go unrebuked? From the muttered thunder which I hear wheresoever I go, provoked by this most dishonorable deed, I am led to believe that the honest men of the republican party, with which I have for the past eight years uniformly and conscientiously acted, will show at the ballot-box at no distant day, their righteous contempt for corruption and hypocrisy, whatever shape it may assume. I would tell the gentlemen by whose efforts the present Register was re-nominated for a second term, and who, by so doing, have repudiated the principle of rotation, so delightful to them, so sacred even, two years ago, but now ignored and trampled upon, that unless they in some way undo what they have done, they will, ere long, have to meet the stern condemning verdict of an indignant constituency.

"If you rear this house against this house,
It will the wofullest division prove.
* * * * * * * * * * *
Prevent it; resist it: let it not be so,
Lest an insulted people cry against you—wo!"

Stratham Hill, Feb. 15, 1862.

☞ Fifty flags, being the whole number there, were flying at Cape Race, on Tuesday, as a token of satisfaction at the glorious victory at Fort Donelson. It gave great satisfaction there generally.

COTTON COMING DOWN.—The New York Price Current of the 17th inst., states that the price of cotton has fallen eleven cents per pound since the first of January.

☞ We are indebted to A. Williams & Co., agents for Harper & Brothers' Publications, for the March number of the Continental Magazine. For sale in this city by J. H. Foster.

☞ The students of Bowdoin College, at Brunswick, Maine, illuminated the college buildings on Tuesday night, in honor of our glorious victories. Bells were also rung, with other demonstrations of joy.

A special despatch from Leavenworth, dated February 14th, says that after several interviews between Generals Lane and Hunter it is evident that amicable arrangements are impossible. Gen. Lane will return to the Senate without delay.

☞ The flags lately captured from the rebels are to be presented to Congress in the hall of the House of Representatives, on the 22d inst., immediately after the reading of Washington's Farewell Address.—Adjutant General Thomas is to make the presentation.

☞ The capture of Fort Donelson is the beginning of the end of the rebellion; though only one of many movements, it is the decisive blow that settles the matter.—The Fort was as strong in its position as a place could be, and of the utmost strategic importance.

☞ A dispatch from Philadelphia says: "There is a rumor, said to have come from Washington, that Stephens of Georgia has resigned the Vice Presidency of rebeldom, and favors a return to the Union. Very little confidence can be placed in it."

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—The question, "What is that problem in which all mankind are most deeply interested, that may be proved beyond doubt or contradiction, capable of being shown by certain evidence, or by evidence that admits of no doubt, as the principles of geometry are demonstrable, yet has never been demonstrated by any of mankind?" published in the Chronicle of the 23d ult, with the request that it might be answered by some one of its readers, not having received its answer, though two have essayed to do so;—and as the subject of inquiry invites theological criticism, and the answer, when made in conformity to fact, will show the problem and a correct understanding of it to be of infinite moment to all, and is theopneustic in its origin, evidence of which will evolve from the answer given, as certain as the principles of geometry are demonstrable; we now propose the question to theologians, especially to religious teachers, reminding them in christian kindness that one of the qualifications of a bishop is that he be "apt to teach,"—I Tim. 3: 2.

A SUBSCRIBER.

"IO TRIUMPHE!"

Hail to the dear old flag!
Joy for the country's cause!
Cheers for the brave who fight to save
The Union and the laws!

Hark to the tidings glad
That greet our ears to-day!
Rebellion's night and storm and blight
Are vanishing away!

Tears for the noble dead,
Amid our peans grand!
The youth and pride who bravely died
To save our native land!

Glory to God, whose arm
Is with us in the fight!
Who leads us on till victory's won
For justice, truth and right.

Hail to the dear old flag!
Joy for the country's cause!
Cheers for the brave who fight to save
The Union and the laws!

THE VICTORY

"O! who that shared them, ever shall forget
The emotions of the spirit rousing time,
When breathless in the mart the couriers met,
Early and late, at evening and at prime—
When the loud cannon and the merry chime
HAIL'D NEWS ON NEWS, AS FIELD ON FIELD WAS WON—
When Hope, long doubtful, scar'd at length sublime,
And our glad eyes, awake as day begun,
Watch'd Joy's broad banner rise, to meet the rising sun;
* * * * * * * * * * *
O! those were hours when thrilling joy repaid
A long, long course of darkness, doubts, and fears!—
The heart-sick faintness of the hope delay'd—
* * * * * * * * * * *
When many a fortress, town or tower was won,
And Fame still sounded forth fresh deeds of glory done."

—Scott.

☞ Never was there a surrender anything like that of Fort Donelson on our continent. Burgoyne gave up less than six thousand men, and Cornwallis but little over seven thousand. In fact, we should have to read long in European history before we should find a capitulation on a scale like it.

☞ The news relating to the war and giving accounts of Union victories crowds upon us so that there is dangur our people may lose sight of the immense work before them. While every heart may well take courage, let no one be deluded with the idea that much blood must not yet be shed.

☞ Sagadahoc county, Maine, in 1855, had twenty-two Counsellors at Law; of this number nine have since died,—a mortality which, it is thought, is not equalled in the State or New England, either in the legal or any other profession.

☞ Eight brown stone houses in Madison avenue, N. Y., sold last week at prices varying from $19,000 to $23,400. Six months ago it cost $30,000 to build each of these houses.

Union Ticket.

For Governor,
PAUL J. WHEELER, of Newport.

For Railroad Commissioner.
JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partisan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere pasion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport, and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MONTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

☞ Our N. Y. correspondent "Newington" scissors for us the following sprightly verses on MASON AND SLIDELL.

Air—"Poor Robinson Crusoe."

Once the Southern Confeds
Put together their heads
To hatch out a scheme for procuring
From England and France,
At the very first chance,
Relief from the ills they're enduring.
They called upon Mason and Slidell,
Who always together had fled well,
Saying, "Visit John Bull,
Who is easy to gull
If with cotton an Battery plied well."

The couple set out
In a vessel about
As fit for the purpose as could be;
It ran the blockade
And a passage it made
To Cuba, the neutral that would be.
We're safe, says old Mason and Slidell,
The Yankee blockade we've dodged well,
And will sail in the Trent
That, according to Kent,
Is exempt or a law that is tried well.

Away went the Trent
With her canvas all bent
And rebel decoys for her cargo;
But the big Yankee guns
Of a sloop of some tons
Soon brought her up under embargo.
O! for poor Mason and Slidell;
They aware, and their families cried well;
But Wilkes was no goose,
And he took their abuse,
And shipped them together for Bridewell.

John Bull, when he heard,
To the action demanded
And grew most amazingly crusty,
Saying, Lincoln, my blade,
A mistake you have made—
The men given back to me must be.
O! for poor Mason and Slidell,
Their palaver indeed has tried well;
Like pieces of meat
'Twixt two dogs in the street,
From one to the other they slide well.

Then Seward sat down
And he wrote to the crown,
With wonderful coolness, a letter,
Saying, "Here are the chaps,
And you'll find out, perhaps,
Without them the Union is better."
O! for poor Mason and Slidell,
They only emerged from their Bridewell,
To show to the land
What an excellent hand
Is Seward at making things tide well.

When the Britishers learned
That the chaps were returned,
They grew at their bargain quite huffy,
And observed that the "fellows" were worthy of liberal contempt, like black Cuffy.
O! for poor Mason and Slidell,
Just coming like martyrs from Bridewell:
Now wasn't it hard,
After all that they'd dared?
And didn't it cut up their pride well?

John Bull, furthermore,
Like a trooper he swore,
It wouldn't pay, nowhow you'd fix it,
To kick up a breeze
For such fellows as these;
And that is John Bull's ipse dixit.
O! for poor Mason and Slidell,
Their snubbing so morally can hide well,
For the very First Families ain't worth a damnging war with the Union that's tried well.

Our story is told,
But a moral behold
In treason's last pitiful revel.
The "fellows" are used,
First deprecated, then abused,
And now they may go to the devil—
Opponent of new Masons and Slidells,
To be blundering into new Bridewells,
And then taken out
For the very first lout
Who boasts of the Navy denied Wallet!

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent described by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and the files of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents; as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—The St. Paul, Min., Pioneer, relates a sad story of the sufferings of a woman and her grandson (a little boy about twelve years of age,) on the night of the 30th ult., on a prairie below Hastings. The woman and boy started from Hastings early in the evening, for home, a distance of four or five miles, and were driven in a sleigh going in that direction, to within half a mile of her residence, and left to go the rest of the way on foot. The next day the woman's son went to Hastings to bring his mother home, and learned that she had started the previous evening. Search was made and the woman was found partly buried under the snow within a few rods of her residence, frozen to death. The little boy was also found near her, insensible, with his hands and feet badly frozen. Upon recovering his senses, he said his grandmother got lost in the snow, and called for help, but was not heard. When she became too much benumbed to proceed further, she took off some of her clothing and wrapped it around the boy, thus probably saving his life. It is thought the boy will recover without the loss of his limbs.

HEALTH AND SICKNESS.—A Report to the Secretary of War of the operations of the Sanitary Commission, and upon the Sanitary condition of the Volunteer Army, its Medical Staff and Hospital Supplies, made Dec., '61, contains interesting and instructive matter upon the general heads above indicated. The surgeon of one regiment says, "to keep a soldier healthy you must confine him to plain and regular rations." Some of the soldiers would throw away their rations and live on "sutler's trash," such as pies, cakes, &c. The result was camp diarrhœa, dysentery, and all their concomitant evils.' Who shall say that a large proportion of the sickness in the homes of the country, as well as in the camps, is not produced by such "trash," partaken of instead of plain and wholesome food?

No fact in sanitary science, says the report, is better established than this, that old buildings, such as hotels, academies, storehouses, &c., are, from their want of systematic ventilation and other reasons, most unfit to be used as hospitals on any large scale; and that even in inclement weather, tents or the rudest shanties are preferable!! This is the experience. How many sufferers in the homes of the country, are killed for want of enough fresh air to breathe!

PITT'S CAREER.—It is true Pitt died broken-hearted; but public affairs were never too much for him till he gave up the only chance of health by giving up temperance and prudence in his personal affairs. His debts worried him, and port wine killed him. Pitt could bear everything before he was harassed by debt and weakened by the maladies which grow out of excess in wine. The account of Fox must be somewhat different. The wonder is, not that he died dropsical at fifty-seven, but that he lived so long in reckless habits of wine, play, and debt. In those men scholarship could have no more than an ameliorating effect. To see its true operation, we must study the fine examples which modern history presents of aged statesmen who have triumphed over care and irritation, and kept their freshness of mind and serenity of mood to the last.—Miss Martineau.

A SHARP TRICK.—It is stated that "Old Sharp," the celebrated maker of articles from the Shakspeare "mulberry tree," of which as many were sold as would have taken a small forest to supply, used, when disposing of a curious article, to place his hand upon a piece of the real tree, which was affixed to his bench, and say, "I solemnly swear that I hold in my hand a portion of the tree which Shakespeare himself planted." The trick succeeded admirably, and Old Sharp died very rich, but on his deathbed he confessed that he had deceived thousands.

THE PENNANT.—This emblem of authority owes its origin to the following circumstances:—"The Dutch Admiral Van Tromp, was so elated with the successful result of the battle fought on the 29th of November, 1752, near the Goodwin Sands, that he hoisted a broom at the masthead, thus intimating his resolve to sweep the seas of all English shipping. This bravado induced the English Admiral, Blake, to hoist a pennant, or whip, thereby signifying his determination to chastise the Dutch Admiral for his arrogant temerity."

The Persians have a saying, that "ten measures of talk were sent down upon the earth, and the women took nine."

☞ A Miss Ford attempted to commit suicide at Ellsworth Me., on Wednesday by taking strychnine.

Willis says there are in the army some Generals, who only deserve their titles because "they are nothing in particular."

One of the best things for a man to invest in is the good-will of his fellow men.

THE DIFFERENCE.—In warm and dry weather, slippers become a woman. In icy weather, woman becomes a slipper.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1862.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY. — The following proclamation has been issued:

By the Pres't of the U. S.—A Proclamation

It is recommended to the people of the United States that they assemble in their customary places of meeting for public solemnities, on Saturday, the 22d day of February instant, and celebrate the anniversary of the Birth of the Father of his Country, by causing to be read to them his immortal Farewell Address.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States. ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

WM. H. SEWARD, Sec. of State.

THE ISLAND OF ANTIGUA

is a speck of land in the ocean, with a moderate population, mixed in the proportion of ten per cent. of white Englishmen to 90 per cent. of other hues.

Antigua is a British West India island, of the Leeward group. It is of an oval shape, and contains an area of 70,000 acres, of which about 60,000 are highly cultivated. It was first settled by the British in 1632, who began the cultivation of tobacco. It has no rivers, and is remarkable for dryness of climate; yet away from the coast the soil is very rich, and produces abundance of sugar. The legislation is intrusted to a governor, a council of 12, who are nominated by the crown, and a house of assembly of 24 members, chosen by the freeholders. The governor also acts as chancellor of the court of equity. It is garrisoned by a military force. This island was discovered by Columbus in 1493, and was the first which modified the British criminal law with regard to slaves, by affording such of them as were accused the benfit of trial by jury. The legislature of this ial and totally abolished slavery in 1834, without imposing any conditions upon the emancipated, and in 1847 the governor reported that the material condition of the emancipated race was most prosperous. Antigua is regarded as a remarkably beautiful and healthful island. The temperature is remarkably uniform, seldom varying more than 4° in 24 hours. Its chief towns are St. Johns, which is the capital, Falmouth, and Parham. The property annually produced is estimated at £1,000,000.

Antigua is about eighteen miles long and fifteen broad; the interior is low and undulating, the coast mountainous. From the heights on the coast the whole island may be taken in at one view, and in a clear day the ocean can be seen entirely around the land, with the exception of a few miles of cliff in one quarter. The population of Antigua is about 37,000, of whom 30,000 are negroes—lately slaves—4500 are free people of color, and 2500 are whites.

The cultivation of the island is principally to sugar, of which the average annual crop is 15,000 hogsheads. Antigua is one of the oldest of the British West India colonies, and ranks high in importance and influence. Owing to the proportion of proprietors resident in the island, there is an accumulation of talent, intelligence and refinement, greater, perhaps, than in any English colony, excepting Jamaica.

It will be seen from these facts that no preparation at all was needed there for freedom, tho' three quarters of the people were slaves, and nine-tenths colored. Also that no outbreaks or calamities came in consequence of immediate emancipation.

☞ The London Observer, in an article relative to a telegraph between Europe and America, says it was reported that Mr. Cyrus W. Field had undertaken a mission to England with the view of urging the British Government to second the proposal of Mr. Lincoln and his Cabinet. It says the American Government has offered to subscribe one-half the amount required, and to grant the use of its ships to assist in laying down the wire, provided the British Government will defray the remaining portion of the necessary outlay. It is added that no objection will be made to the selection of British territory as the transatlantic terminus of the cable.

Both Delaware and Western Virginia have rejected the propositions to make them free states. The suppression of the rebellion in Tennessee, while it does so much for the Union, will soon allow another state to have a full representation in Congress, to vote against emancipation acts. Those who think emancipation in disunion better than Union without emancipation, have no reason to rejoice over the recent victories.—They put far away the object which they desire.—Herald.

☞ America Burnham left Essex, Mass., about three months since, on a visit to Richmond, Va., to prophesy the downfall of this nation. He has not been heard from since his departure.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— There is a lady at Deerfield, one hundred and three years old—Mrs. Jenkins. She is smart and active, makes her own bed, and knits stockings. Last autumn she attended a military muster, was received with all the honors due to the rank of a Major General, reviewed a regiment, and was escorted to the field and home, by a cavalry company under Capt. King.

—— The Ballot states that James H. Norris, agent of the Exeter Manufacturing Company, and a Miss Helen Lord, an operative in the mill when it was in operation, both mysteriously disappeared from Exeter about eight weeks ago,—and it is supposed that the case is one of elopement, and that the couple have gone to hide their iniquity in some distant locality. Mr. Norris is a fine looking man of about fifty years of age, very gentlemanly in deportment, and possessed of social qualities which made him a welcome guest in many families of the highest respectability. He leaves a wife and a family of grown-up sons and daughters in Monmouth, Me., where he owns a good house; and one of his sons is postmaster of the town. He had been employed in Exeter for two years at a salary of $1500 a year of which he has probably saved enough to locate comfortably in a new home. Miss Lord is a young woman some 22 or 25 yrs. of age, daughter of a respectable shoemaker living on the Plains in Exeter. The Ballot says she has no claims to beauty, and no accomplishments calculated to attract, her education being very limited. She was regarded as a clever, honest and industrious girl, whose reputation stood fair until her intimacy with the factory agent subjected her to suspicion.

—— A correspondent of the Boston Journal, writing from Hilton Head Island, S. C., says, "sweet-briar roots of a bulbous nature abound on Hilton Head Island, and the soldiers indulge themselves in making pipe bowls, both unique and fantastically carved, in a great variety of styles. We saw one yesterday—a nicely carved and finely finished pipe bowl, stem and mouthpiece—which was sent home in the Atlantic to-day, to be presented to Gov. N. S. Berry, of New Hampshire. It was the workmanship of private J. T. Blaisdell, Co. B, 3d Regt., N. H. V. The design of the bowl resembles very much the form of the Calla Lilly with the initials N. S. B. engraved thereon. It is a present from Commissary Thompson of that regiment."

—— On Sunday, the 9th inst., Mrs. Bedee, of Lancaster, was very seriously burned at her son's house, during the absence of the family at church. The fire caught her dress while she was passing the hearth of a stove, and spread rapidly over and among her clothes. Failing to extinguish it with water, which chanced to be near, she with great presence of mind, rushed out of the house and buried herself in the snow. The burns, though very severe, are not considered dangerous.

☞ None of the English journals say anything of the kindness shown to the British troops, destined for Canada, by allowing them to land at Portland, and proceed through the State of Maine to British America.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

AN ONLY SON. — This is the title of one of the "Tales of the Living Age," which has just been published in one volume by Littell, Son & Co., Boston. We have not yet had time to examine it critically, yet the fact that it has been deemed worthy of publication in the Living Age,—which gathers together so many of the good things of modern English and American literature,—is a strong recommendation for it.—For sale in Boston by A. Williams & Co., and in this city by J. F. Shores, Jr.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE.—We have received from the publishers the January and February numbers of this magazine, and having examined them with some care we can most cordially recommend the publication to those of our readers who desire one marked by high-toned morality and sound common-sense. Published by T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia. Terms $2 per year, in advance: four copies for one year, $5.

THE PUNISHMENT OF COWARDICE.—Complaints having been made by Gen. Lander of the misconduct of an officer under his command, and the matter referred to the Secretary of War, the following instructions were given:

"If Gen. Lander is satisfied that Col. Amranzel was guilty of cowardice or misbehavior before the enemy, he may be tried on the spot, and if found guilty the sentence of death may be executed on the spot, or he may be cashiered by his commanding General at the head of his regiment. The former course is recommended as the preferable one. Cowardice in an officer exhibited on the field of battle should receive the swift punishment of death.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Sec. of War.

War Department, Feb. 16, 1862.

☞ Helen Carroll, the wife of a private in the 12th Illinois regiment, died in Chicago last week, of actual want. She was found dead in bed with her two children sleeping beside her, unconscious of their mother's fate.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Halleck, on Wednesday telegraphed to Gen. McClellan, that Gen. Curtis had captured Gen. Price, Col. Dorsey, Col. Cass and Capt. Judge, of Gen. Price's Staff. A Sedalia, Mo., dispatch, however, says Brig. Gen. Edward Price, Col. Phillips, Maj. Cross, and Capt. Crosby, were captured near Warsaw on Monday night, and had been brought there,—which is the correct account.

The great fire which was seen up the river from Fort Donelson was caused by the burning of the Tennessee rolling mills, four miles from there, by our gunboats.—The works had been used by the rebels in the manufacture of shot and shell and other war materials. It was an extensive concern. Gen. Grant has promulgated a most stringent order against plundering from inhabitants, also against stealing property taken in battle. Floyd's brigade, fearing that they might be taken, threw all their arms into the river. The crews of the gunboats are engaged in fishing them out. Capt. Dixon, the rebel chief of artillery, and the engineer who constructed the fortifications, was killed in the bombardment of Friday, in one of his own batteries. A dispatch from the Cumberland River says Clarksville is being evacuated, and the rebels are going to Nashville.

Reports from usually reliable sources say that between 300 and 400 of the Berkley county militia have deserted in a body, and are en route to cross the Potomac and join our ranks.

The report that Ex-Minister Faulkner has confessed that the policy of secession, as it has been carried out, is a failure, is confirmed by a dispatch from Frederick City.

The despatch steamer Connecticut, at New York from Port Royal 16th inst., reports that it was rumored there that Savannah would certainly be captured in two or three days. Our gunboats had cut off communication between Fort Pulaski and the city, and our forces were fortifying an island in the river, above the Fort.

Gen. Burnside's official report shows that at Roanoke Island 50 of our troops were killed and 222 wounded. The rebel loss was 13 killed and 39 wounded. All the captured rebel officers arrived at Fortress Monroe on Wednesday; the rest of the prisoners were at Roanoke Island, and Gen. Burnside was negotiating with the rebel authorities at Norfolk for their release. No further advance had been made, nor was any immediately expected. An immense amount of arms and trophies had been captured, including the splendid State flag of North Carolina, worked by ladies. Seven hundred prisoners were expected at Old Point, including Col. Corcoran.

The Union men on Saturday burnt one span of the Memphis & Charleston R. R. bridge, crossing the Tennessee river at Decatur, Ala. There are rumors of other bridges being injured by them. A gunboat which proceeded up the river from Fort Donelson to Clarksville, found the enemy abandoning the place in a panic. Two large flatboats, loaded with munitions of war were captured near Clarksville. Everything was being moved to Nashville as fast as possible, where the next rebel stand will be made. The actual number of prisoners taken at Fort Donelson was 13,300, —among them Gen. West, not before mentioned.

Gen. Halleck has received news from Fort Donelson stating that 1000 more rebels had been taken. They came down to Fort Donelson to reinforce the fort; they not knowing it was captured, were bagged.

Professor Swallow, State Geologist of Missouri, was arrested Tuesday night, and committed to the military prison.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, a joint resolution was passed, authorizing the President to present medals to enlisted men in the army, navy and marine corps, who may distinguish themselves in the present war. The bill for the better organization of the army was passed. The bill authorizes the formation and equipment of forty regiments of cavalry. In executive session, the Senate confirmed the nomination of Brig. Gen. Grant to be Major General, and of Gen. Shields and Col. Garfield to be Brigadier Generals.

In the House, Mr. Wickliffe announced the capture of Gen. Price and his army.—The information was received with loud applause. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Senate's amendments to the Treasury Note bill. After debate, the Committee rose and reported to the House, which adjourned without taking the question.

FOREIGN.—The steamship Bohemian, from Liverpool 6th, and Londonderry 7th, arrived at Portland, Thursday.

The Tuscarora left the Cowes about 9 o'clock on the morning of the 6th, and proceeded westward. The Nashville had 40 hours' start of her.

Both Houses of Parliament had voted the address in response to the Queen's speech, unanimously. The opposition approved the course of the government in the Trent affair. Lord Derby thought the Federal Government consented with very bad grace. Lord Palmerston said the distress to manufacturers from the blockade would not justify interference, and that the Government would continue a neutral course.

The Bank of France has raised the rate of discount to 4 per cent. The product of the last cotton crop was pouring into Bombay. The iron-clad steamship Warrior on her passage to Lisbon labored badly, flooding decks and cabins, and nine cases in ten not minding the helm.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the Navy Department will issue proposals immediately for building a number of steam men-of-war of various kinds. The department will withhold for the present the proposals for iron-clad steamers. The construction of gunboats will be urgently pressed.

ARMS CONCEALED BY UNION MEN.—While our gunboats were stopping at Cerro Gordo, during their trip up the Tennessee river, the Union men of the town brought their guns from hollow trees and logs in the woods, where they had been concealed from the rebels.

JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place; and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partizan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and 72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following:

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable facts of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of Local.

Shout the glad tidings, exultingly sing,
The Union, it triumphs; free government lives.

The President's proclamation recommending a general celebration of Washington's Birthday, (to-morrow,) will meet ready response in every loyal heart. We hope our citizens will all make a holiday of it, and raise all the flags, and ring all the bells, and fire all the guns, (if they like,) and illuminate all their houses or stores in the evening—which last, by the way, we hear many are going to do. The new Custom House and Post Office building would light up beautifully. Why can't we have this done, among the rest?

☞ We understand that to-morrow, being Washington's birth-day, the children of the public schools are to have a holiday.—At the Haven School House, District No. 3, Washington's Farewell Address will be read this (Friday) afternoon, by one of the scholars, and addresses from several of the clergymen of our city and others are expected. The parents and friends of the scholars are invited to be present. We wish the good example might be imitated in all our schools. **

WARD THREE.—A meeting of the Union voters of Ward Three on Wednesday evening, Feb. 19th, irrespective of political parties heretofore, assembled themselves together and duly organized the meeting by the choice of Daniel F. Smith as chairman and Charles E. Blunt as secretary.

The object of the meeting being stated by the chairman, it was on motion, voted that we proceed to the choice of a Vigilance Committee, to consist of fifteen; and the following gentlemen were duly elected, viz. Joshua Stackpole, Wm. H. Rollins, Joseph Stickney, Warren Coggswell, Charles Abbott, Geo. H. Ham, Chas. Pickering, Chas. E. Blunt, George J. Smart, Chas. Bailey, Chas. Wallace, Daniel F. Smith, Franklin B. Johnson, Horace Spinney, Jas. Pickering.

On motion, voted to choose a Committee of Finance, to consist of five: and the following gentlemen were chosen, viz.:—Wm. H. Rollins, James Pickering, Daniel F. Smith, Samuel French and Job Woodsum.

After the above business was completed, Messrs. Charles E. Blunt, Smith and Abbott addressed the meeting, and urged upon those present the importance of sustaining this Union movement, and for each one to commence the work immediately, and labor earnestly from now till after the March election, and to use all honorable means that lay in their power to elect our candidates for representatives, whoever they may be, after they are duly nominated at another meeting that is to be called hereafter; and if possible, to redeem the so-called Sebastopol of hunker Democracy from the hands of those unprincipled demagogues that now rule the same.

On motion, voted that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the Chronicle Journal.

On motion, voted that this meeting stand adjourned to meet at this place on Wednesday evening, March 5th, for the purpose of duly nominating candidates to be supported as representatives at the March election, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

DANIEL F. SMITH, Chairman.
CHARLES E. BLUNT, Sec.

ADDITION TO THE NAVY YARD AT PORTSMOUTH.—Hon. Gilman Marston, member of Congress from this district, secured the following amendments to the Navy Appropriation bill—adopted by the House of Representatives at Washington, on the 15th inst.:—

"For the purchase of 27 355-1000 acres of land on Seavey's Island, for fitting up the buildings thereon for a hospital, building coal wharf and shed and fencing the ground—$20,000." The appropriation for a fottock saw-mill was stricken out.

☞ "As the rain cometh down, and the snow from Heaven," so the word of the Lord shall not return void. The blessing of snow is upon us in all its abundance.—Since Christmas we have had snow upon snow, with only now and then some rain.—One man told us on Thursday, that he was then clearing that walk for the thirtieth time since Jan. 1st.

Previously to Thursday, we had in our streets about three feet of solid snow, almost ice. Now we may call it four feet, more or less, and in some narrow streets and near shoveled paths, it is piled up as high as a man's head.

It is generally supposed that abundance of the snowy covering during the whole Winter, presages an abundant covering of grass in the Summer. We hope it may be so, but the sign is not infallible.

HOOKER'S DIVISION, 1st Brigade,
Head Quarters 2d N. H. V.,
17th Feb., 1862.

To the editors of the Portsmouth Chronicle:

I wish to acknowledge through the columns of the Chronicle, the receipt of 284 knit woolen shirts, 175 prs. drawers, 298 mittens & 879 woolen socks, from the workmen at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, through Mr. Cyrus Hamlin of Maine. The present was most seasonable, appropriate and generous, and contributed very much to the health and comfort of the men.

In their name I thank the warm hearted donors who have testified in this practical manner the interest and kindness which they manifest for the Regiment whose hardships and privations they have lessened.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.
Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

THE MIXED ARROWS.—Cupid, one sultry summer's noon, tired with play, and faint with heat, went into a cool grotto to repose himself, which happened to be the cave of Death. He threw himself carelessly down on the floor, and his quiver turning topsy-turvy, all the arrows fell out and mingled with those of Death, which lay scattered up and down the place.—When he awoke, he gathered them up as well as he could; but they were so intermingled, that though he knew the certain number, he could not rightly distinguish them, from which it happened that he took up some of the arrows which belonged to Death, and left several of his own in room of them. This is the cause that we now and then see the hearts of the old and decrepid transfixed with the bolts of Love; and, with equal grief and surprise behold the young blooming part of our species and smitten with the darts of Death.—Anon.

☞ Some music teacher once wrote that

"The art of playing on a violin requires the nicest perception and the most delicate sensibility of any art in the known world."

Upon which an editor comments in the following manner:

"The art of publishing a country newspaper and making it pay, and at the same time have it please everybody, beats the art of fiddling higher than a kite."

The necessities which confine men to particular employments are the chief support of good habits. Men resemble the masts of a ship, which must be tied down to keep them steady.

☞ The only living male descendant of Benedict Arnold is a grandson, Rev. Edward Arnold, who is rector of an established church in Hertfordshire, England, some twenty miles west of London. He is a man of great decision, and in his profession exhibits much ability and energy of character. To a recent visitor he voluntarily made known his relationship.

A distinguished divine, on a certain occasion, while preaching with his usual eloquence and power, said, "Brethren, I sometimes illustrate my subject in this manner;" and putting his handkerchief to his nose, blew a blast loud enough to wake the seven sleepers. That was not the intended illustration, but some of his hearers thought it was.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.

These, besides the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot confide their interests more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, has also on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our strict personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

THE LATE FLOOD IN CALIFORNIA.—By the last papers from California, the January flood appears to have been destructive and distressing beyond all the accounts that have previously reached us. The people were deeing from Sacramento in thousands, destitute of all their possessions and dependent for bread. The number that reached San Francisco in a single boat was from 1300 to 1500, and most of them had eaten nothing for twenty-four hours. Other boats came down with more or less, quite as destitute. The people of San Francisco not only cared for these, but at once loaded steamers with provisions for Sacramento, and sent men to distribute them from small boats to the sufferers confined in their chambers and attics. These provisions went by the hundreds of tons, with clothing, fuel, and other things needed till the waters should abate. In some places houses were afloat and out in the middle of the street—and in many of them a light was to be seen in the upper story, which showed a good deal of nerve on the part of the inmates. Street-crossings, sidewalks, fences and lumber of all kinds were floating about the principal business streets of the city. The water attained a height of five feet.

FLAG-OFFICER FOOTE is beloved by all his men. The night after he captured Fort Henry a gentleman said to him that he was getting nervous, and must have some sleep. "I never slept better in my life than I did the night before the battle, and I never prayed more fervently than on that morning; but I couldn't sleep last night for thinking of those poor fellows on board the Essex," was his reply—a reply which at once reveals his whole character; for he is not only a moral man, but humane, self-sacrificing; one who openly recognizes the claims of Christianity, and lives up to his professions.

NOOSING THE BEARS.—The Machias Republican says that Mr. David O. D. Hanscom of Marshfield, Me., while in the woods about three and a half miles from his house, discovered a den containing three bears—two cubs and their dam. Having no weapon save an axe and rope, he was at a little puzzled to know how to secure the "varmints." At length his ingenuity suggested pulling them out within axe reach, and accordingly the rope was noosed and thrown into the den, and by means of a long pole it was passed over the head of the old 'un, and then the tug of war commenced—Mr. Hanscom and his two sons at one end of the rope, and bruin at the other. Notwithstanding a most remarkable exhibition of strength on the part of the bear, she was finally drawn forward to the mouth of the cave, and finding further resistance useless, she then deliberately walked into the open air, where she was speedily dispatched with the axe. The two small ones were disposed of without much further trouble.—Portland Argus.

A Cairo correspondent relates that the minister of the Presbyterian church there not making his appearance at the proper time on a recent Sabbath, and the elder of the church refusing to officiate, Com. Foote, on the impulse of the moment, took the pulpit, read a chapter in the Bible, prayed, and delivered a short discourse from the text, "Let not your hearts be troubled.—Ye believe in God—believe also in me."—On coming down from the pulpit, the minister, who had arrived just after the prayer, approached and tendered his thanks; but the Commodore rebuked him for his tardiness, and also for his neglect to take the pulpit immediately on his arrival.

WASHINGTON.

To Thee, beneath whose eye
Each circling century
Obedient rolls,
Our nation, in its prime,
Looked with a faith sublime,
And trusted in "the time
That tried men's souls."

Nor was our fathers' trust,
Thou Mighty One and Just,
Then put to shame:
"Up to the hills" for light
Looked they in peril's night,
And from you guardian height
Deliverance came.

There, like an angel form,
Sent down to still the storm,
Stood WASHINGTON!
Clouds broke and roll'd away;
Foes fled in pale dismay;
Wreathed were his brows with bay,
When war was done.

God of our sires and sons,
Let other Washingtons
Our country bless;
And, like the brave and wise
Of by-gone centuries,
Show that true greatness lies
In righteousness. —Pierpont.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

* * Interwoven as is the love of liberty with every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is necessary to fortify or confirm the attachment. The unity of government which constitutes you one people is also dear to you. It is justly so; for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence; the support of your tranquility at home, your peace abroad; of your safety, of your prosperity, of that very liberty which you so highly prize.

But as it is easy to foresee that from different causes and from different quarters much pains will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth—as this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (though often covertly and insidiously) directed, it is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts. For this you have every inducement of sympathy and interest.

* * But other considerations, however powerfully they address themselves to your sensibility, are greatly outweighed by those which apply more immediately to your interest. Here every portion of your country finds the most commanding motives for carefully guarding a d preserving the union of the whole.

* * Hence, likewise, they will avoid the necessity of those overgrown military establishments which, under any form of government, are inauspicious to liberty, and which are to be regarded as particularly hostile to republican liberty. In this sense it is that your union ought to be considered as a main prop of your liberty, and that the love of the one ought to endear to you the preservation of the other.

With such powerful and obvious motives to union, affecting all parts of our country, while experience shall not have demonstrated its impracticability, there will always be reason to distrust the patriotism of those who, in any quarter, may endeavor to weaken its bands.

In contemplating the causes which may disturb our union, it occurs as a matter of serious concern that any ground should have been furnished for characterizing by geographical discriminations—NORTHERN and SOUTHERN, ATLANTIC and WESTERN; whence designing men may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local inferests and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence within particular districts is to misrepresent the opinions and aims of other districts. You cannot shield yourselves too much against the jealousies and heartburnings which spring from these misrepresentations; they tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection.

* * The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government, presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government.

* * Towards the preservation of your government, and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite not only that you steadily discountenance irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretext.

* * And remember, especially, that for the especial management of your common interests, in a country so extensive as ours, a government of as much vigor as is consistent with the perfect security of liberty is indispensable. Liberty itself will find in such a government, with powers properly distributed and adjusted, its surest guardian. It is indeed little else than a name where the government is too feeble to withstand the enterprises of faction, to confine each member of the society within the limits prescribed by the laws, and to maintain all in the secure and tranquil enjoyment of the rights of person and property.

* * I have already intimated to you the danger of parties in the state, with particular reference to the founding of them on geographical discriminations. Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party, generally.

This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind. It exists under different shapes in all governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but in those of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.

The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism.—The disorders and miseries which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and, sooner or later, the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty.

Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind, (which nevertheless, ought not to be entirely out of sight,) the common and continual mischief of the spirit of party is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it.

It serves always to distract the public councils and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one party against the other; foments occasionally riot and insurrection. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which find a facilitated access to the government itself through the channels of party passions. Thus the policy and will of one country are subjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of the government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This, within certain limits, is probably true; and in governments of a monarchical cast, patriotism may look with indulgence, if not with favor, upon the spirit of party. But in those of the popular character, in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose. And there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume.

It is important, likewise, that the habits of thinking, in a free country, should inspire caution in those intrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding, in the exercise of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. A just estimate of that love of power, and proneness to abuse it, which predominate in the human heart, is sufficient to satisfy us of the truth of this position.

* * As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible, avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace; but remembering, also, that timely disbursements to prepare for danger frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding, likewise the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense, but by vigorous exertions in time of peace to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear. The execution of these maxims belongs to your representatives; but it is necessary that public opinion should co-operate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is essential that you should practically bear in mind that towards the payment of debts, there must be revenue; that to have revenue there must be taxes; that no taxes can be devised which are not more or less inconvenient and unpleasant; that the intrinsic embarrassment inseparable from the selection of the proper objects (which is always a choice of difficulties) ought to be a decisive motive for a candid construction of the government in making it, and for a spirit of acquiescence in the measures for obtaining revenue which the public exigencies may at any time dictate.

In offering to you, my countrymen, these counsels of an old and affectionate friend, I dare not hope they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wish; that they will control the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course which has hitherto marked the destiny of nations; but if I may even flatter myself that they may be productive of some partial benefit, some occasional good,—that they may now and then recur to moderate the fury of party spirit, to warn against the mischiefs of foreign intrigue, to guard against the impostures of pretended patriotism; this hope will be a full recompense for the solicitude for your welfare by which they have been dictated.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Thursday, the joint resolution appropriating $1500 for illuminating the public buildings on Saturday, was passed. The resolution expelling Mr. Powell of Kentucky was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The army appropriation bill for 1862 was passed.

The House adopted the Senate amendment to the Treasury Note bill, requiring interest to be paid in coin, but rejected the one pledging the land receipts, duties and proceeds of rebel property in support of the notes. The Senate refused to concur in this action, and called for a committee of conference.

☞ The President's son William, aged 10 or 11 years, died Thursday evening, of pneumonia. Another child, who has also been dangerously ill, is recovering.

THE REBELLION.

Everything is progressing satisfactorily at Fort Donelson. Gen. Halleck has written to Gen. Hunter, acknowledging his great indebtedness to the latter for the loan of troops with which to gain the victory.—There is more cause for believing that Columbus has been or is to be evacuated, and preparations will probably be made for an early advance on Memphis.

The rebels are falling back from Centreville, Va., apprehensive of a cutting off of their supplies.

Gen. Halleck has issued an order that in consideration of the recent victories won by the Federal forces, and of the rapidly increasing loyalty of the citizens of Missouri, the sentence of the eight bridge burners, condemned to death, are provisionally mitigated to close confinement. If, however, rebel spies again destroy the railroads and telegraph lines, the original sentence will be carried into effect. No further assessment will be levied or collected from any one who will now take the prescribed oath of allegiance. Commissioners are to examine the cases of the prisoners of war who apply to take the oath of allegiance. On their recommendation, orders will be issued for their release.

It is not probable that our army will follow Gen. Price very far into Arkansas.—There is considerable talk of fortifying Neosho and placing a detachment of troops at Cassville. Letters found in Price's headquarters reveal a strong Union sentiment in Arkansas. He is now encamped at Keetsville, (near the line) expecting five regiments from Arkansas. Perhaps he will make a stand at Keetsville, but it is doubtful, as his army seems demoralized.—At McDowells, Flat Creek, Mo., we attacked his rear guard. They made a weak resistance, and then precipitately fled.

Gen. Halleck has sent the following dispatch to Gen. McClellan:—"Clarksville, Tenn., is taken, with supplies enough for our army for twenty days. Price, being reinforced by McCulloch, made a stand at Sugar Creek Crossing, Ark., but was defeated after a short engagement and again fled. Many prisoners were taken and a quantity of arms, which his men threw away in their flight."

Richmond papers of the 19th have the following:—

Gen. Johnson telegraphed to the enemy, and offered to surrender Nashville on the condition that private property be respected. No answer had been received, but the majority of the citizens seemed willing to give up on these conditions. A large number of citizens had left the city. The river was rising so that the Federal gunboats could reach Nashville. A large amount of government stores will fall into the enemy's hands. Most of the rolling stock will be saved.

The latest news from Savannah is that the Federal vessels were gaining ground in their efforts to reach the main channel of the river, and that an attack would not be much longer delayed.

A large number of released Federal prisoners have reached Fortress Monroe.—Neither Col. Corcoran, Col. Lee nor Major Revere are among them.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the temporary Department of New England has been abolished, and the authority given to Major Gen. Butler to raise and equip volunteers in New England for certain purposes, is withdrawn. All contracts made by his authority, and now in course of execution, will be completed. He will however make no new ones.

Gen. Butler left Boston for Fortress Monroe on Thursday, and will proceed at once to Ship Island.

☞ The House Committee on Military Affairs has ordered Col. Marston, member from New Hampshire, to organize the signal service of the army.

☞ Steamer Roanoke, at New York from Havana, brings intelligence that a frightful revolution had occurred at Honduras. The President, Gardiola, was assassinated at his door. The troops joined the insurgents, and excesses are being committed in Truxillo. The war in Venezuela still continues. Several prominent persons had been arrested. All editors of newspapers are required to affix their names to the articles for which they are responsible.

☞ We regret to learn from the St. Louis Republican of Sunday, that the injuries received by Commander Porter on board the gunboat Essex in the battle of Fort Henry, caused by the explosion of the boiler, are more serious than at first reported, his condition at the latest intelligence being such that he is not expected to recover.—His lungs were dangerously affected by the inhalation of the steam.

☞ In sympathy with the President in his recent affliction, both Houses of Congress adjourned on Friday before transacting any business; and the public buildings in Washington are not to be illuminated this evening for the same reason.

☞ Gordon, the slaver captain, was executed in New York at noon on Friday.—He attempted suicide on the night previous by smoking cigars saturated with strychnine.

THE FLAG OF WASHINGTON.

Hail! brightest banner that floats on the gale!
Flag of the country of Washington, hail!
Red are thy stripes with the blood of the brave,
Bright are thy stars as the sun on the wave;
Wrapt in thy folds are the hopes of the Free.
Banner of Washington! blessings on thee!

Mountain-tops mingle the sky with their snow;
Prairies lie smiling in sunshine below;
Rivers, as broad as the sea in their pride,
Border thine Empires, but do not divide;
Niagara's voice for our anthems the sea;
Land of Sublimity! blessings on thee!

Hope of the World! on thy mission sublime
When thou didst burst on the pathway of Time,
Millions from darkness and bondage awoke;
Music was Science, Liberty spoke;
Millions to come yet shall join in the glee;
Land of the Pilgrim's hope! blessings on thee!

Traitors shall perish and Treason shall fail;
Kingdoms and thrones in thy glory grow pale!
Thou shalt live on, and thy people shall own
Loyalty's sweet, where each heart is thy throne.
UNION and FREEDOM thine heritage be,
Country of Washington! blessings on thee!

☞ St. Thomas dates of the 2d state that a British commander attempted to take a seaman from an American vessel by force, but the federal gunboat Iroquois protected the man. The Governor of St. Thomas notified the British commander that the guns of the fort would aid the Iroquois. The British Admiral arrived subsequently, reprimanded the commander, and duly apologized to Consul Edgar.

☞ Among the first welcomes to the news of the victory at Fort Donelson, was the chiming of the peal of bells of Christ Church in Old Cambridge, on Monday evening, from the same tower from which was rung the first alarm of the march of the British troops to Lexington in 1775.

☞ The Great Mortar Fleet, which has sailed from New York, is to rendezvous at Key West, a fact which affords strong presumptive proof thet Mobile or New Orleans is shortly to be honored with a visit by a large and effective force. The fleet will probably all be at the Key by the 1st of March.

☞ A U. S. Marshal has gone to Cairo, to take Gen. Buckner (captured at Fort Donnelson) to Louisville under a federal warrant from Justice Catron, on a charge of treason.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—To-day will be observed as a holiday by many if not all our citizens. The dry good stores (and we presume most others) will not open at all—and we give the order of public exercises in another column on this page.

All work is suspended at the Portsmouth Navy Yard to-day, and the day will be appropriately commemorated there. The officers at the station, with their families, are to assemble in the Chapel, at half past ten o'clock, where Washington's Farewell Address will be read by the U. S. Chaplain —Rev. Henry Wood. A grand salute of 100 guns will be fired at the Yard at noon.

[We have time and room only for a portion of the details of the programme for the day, furnished us.]

The procession will form at 1 o'clock, on State street, with the right on Pleasant street; and will proceed through Pleasant, Congress, Middle, Court, State, and Chestnut streets to the Temple—where the order of exercises will be:

Voluntary by the Band; prayer; reading of Washington's Farewell Address; benediction; voluntary by the Band. After which the procession will be dismissed.

The seats on the right and left of the Temple will be reserved for ladies, and no persons will be permitted to occupy other seats until after the Procession has entered and is seated.

Citizens are invited to meet at Jefferson Hall at half past one and join in the procession.

ROBERT LEFAVOUR,
Chief Marshal.

☞ We are altogether too patriotic to work to day—so there will be no Daily Chronicle on Monday morning. Should any important or very interesting news come to hand in the interim, we will immediately issue an Extra Chronicle.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. E. H. Richardson, of Dover, will preach at the North Church to-morrow—Sunday.

Rev. Frederick Frothingham, recently of Portland, Me., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. Patterson, of the Universalist Church, announced on Sunday evening last, that he would deliver a series of lectures on the Lord's Prayer, on successive Sunday evenings. The first of the series was delivered on that evening.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—Jerry Tibbetts, for stealing one bushel of coal valued at thirty cents, was sentenced to pay a fine of $3 and costs, and double the value of the coal stolen: not paying, he was committed.

☞ A few days since, as Mr. James H. Pindar of this city was gunning, in a float, among the islands in our harbor, a discharge of his piece from the side of the craft, turned her over, depositing all her cargo in the cool water,—from which, after a bath of the better part of an hour, and rolling the float over and over again, the gentleman succeeded in getting his boat and himself ashore, —but that gun and other fixings are "planted" where we are afraid they won't grow — unless they grow rusty. Rather tough for a Mobilian—that sitz bath.

☞ We are informed that a large male Wildcat was shot in Dixon's Swamp, Eliot, (the same place where Mr. Nelson N. Downing of this city shot one a few years since,) last week, by a boy named Leach, only 14 years old. The varmint was four feet long, and weighed 60 lbs. The boy was gunning, and his dogs "treed" the cat, (his back and hair sticking up like any other cat's,) and the lad approached very near before he could make out his customer —which was an ugly one indeed, and knocked the dogs right and left when they came near enough. The boy fired his charge into his shoulder, and then clubbed him with his gun.

☞ A correspondent of the Amesbury Villager, writing from South Hampton, Feb. 10th says:—

On Friday, the Barnard School was examined by the Principal, assisted by the writer. The school has been taught by Mr. F. W. Hackett of Portsmouth, this season. Mr. Hackett has a peculiar and happy faculty of imparting instruction, and by his energy and interest the school has made good progress. We hear but one opinion expressed in regard to the examination, and that is of approbation. Mr. Hackett leaves town with the good will of our citizens, and and we wish him success in the future walks of his life.

The course of lyceum lectures given before the Philermenian Association this winter, has thus far been satisfactory to our citizens. Last evening the lecture was delivered by Mr. James R. May, of Portsmouth. Subject, "Culture." It was well written and happily delivered.

I. O. O. F.—The Members of Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, are requested to meet at the Lodge Room this day, Saturday, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of taking part in the City Procession. All members of the order in the city are respectfully invited to meet at the same time and place. Per order.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY will be celebrated in Philadelphia by a grand parade of all the national, State and municipal troops in that city at the time. From 10,000 to 12,000 men will appear in line.

PICKED UP,

On Friday evening, a PIG,—weighs about 80 lbs. The owner can obtain the same, on paying charges, at No. 3 School street.

☞ The over successful Parham is still getting up magnificent excursions for the people. The arrangements for his fourth grand excursion to Baltimore, Washington and vicinity, are now complete, and the tickets are good to leave on any day (Sunday excepted) to March 1,—to return on or before April 1. The route is by the Old Colony and Fall River Railroads, and the Providence and Stonington Railroads, to New York, thence to Baltimore. Excursion tickets from Boston to Baltimore and return, $12.50.

☞ There are four hundred and eleven female postmasters in the United States.—The largest number is found in the State of Pennsylvania, which has ninety-eight.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'S

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

A PROCLAMATION.

It is recommended to the people of the United States that they assemble in their customary places of meeting, for public solemnities, on the 22d day of February instant, and celebrate the Anniversary of the Birth of the Father of his country, by causing to be read to them his immortal Farewell Address.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States. By the President,
ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

WM. H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

From the Journal

FEBRUARY 22, 1862.

One hundred and thirty years ago this day WASHINGTON was born. Such is the date according to chronology. But the change of style counting out eleven days, makes the real time of his birth as far in the year as the 5th day of March.

This day is an appropriate one for bringing up the grateful remembrance of him who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

The committee for celebrating Washington's Birth Day have made the following arrangements.

The bells are to be rung half an hour at sunrise, an hour at noon, and half an hour at sunset; and thirty-four guns fired at the same hours. The Flags to be displayed through the day.

That the store-keepers be requested to close their places of business at 12 o'clock.

That the Portsmouth Band be engaged at Jefferson Hall at 1 o'clock.

That a procession be formed at 2 o'clock, on Market Square under direction of Robert Lefavour, Esq. Chief Marshal. That the City Government, the Masonic bodies, Odd Fellows, Fire Department, the scholars of the Public Schools, the Military Companies and citizens generally, be requested to join in the procession and proceed to the Temple, where Washington's Farewell Address will be read by Timothy G. Senter, Esq. of Lynn, and other services will be performed.

There will probably be an illumination in the evening of buildings in the vicinity of Market Square, and elsewhere.

A HINT.—"Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well," is a maxim that will apply to the seemingly trifling operation of shovelling snow from sidewalks as well as to anything else. Those who have this matter in charge should recollect that next to having any path, comfort and neatness demand a wide and commodious one.—Shovel out beyond the curb when the first snow comes, and you will be prepared for storms the whole winter through.

DISCREPANCIES.—In the Western free States corn is to be had in abundance, at only 20 cents per bushel. In Rebeldom, an order has been issued from the War Department "for the seizure of all corn, in the hands of distillers or others persons, to be used for distillation," for the reasons of the pernicious effects of whiskey and the exorbitant prices the Government has to pay for the subsistence of the army.

DEMONSTRATION AT KEENE, N. H. — At Keene, we understand, towards evening on Monday, the bells of the village rung a merry peal for an hour, a splendid bonfire was made on the common, and the citizens collected and exchanged congratulations, in honor of the capture of Fort Donelson and the surrender of the principal portion of the rebel army.

EARTHQUAKE IN GRECE.—From Athens papers, which have just been received, we learn the following:—The earthquake in Greece, which occurred on the 28th of December, at 8 o'clock A. M. was felt from Athens to Patras, along the southern shore of the gulf of Corinth. At Vostiza, it ruined many houses, and overthrew four entire villages in the vicinity, killing a hundred persons and wounding twenty.

We are glad to notice the promotion of Mr. Thos. E. Jackson, of this city to a second Lieutenancy in Co. B, N. H. Third Regiment. Mr. Jackson is a son of Lieut. Col. John H. Jackson, of this city, of the same Regiment, and we know that both father and son are highly esteemed by the men under their command.

SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT.—Senator Morrill has prepared a bill for the immediate emancipation of all the slaves in the District of Columbia, and providing for a compensation not to exceed $300 a head to loyal owners. It has not yet been acted upon in Committee. There are about 3,000 slaves in the District. The House Committee is said to be less favorable than the Senate Committee to the performance of this act of justice.

Jeff. Davis is to be inaugurated to-day as President for six years of the Southern confederacy. It must require a marvellous amount of coolness and hopefulness to keep his inaugural from reading like a funeral oration.

CLOTHES WRINGER.—It is surprising to know how well all who have used the Wringer, advertised by Mr. Stevens, are pleased. It saves the clothes, it saves strength, and the clothes are made so dry before going to the line that they dry in half the time.

Don't let us talk too long and loud about our heroes of to-day. We lauded Wilkes too much, and now nobody says a word about him. Let us be moderate hereafter.

NAVY YARD.—The work there is in full operation. The number of hands now employed is about 2000.

ROCKINGHAM TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Rockingham Temperance Society is to be held at Rye on Saturday Feb. 22, at half past 10 A. M.—in one of the churches at Rye Centre. T. H. MILLER, Sec.

THE LAY OF THE CAPTIVES.

A VOICE FROM RICHMOND.

By many a cheerful Northern hearth,
In the firelight's ruddier glow,
You, who to combat went us forth,
Sit in peace to-night we know.
You sit in peace 'mid warmth and light,
Undisturbed by pain or fear,
But your hearts, in the watches of the night,
To your brothers' hearts draw near!

Our cells are bare and dark and damp,
And our blankets frill and thin,
Not a drop of oil in the prison lamp,
Little food in the prison bin,
And the words from home—our spirits' food,
They are far between and few,
For our jailers all are Satanic mood,
And weight them not when due.

Yet we falter not, but with steadfast eye
Look into each traitor face,
Too proud in our misery, live or die,
To ask of the Rebels grace.
The flag of the Free we love more beloved,
But there are our prison bars,
We will deem them the stripes we knew of old,
And beyond them we see the stars!

—Vanity Fair.

OLD WOOD.

Old wood to burn!
Ay, bring the hill-side beech
From where the owlets meet and screech,
And ravens croak;
The crackling pine, and cedar sweet;
Bring too a clump of fragrant peat,
Dug 'neath the term:
The knotted oak,
A fagot too, perhap,
Whose bright flame dawning, winking,
Shall light us at our evening thinking!
While the oozing sap
Shall make sweet music to our thinking.

—Messinger.

OPPORTUNITY.

The golden opportunity
Is never offered twice; seize then the hour
When fortune smiles and duty points the way;
Nor shrink aside to 'scape the spectre fear;
Nor pause, tho' pleasure beckon from her bower,
But bravely bear thee onward to the goal.

HEAVY VERDICT.—In the case of Gerhart Velton et al vs. the National Loan Fund and Life Insurance Company, tried before the Circuit Court at Albany, the jury has rendered a verdict for plaintiff; damages $10,000 and interest, amounting $7,800. The case was tried ten years ago, and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff.—The defendants carried the case up, and finally the Court of Appeals ordered a new trial, which was brought to a close Friday. This verdict is exclusive of the costs, which must be enormous.

☞ The sentence of death for slave trade piracy will probably be executed for the first time in this country, on Gordon, a native of Maine, now confined in New York. Though application for commutation of sentence is urged on the President, Gordon is reported to be without hope.

But, in spite of all this, we should not be surprised if he was saved some how.

☞ The Europeans laugh at our great battles where so many men fire away at each other for days and nobody is killed.

Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has individual reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States, give him, he believes, full, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary, of any journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more likely to prepare their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such numerous and great success argues great talent and ability on his part to such as to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A newspaper correspondent, writing from Freedom, says two "fugitives" (why not say deserters?) from Co. I, 8th N. H. regiment, at Fort Independence, Boston, were in that somewhat notorious town on the 2d inst., en route for Canada. One of them, the writer says, procured a hammer and some nails, and one evening they stole from the camp to an obscure part of the island, where was an abundance of joists and plank, from which they constructed a raft. After floating about on the water for some time, they were at length washed ashore, and went at once to the house of a friend, in Boston. Having exchanged their military suits for citizens' dress they proceeded on foot to Newmarket, where they met a very kind friend who helped them on to Freedom,—the town so called, we mean. There they were provided with the "needful," and started in the direction of Canada, which must finally become a delightful country, if it is to be the refuge place of such discordant elements as fugitive slaves, and "fugitive" cowardly, rebel-sympathizing "soldiers." Extremes meet.

—— At the criminal term of the Essex County Supreme Court, at Salem, Feb. 20th, John C. Pillsbury, of Candia, N. H., on three indictments for larceny from parties in Haverhill, was adjudged to be a common and notorious thief, and sentenced to three years at hard labor in the State Prison at Charlestown, the first two days solitary confinement.

—— The Union Party in New Hampshire are moving for the election. In a meeting at Manchester, on Saturday evening, Judge Clarke took the ground that they were the only party that sustained the President and his policy; that the Democrats did not in unqualified terms support Mr. Lincoln, and that the Republican Convention lacked the courage to oppose Sumner and Phillips, Lovejoy and Garrison, and therefore did not unqualifiedly stand by the President. This is a short way of proving what he desired to establish, to which possibly both Republicans and Democrats might dissent.—Herald.

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES has published a letter in one of the Paris papers denying that he is in favor of slavery, and affirming that he is opposed to "abolitionism." An able New England editor says:—

"It is hard to make the Frenchmen understand that; but it is the position of three-quarters of the people in the United States."

It is no wonder the French cannot understand how a man can oppose the abolition of slavery, and yet not be in favor of slavery: it is a contradiction in terms, says Uncle Toby; and it is somewhat doubtful whether even Bishop Hughes can make it plain and reasonable in France, or whether most of those people in this country, who take this "position," know what they are talking about.

That any man should be indifferent to such a subject is quite possible, though not very creditable:—but it is not easy to see how any man can say he is not in favor of the rebellion, but is opposed to all efforts to put it down. This is exactly parallel to the case put by Bishop Hughes,—and is like the position taken by three-quarters of all people who never think for themselves.

☞ The Bath Times states that there is one man in an up-river town who makes his appearance annually before the Committee on Fisheries, and contends that the Augusta dam was the first cause of the potato rot and of weevils in wheat. His proof is that these pests were unknown prior to the erection of the dam; and his theory, that before the dam was erected the fishes went up the stream and destroyed the flies upon the surface of the water, but now that dam obstructs the progress of the fishes, and the flies, escaping their ravages, light upon the potatoes and wheat, and occasion the mishief referred to.

ELLIPTICAL SAILING.—A correspondent of the New York Post affirms that the manœuvre of elliptical sailing, to which was owing, in so considerable degree, our success at Port Royal, was previously practised by Commodore Stringham in the attack on the Hatteras forts, and gained us the success of the day.

THE "OLD CONCERN."—The recent Union victories must amaze the rebel leaders, showing them that there is still considerable vitality in the "old concern," as they have been fond of styling the National Government. The leading traitors are now probably beginning to be troubled by a new "concern"—a concern for their personal safety.

☞ The roof of a large building on Prescott street, Lowell, Mass., fell in on Wednesday night, owing to the weight of snow upon it. D. G. Leavitt, stable keeper, occupied it, and loses a large number of carriages, valued at from $12,000 to $15,000.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to anyother Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1862.

Dr. Ives, the Washington correspondent arrested as a spy by the Secretary of War, had an office in the New York Custom House at the time of his arrest. He has been in Washington three or four months, but held his office and drew his pay at the Custom House! This is one of the "reforms" we were to have under Republicon rule.—Patriot.

The notorious "Chevalier" Wykoff," the cast-off paramour of Fanny Elsler, and present favorite of Mrs. Lincoln, was before the House last week for contempt. The N. Y. Herald got a copy of the President's Message in advance of its delivery, and it is suspected that Mrs. Lincoln furnished it and that Wykoff knows all about it, as he is understood to be Mrs. Lincoln's confidante. —Patriot.

Notwithstanding it has been shown that Watt, the White House gardener, furnished the Message, we give the precious items as a sample of the Patriot's courtesy toward "the powers that be." And yet we don't see that this is any worse than the abuse of the last two Presidents, for instance, by their opponents. Out upon such party rancor, which can so outrage all the civilities and decencies of life, to say nothing of the respect due "those in authority."

A Bogus Compliment.—At the great meeting in Washington, a few days ago, of Railroad Presidents and Agents, with the Secretary of War, no reporters were present; but the proceedings were duly furnished to the agent of the Associated Press: and the following paragraph was added to the official report of the first day's proceedings:—

"Secretary Stanton paid a high compliment to the young and gallant friend at his side, Major General McClellan, in whom he had the utmost confidence, and the result of whose military schemes, gigantic and well matured, were now exhibited to a rejoicing country."

The officers of the Convention being applied to in various quarters to say whether this language was used by Secretary Stanton, Mr. Corning the President, and Mr. Kimber a Secretary of the Railroad Meeting, say in a public note,—

"We feel bound to state that such was not the case, and these words were added after the report had been furnished to the Agent of the Associated Press."

The agent admits it to be so; and thus spoils the whole story, without, as we think, improving his own reputation as an accurate and truthful reporter.

A Neat Letter.—Brig. Gen. McClernand sent the following letter to Commodore Foote the day after the capture of Fort Henry:—

"Dear Sir:—As an acknowledgment of the consummate skill with which you brought your gunboats into action yesterday, and of the address and bravery displayed by yourself and your command, I have taken the liberty of giving the late Fort Henry the new and more appropriate name of 'Fort Foote.' Please pardon the liberty I have taken without first securing your concurrence, as I am hardly disposed to do, considering the liberty which you took in capturing the fort yesterday without my co operation."

☞ Ex-Gov. Wm. Pennington of New-Jersey, died in consequence of morphine having been administered by mistake for quinine. A prescription calling for quinine was sent to a drug store in Newark, but morphine was put up and, through carelessness, incorrectly labeled. Eight grains of the poison, were administered to Mr. Pennington, and in few a moments he expired.

☞ The Providence Post, in alluding to Gen. Sherman's order calling on the benevolent and philanthropic, not only to supply clothing for the negroes, but to go down there and assist in educating them, says—"Here is a chance for the Garrisons, the Fillsburys, the Fosters, the Phillipses, the Greeleys, and the Stevenses, of both sexes, to exercise their benevolence. If their sympathies are real, let them respond to the call that is made upon them."

Model Taxpayers.—The taxes assessed upon the town of Belmont, Mass., the past year amounted to a little over $16,000, and after deducting the ordinary abatements and discounts, leaving about $14,500, all have been collected, with the exception of $55.86, and this amount is wholly due from non-residents. The Town Treasurer or Collector must indeed be an energetic man.

☞ Mr. Ward of New York presented in the House of Representatives on Wednesday, a petition from the merchants and shipbuilders engaged in the sale and manufacture of ship timber, concurred in by leading shipowners and underwriters, requesting Congress to adopt some measure to prevent the exportation of ship timber during the continuance of the war.

☞ Congress having failed to make the requisite appropriations relative to the World's Fair, the Committee are unable to proceed, and have adjourned. Exhibitors, therefore, are thrown upon their own resources.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The jury at Manchester, after 18 hours session in the Case of Perkins vs. Concord R. R., returned a verdict, in favor of the Plaintiff, to the amount of $1500.—This is the same amount at which the Company offered a settlement two years ago.

—— Mr. Miles Buzzell, of Dover, while engaged in cleaning out the gutters over the office of the Gazette, last Friday afternoon, 14th inst., fell, and coming in contact with the frame of an awning, tore away the frame, and came to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. Mr. Buzzell was injured inwardly very badly, although no bones were broken. At last accounts he was doing well.

—— The Coos Republican gives an account of the ascent of Mount Washington by three gentlemen of Lancaster, on the 10th inst., who staid at the summit two days and two nights—experienced the effect of a wild snow storm that lasted for thirty six hours—saw one of the most magnificent sunrise scenes that imagination can picture, saw the sun go down in a vast snow bank—saw moonlight upon a hundred glittering peaks—found the most extreme cold while there indicated at 5° below zero—returned in a thick snow storm, and now feel perfectly satisfied with their trip.

—— A prominent Union Democrat, Judge Wm. C. Clarke, said in his speech at the Union Convention held at Concord:

"He was sorry to say that there was more treason existing in the States of New Hampshire and Indianna than in all the North beside, and in these States this treason is with the old Democratic party. In our State this party has been led by Franklin Pierce; in the other by the traitor Bright who has just been expelled from the Senate."

—— New Hampshire has one Brigadier in the service, Gen. Foster, and the history of the capture of Roanoke Island, with its 6 forts, 50 cannon, 3000 prisoners, and an immense amount of war material, signally illustrates his skill and courage as a commander. He is second in command under Burnside, and had the immediate personal direction and supervision of the field operations, under the hottest fire, leading first one regiment and then another, going in on the "double quick," everywhere present animating the troops and their officers with his own enthusiasm, receiving the capitulation of the rebels, as one after another they struck their colors, he seems to have been the hero of that great day. When Col. Kimball of the Zouaves offered to storm the enemy's works, Foster replied: "You are the man, the Zouaves the regiment, and this the moment! Zouaves! Storm the battery! Double quick! March!" And they "went in" with a yell.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ "The War with the South, an illustrated history of the Great American Rebellion," is the title of a new national work on the present war, to be issued in parts at 25 cents each. It is intended to be a complete history of the war, with illustrations by Darley and other eminent American artists. The title page and the portrait of Gen. McClellan, in the first number, are magnificent. Mr. J. F. Gallagher is agent for Portsmouth and vicinity, and will supply all who wish with the work.

The March number of the Atlantic is, in many respects, admirable. We have not yet had time to examine it carefully; only to observe that it looks interesting. It contains an article by Mr. Cleaveland, on the use of the rifle, a practical and valuable, though brief essay; and a sound and useful paper by Mr. Everett, on Taxation. The latter especially ought to be carefully read by every man.

Harper's Magazine which we have received from A. Williams & Co., Boston, is always interesting, and great pains are taken to make it so. There is no publication of the kind, which contains such a variety of entertaining, original and well selected matter. For sale by J. H. Foster.

Arthur's Home Magazine for March is issued; we have spoken so recently of our idea of this publication's merits, that it is unnecessary for us to refer to it here.

A Timely Publication.—Geo. L. Dix & Co., 20 Washington street, Boston, have published, in a small, cheap volume, the Constitution of the United States, the Declaration of Independence and Washington's Farewell Address.

☞ A fire broke out in Augusta, Me., Saturday night, in Phœnix Block, and continued until the post office, telegraph office, the Age printing establishment, the steam and dry press rooms of the Kennebec Journal, several stores and law and insurance offices were burned. The entire contents of the post-office were saved, as also was a part of the stocks in the stores, in a damaged condition. The total loss is $27,800, on which there is an insurance of $12,500.

☞ The Louisville Journal was misinformed with regard to the capias reported to be issued by Judge Catron for the arrest of Gen. Buckner. He is under indictment; but it is not probable that the civil authorities will demand him from the military authorities.

THE REBELLION.

Nassau dates of the 12th state that the rebel steamer Cahawba, with a full ca go of cotton, arrived there that date, and reported that the steamer Isabel and another vessel, both loaded with cotton, ran the blockade of Charleston at the same time.

It is stated, on the authority of dispatches from Fort Donelson to St. Louis papers, that Gov. Harris summoned the Legislature of Tennessee to meet on Monday, 24th, for the purpose of repealing their unconstitutional acts, and bringing the State back again into the Union, without delay.

Despatches from the South state "that Gen. Sydney Johnston is at Gallatin, Tenn., 20 miles N. E. of Nashville, and had no idea of surrendering Nashville. Pillow and Floyd are at Nashville. Gen. Beauregard is sick in Nashville of typhoid fever or sore throat, and prayers have been offered for him in the churches at Charleston.

A despatch from Louisville states that the Cumberland Gap and Russellville, Ky., are in possession of the Federal troops. If this report is correct, no place of any importance is now held by the rebels in Kentucky, except Columbus.

Dispatches from Fortress Monroe, 23d, give the following news received from Norfolk:—

Several gunboats and a large number of troops of Gen. Burnside's forces ascended the Chowan river, 20th, to Winton; the rebels opened a heavy fire on them, but our troops landed and burnt the town. The rebels retired.

About 400 released prisoners reached Fortress Monroe on Sunday. There are now no Union prisoners at Richmond.

By the uprising of loyal men in Alabama and the burning of railroad bridges, the communication of the rebel capital with the South-west is cut off, and Nasoville is completely isolated.

Col. Lee, who is among the relersed prisoners, says that just before leaving Richmond, he was privately assured by a distinguished officer of the Confederate government that an officiel dispatch had just been received of the fall of Nashville.

[We learn that later dispatches received in Boston corroborate the above and state that our troops were pursuing the fleeing rebels.]

Town and School Reports.—Having just printed the Accounts for the City of Portsmouth—we have all things in readiness to commence work upon Reports as soon as they may be handed in. The large number executed yearly at this office reminds us that our work and prices are satisfactory.

Selectmen of towns will see that the copy is forwarded as soon as possible, that the Reports may be printed and distributed before the Annual Meeting.

Illness of a Juryman.—Mr. Avery Plumer, foreman of the Jury in the Supreme Court, Boston, was taken suddenly ill Friday forenoon, during the charge of Judge Putnam in the Mark Pickering case. He was removed from the room and thence to his house in McLean street. The case was suspended.—Post.

☞ The Share of Prize Money due to Commander Alden of the South Carolina, which made so many captures in the Gulf, is over $100,000. Nineteen times that sum is to be divided among the officers and men.

☞ The Bangor Whig says Col. Goddard has resigned his command of the Cavalry Regiment, on account of his business affairs.

Local.

THE CELEBRATION of Washington's birth-day in this city, on Saturday last, was entirely successful. The day was unusually pleasant, for the season, and Nature having offered every inducement to draw out a crowd, the number of persons upon the street was by no means small. Sleighs drawn by horses gaily decked with flags and streamers, glided through the streets, and on every side were seen the national red, white and blue, in profusion.

The procession moved soon after two o'clock, escorted by the Volunteers stationed at Fort Constitution, under command of Capt. Davidson. It consisted of the two boards of the City Council, Piscataqua Lodge I. O. O. F., the Engine Companies, children of the Public Schools, and others. About three o'clock the procession having passed over the prescribed route, entered the Temple—at least as much of it as was able to get in. Seldom is the building so densely thronged as on that occasion, and each smothered groan of the crowded within, and each muttered complaint of the crowded out, was something of an argument for the supply of the city's great want—a City Hall sufficiently large to accommodate the citizens.

After the audience were seated, the exercises were proceeded with according to the published programme. A fervent and appropriate prayer was offered by Rev. I. F. Waterhouse, after which Mayor Sines, who presided, introduced T. G. Senter, Esq.—Mr. Senter, after expressing his pleasure at meeting his former fellow citizens once more,—particularly upon an occasion so interesting as the present, read Washington's Farewell Address in a clear and distinct voice that enabled every one to listen with ease and pleasure. The benediction was then invoked by Rev. A. J. Patterson, and after a voluntary by the Portsmouth Band the meeting dissolved with enthusiastic cheers for the Union.

The city bells were rung, and salutes of thirty-five guns each were fired at sunrise, noon and sunset, under direction of D. L. Randall, Commissary General.

In the evening, many buildings were brilliantly illuminated, among them the Custom House, the City Rooms, the stores of Messrs. W. R. Preston, N. P. Thacher, and J. H. Head, and several private residences. Mr. Head's store was, as usual, more elaborately decorated than any other,—a portrait of Washington, the Stars and Stripes, mottoes, Chinese lanterns, streamers and transparancies being arranged with much taste. The Post Office building also looked finely.

The whole celebration must be voted a success,—and reflects great credit on the Board of Aldermen, who projected it. Much credit is also due the committee, which consisted of the Mayor and Aldermen Junkins and Rider, for the completeness of the arrangements for the celebration, and the success with which they were carried out. Although but a small time was allowed them, in which to prepare, everything passed off satisfactorily and happily, and we trust that the celebration of Washington's birth-day in 1862 will be but the first of a long series.

SILVER WEDDING. — Among the most pleasant commemorations on the eve of Washington's Birthday, in this section, was the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. & Mrs. John Stokell, in this city, on Friday evening, at their hospitable residence on Vaughan st. As all the initiated know, a five-years anniversary is termed the wooden wedding; the ten-years, tin-wedding; twenty-five years, silver; and fifty years, the golden wedding. And for the information of our lady readers especially, as well as for any who may be approaching the time for this interesting ceremonial, we will say that this silvery occasion was like a veritable marriage, with the addition of three blooming daughters, representing the first ceremony. The bride (decked with exquisite flowers, and by no means easily eclipsed even by the girl brides of to-day, with a quarter of a century in their favor,) and groom "received their friends,"—to a large number, as if just married: while in an adjacent room were liberally dispensed wedding cake and —water for those who chose; and in another, a more substantial supper, to your choice. After an hour or two of social merriment, the happy family stood up together, and Rev. Mr. Patterson offered a few congratulatory remarks, closing with prayer; and when the company dispersed, it was with the hope of all meeting at the golden wedding of the parties.

The original ceremony was performed by Rev. Moses Ballou, now preaching in New York, we believe; both groomsmen and bridesmaids are dead; and no guest at that first ceremony was present at this. All which is perhaps not more singular, than that the comparatively youthful pastor who improved this occasion so well, should have come to be, even with his short pastorate, the longest settled minister in our city of old associations.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ On Monday we had a thaw, and a considerable fall of rain, winding off with a thunder shower in the afternoon, with brilliant lightning. We had had no rain of any consequence for some time before. The effect of this rain was to bring the snow from some buildings, and to settle and consolidate the snow mountains in our streets.

About quarter past two o'clock in the afternoon, a severe thunder shower passed over the city and the rain fell in torrents. Thunder and lightning in winter seem to be out of place; but it is not unfrequent, and one gentleman tells us we have now had it in February for three successive seasons; and there have been very severe thunder storms in this month in some years. This time, one or more shocks were distinctly felt in the centre of the city, rattling windows, &c., and sounding like the falling of ice in a tin spout, and striking the sides all the way down. The spire of the North Church was struck, the points knocked from the top of the conductor, and the gilt ball blackened, and a piece shattered off. In the ambrotype saloon of Mr. Salen, in Congress Block oppsite, the pictures were knocked down from one side of the room, a chain prostrated, and a stove-funnel spread open; but no person was in the room at the time, and no other trace of lightning has been discovered. At the farm of Charles Hayes, at the Plains, a large pine tree was struck and much shattered, down to the roots, where the fluid went into the ground, and came out in the railroad bank, twenty-five yards or more distant, throwing earth and large stones on the track,—which Mr. Hayes fortunately saw and removed.

We are informed that the Congregational Church in Kittery was also struck by lightning in the same shower.

☞ The lecture by Prof. Butler at the Temple, to-morrow evening, will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting ever delivered in this city. Fresh from the heart of the great rebellion, he has suffered at its hands everything but death. The Lowell Daily News and Citizen says of him:—

"This discourse both oratorically and rhetorically considered, could hardly be surpassed. The institution of slavery received a terrible scathing at his hands, being declared the only cause of our political troubles and the present atitude of the seceded States, a rebellion against the progress of the age and civilization generally."

The Professor is English by birth, but has spent eight years in the South as a teacher, the last three Professor in the old State Military College at Bastrop, Texas.—It was there that he watched the rising of the lurid cloud which now overhangs our once happy land, drenching its soil with the blood of its noblest and bravest citizens. It was there that he well nigh suffered martyrdom because he would not fight for a cause which every impulse of his soul detested.—Let him have a rousing house, for we think none will repent hearing him.

☞ Our readers will be delighted to learn that there is a probability of Dr. Dio Lewis, (the learned and accomplished editor of the Gymnastic Monthly,) delivering one or more of his popular and invaluable lectures on Physical Training, in Portsmouth, at an early day. Dr. Lewis is veritably a re-form-er,—one of the most useful men of his age—and is doing a great work in correcting physical abuses which lead to, if they are not in themselves immoralities.

☞ The Boston Courier states that the officers of the stoop of war Constellation, who have been shipping seamen in Boston for this favorite vessel of the navy, have been quite successful. Up to Saturday evening, only about ten seamen were necessary to fill up her complement of 230 men. Those shipped will be taken to Portsmouth, where the Constellation is, in a steamer on Tuesday morning, weather permitting, where the vessell will be immediately placed in commission.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.
N. B.—Newspapers and Periodicals as heretofore dec30

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Morning Chronicle.

IN THE U. S. CIRCUIT COURT at Boston, Judge Sprague, in the case of the Amy Warwick, the judge condemns the vessel and cargo as enemy's property, on the ground that the owners, at the date of the capture, were residents of Richmond, Va., which city was then and had for a time before been under open and exclusive actual jurisdiction of a de facto government, in arms against the United States; and that in this war, as in a war between two acknowledged governments, the capture and condemnation of the property of residents of the enemy's country is authorized, without reference to their private opinions or sentiments. The case, the Advertiser learns, is to be immediately heard upon appeal at Washington.

☞ Gen. Thomas F. Meagher and the principal officers of the Irish brigade, except Col. Nugent of the 69th, who is out with his regiment upon picket duty, waited upon Sec. Stanton Tuesday and laid before him a request that the various Irish regiments scattered throughout the army of the Potomac may be consolidated into a division, under the command of Gen. Shields, with the rank of Major General.—Sec. Stanton received the delegation very cordially, and promised to lay the subject before the President and the General-in-Chief at the earliest opportunity.

AN INCIDENT ON THE "KERS."—A young lady from the rural districts of Hoosierdom, lately visited Chicago with her beau. Getting into a city railroad car for the first time she took a seat, while her lover planted himself on the platform with the driver. Pretty soon the conductor began to collect fare and approaching the rustic maiden he said:

"Your fare, Miss?"

The Hoosier rosebud allowed a delicate pink to manifest itself on her cheeks and looked down in soft confusion. The conductor was astonished at this, but ventured to remark once more:

"Your fare, Miss?"

This made the pink deepened to carnation as the rustic beauty replied:

"Well, if I am good looking, you hadn't ought ter say it out loud afore folks."

The passengers in the cars roared with laughter and the lover coming in to see what was going on, at once settled the fare.

☞ Mr. Elisha Jenkins, Postmaster at Barnstable, Mass., has a tame muskrat which accidentally became caged below the grating of one of the basement windows of the Custom House. He has a hole beneath, where he lives, and comes up, when called, to get his meals. He is gradually growing docile.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see do the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below then prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that if no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him above, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners of whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

☞ We have before us a copy of the Democratic Standard, printed at Concord, March 9, 1861, full of electioneering matter.

One item reads:

"It will be but a few days before Lincoln will be calling for troops from New Hampshire to molest the rights of our Southern brethren."

Another piece, too long to copy here, is headed "Stark and Victory."

Still another item says:

"Thousands of honest men who have been misled are fleeing from the Republican ranks as they would from a pestilence at noonday."

These are only small specimens of a very rich paper, which claimed to be published by a grandson of a revolutionary hero, and to have on its list over Three Thousand National Democrats—tho' in fact it never had a quarter of the number.

The course of events, within the year now past, make the items in the Standard rather ludicrous, as we look back on them.

EDUCATED FEET.—There is a way of educating the foot as well as the hand or the eye; and it is astonishing what an educated foot can do. In the time of Alexander, the Indians were taught to draw their bows with their feet as well as with their hands, and Sir J. E. Tennent tells us that this is done up to the present time by the Rock Veddahs of the Ceylon. And nearly all savage tribes can turn their toes not only to good but bad account; like the aborigines of Australia, who, while they are cunningly diverting your attention with their hands, are busily engaged in committing robberies with their toes, with which they pick up articles as an elephant would with his trunk. So also the Hindoo makes his toes work at the loom, and weaves with them with almost as much dexterity as with his fingers. The Chinese carpenter will hold the bit of wood he is planing by his foot like a parrot, and will work a grindstone with his feet. The Banaka tribe, who are the most famous canoe men on the West African coast, will impel their light canoes, (weighing only from 8 to 19 lbs.) with great velocity over the waves, and at the same time will use one foot to bail out the water; and when they would rest their arms, one leg is thrown out at either side of the canoe, and it is propelled with the feet almost as fast as with the paddle. There was also Monsieur Ducorent, who, although he was born without hands, was brought up as an artist, and who annually exhibited at the Louvre pictures painted by his feet. Then there was Thomas Roberts, the armless huntsman to Sir George Barlow, whose feet were made to perform the duties of his hands. And there was William Kingstone, who with his toes wrote out his accounts, shaved and dressed himself, saddled and bridled his horse, threw sledge hammer and fought a stout battle, in which he came off victorious.

The Homœopathists of New England are boasting of a mammoth petition containing 25,000 names, sent to Congress asking a fair trial for their practice in the army. We thought it was contrary to their theory to administer such large doses.—They ought to have pelted Congress with small petitions, sending a number every day.

INCREASE AND MULTIPLY.—A Mormon woman thus writes to a female friend: "While you of the North and South have gone to killing each other off, we of Salt Lake are populating the country with extraordinary rapidity. One of our elders recently had no less than nine children born to him in one week."—Patriot.

☞ The large and commodious car works of the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railroad Company, in Brantford, C. W., were on Sunday, 16th inst., totally destroyed by fire. Sixteen large freight cars, some of which were loaded with goods, and four first class passenger cars, were destroyed.—A locomotive was got out, and an ineffectual effort was made to get the others out.—The loss is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000.

Some of the English philanthropists are sniffling over the horrors of the American war. They didn't have a word to say when the natives of India, only four years ago, were blown from English guns, for the crime of defending their country, their race, and their religion—a hundred of them in a day. Their cars were full of cotton then; now the cotton is out, but they are as full of their infernal hypocrisy as ever Herald.

No doubt some English hypocrites talk thus; but so far as we have seen, not one English philanthropist, of any note, has done so; but on the contrary, they have generally spoken in favor of the free States.

☞ Mr. James Heath, of this city, while at work on the steamer Sacramento at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Monday, fell from the staging on which he was standing, to the ground,—breaking his thigh and receiving other serious injuries.

☞ Mr. Secretary Chase acknowledges in an appropriate letter the receipt of a thousand dollars, which an American gentleman now in Europe has presented to the treasury.

☞ Mrs. Fremont is seriously ill, and it is feared that her sickness will prove fatal.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1862.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

For the Chronicle.

THE TREASURY NOTE TENDER.—A writer in the Ohio Statesman of the 6th, a leading Democratic paper, discusses the question of making Treasury notes a legal tender, with some candor, although evidently opposed to the policy of the administration. He truly says that there is no express power in the Federal Constitution authorizing Congress to make such notes a legal tender. All that is said, is in Art. 1, Sect. 10, to wit: "No State shall coin money, emit bills of credit, make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts." The 8th Sect declares that "Congress shall have power to coin money, regulate the value thereof and of foreign coin, and to fix the standard of weights and measures." And "to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the powers specified, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the Government." If Congress has the power, it is by implication. It is very clear that the framers of that instrument did not provide for all things which future exigencies or emergencies might require.

When an attempt is making to subvert the Constitution and destroy our nationality, all true patriots will submit to such measures as are "necessary and proper" to preserve them, without resorting to fine spun legal questions or quibbles. In our humble judgment, the legal tender clause was not necessary, because the notes, without it, would furnish a currency deemed to be equivalent to specie; and making them a legal tender, tends, in some degree, to impair the public confidence in respect to their ultimate redemption, although the vast resources of the nation and the public faith are virtually pledged for their redemption, and there will be an abundant supply of specie in the country. It is a question whether the advantages or the disadvantages of the legal tender will preponderate? Capitalists and State Banks, doubtless, prefer the legal tender. They will receive the notes, and make loans to the Government on interest, and accept the Government bonds for security. It will enable Banks to issue small notes in abundance for a currency, and cancel their liabilities by the Treasury notes. And the individual holders can do the same in payment of debts. Inasmuch as a false clamor is attempting to be raised by certain partisan leaders to depreciate the notes in advance, and for party-effect, when Government is struggling to promote the public welfare, we submit these few remarks to the candor of loyal citizens. X.

GREAT FIRE IN BOSTON.—One of the most destructive conflagrations that have occurred in Boston for several years, took place on Monday night. The fire broke out at 1-4 to 10 o'clock in the upper part of a large five story building on the corner of Commercial and Clark streets, and extending to North street. The wind blew a gale at the time, which increased as the night went on; and for six hours, the conflagration raged with fearful intensity and destruction.

The building in which the fire originated was entirely destroyed. It contained offices, the free church for sailors, and a Catholic church.

The wind (northwest) next carried the flames across Commercial street, where they caught another large building, making the head of Sargent's wharf. This, although of stone, presented seemingly but a trifling opposition to the consuming element, and with nearly all its contents, was totally destroyed. A rice and linseed oil mill, with its contents, and a sugar house, a wooden building, fell soon after before the infuriated flames. This finished to the water's edge.

But the fire did not stop here. Thence it spread to the rear of Eastern avenue, and as if by the touch of some more than mortal hand, the blocks from Commercial street to the Ferry landing were in one huge mass of maddened flames. The whole line was laid in ashes, and scarcely a dollar's worth of property was saved. The Ferry buildings, landings and other structures were destroyed. From this point the flames were driven across the avenue to the South, and the Eastern avenue Hotel building, of late used as a store house, and a grain store, were destroyed.

A fireman, and a stranger perished in one of the buildings, probably by suffocation, and there were several accidents during the night among the firemen and public.

☞ Judge Chumasero, of the Monroe (N. Y.) judicial district, has decided that the running of horses for money at all agricultural shows is illegal.

FROM RICHMOND.—The released prisoners say that another party of prisoners, including Col. Corcoran, may be expected on Thursday or Friday. The party which came Sunday includes all who were in Richmond, except three, who were too sick to be removed.

Col. Lee says information was given to him about the surrender of Nashville by a prominent citizen of Richmond, and not by an officer of the Rebel Government, and that a dispatch to that effect was received by Jeff. Davis while reading his Inaugural. The prisoners all speak of a strong Union party in Richmond, who are in high glee at the Union victories. They took frequent occasion to extend to the prisoners various acts of kindness, which had to be stealthily performed. There was a large attendance to witness the inauguration, but the enthusiasm was very subdued. The Richmond Whig of Friday has a bitter article on the Davis administration. It says: "Judging by results so far, it is a most lamentable failure in history, and the most signal service it can now render is the surrender of the nation to able and better hands. In view of the past, present, and probable future, the pageant of to-morrow is a bitter mockery and a miserable compensation for the ruin of a free people."

The prisoners say that the Union men had a meeting privately on Friday night.—It was well attended.

Jeff. Davis has appointed Feb. 28th as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

There is nothing in the papers from Savannah. Its surrender was rumored at Richmond.

NAVAL.—Command'r Melancthon Smith of the gunboat Massachusetts, has been ordered to the command of the steam frigate Mississippi, now in the Gulf of Mexico.

Store ship-of-the-line Vermont, 24, and despatch steamer Kensington went to sea from President Roads Monday forenoon.

Steam sloop San Jacinto has been taken under the shears at the Charleston Navy Yard, for the purpose of having her armament put on board. She will now carry eight 9-inch smooth bores, one 11-inch pivot gun, and one 30 pound rifled gun on the poop deck.

The gunboat Essex arrived at St. Louis on Sunday, from Cairo. She will be immediately put on the ways and fifty feet added to her length, and her machinery repaired in the most thorough manner.—Capt. Porter is improving rapidly. His face and hands were pretty severely scalded, but he inhaled no steam, and will be ready for duty again soon.

☞ By the Constitution, from Ship Island, we learn that the British steamer Labian, while being loaded with cotton from a steamer with the rebel flag flying, in the Rio Grande river, was taken prize by the sloop-of-war Portsmouth. She had about half a cargo of cotton on board, and had previously landed a cargo of blankets and ordnance stores at Matamoras. The British captain is a prisoner on the Portsmouth, and the steamer will soon be sent North for adjudication. It is claimed that the vessel was in Mexican waters. Her cargo will not be touched.

☞ By the gale on Monday night, all telegraphic communication between New York and the West, was cut off until Tuesday noon. In Washington trees were blown down, and a part of the glass roof of the Congressional Library carried away. In Brooklyn, N. Y., five two-story buildings, and two steeples on the Rev. Mr. Farley's church, were blown down. A portion of the roof of the Brooklyn City Hospital was also blown away.

BEER DRINKER.—The London Lancet mentions the case of a brewer's dray-man, aged 31, who recently died in the Royal Free Hospital. He had been in the habit of drinking ten or twelve quarts of beer daily for the last ten years.

ESTIMATES.—There seems to be quite a difference of opinion among the reports in regard to the loss by the fire in Boston on Monday night. The Journal says it was at least $200,000; the Herald, over $300,000; the Advertiser, $1,000,000, and the Post, between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

PUTNAM'S REBELLION RECORD, Part XIII.—This number is embellished with fine portraits of Com. Dupont and Sec. Welles. We have already expressed many times our appreciation of its great merits, and we would now recommend subscribers to obtain the numbers through our city dealers, for the mail cannot be depended upon. The publishers write us that they have forwarded us all the numbers issued, yet we have failed to receive Parts IX and XI, and have received none of the supplimentary numbers. The numbers are large, and as those we have received, have been plainly directed, it must have required an unusual amount of carelessness on the part of some of the agents of the P. O. Department, between New York and Portsmouth, to "lose" them.

THE REBELLION.

A Suffolk, Va., dispatch to Richmond says "the bumbug Congressman, C. H. Foster, was among the killed Yankees," at the burning of Winton, N. C., by Gen. Burnside's forces.

The rebels claim that a fight has occurred at Sugar Creek, Benton Co., Ark., between Price and our forces, and that the former was victorious.

The rebels before evacuating Clarksville, Tenn., fired the railroad bridge crossing the Cumberland at that point.

The St. Louis Republican's Cairo dispatch says that the reports about the evacuation of Columbus by the rebels are entirely false.

The latest intelligence from the Cumberland is that Gen. Buell's forces occupy Nashville; that the Governor has called in all the State troops, and that a strong reaction has occurred among the people.

A special dispatch from Cairo, Feb, 24th, to the Chicago Times says, Gen. Buell did not occupy Nashville on Sunday, as he could not have reached it before the 24th. It also states that the rebels have strong fortifications at Pine Bluffs, 12 miles this side of Nashville, and are concentrating a large force there, intending to make a desperate stand.

C. H. Foster, reported by the rebel papers as killed, arrived at Fortress Monroe on Monday.

☞ Gov. Morton, of Indiana, appointed ex-Governor James A. Wright, U.S. Senator to fill the place of Jesse D. Bright.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

NOTICE.

Rev. C. S. DENISON, U. S. Chaplain,

On Friday Evening, Feb. 28, at 7 1-2 o'clk,

On "The duties of Union men in the War for the Union."

Admittance free; doors open at ½ to 7.

Union Ticket.

For Governor,

PAUL J. WHEELER, of Newport.

For Railroad Commissioner.

JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partizan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

THIS EVENING.

Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

Prof. Butler is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability. He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection

Kittery Point, Feb. 25, 1862,

During the thunder storm, Monday afternoon, the lightning struck the Congregational Church at Kittery Point, breaking through the bell-deck, and a beam that in part supported it: thence down through the attic floor (perhaps by a brass rod attached to the tolling hammer; though of that we are not sure, as the roof, under the deck, is not damaged in the least; but the rod was unshackled, and might have been by the concussion,) and off just over the northerly corner of the middle window in the gallery, there slightly knocking away the plastering, and just starting one or two clapboards; though either that bolt or a larger fragment of it hit on the southerly side of the same window, and passing diagonally towards the south-westerly corner of the house, split off a large piece of one of the main, middle posts, and ripped off the boards and clapboards down to the southerly window in the entry, smashing the glass, etc., to atoms; and internally, the plastering was badly shattered and thrown broadcast over and across the house, striking opposite the pulpit and wall contiguous, with much violence, as the marks show. With some other minor damages the house escaped further injury, though from the smoke and smell of fire a while in and about it, we were fearful that it was on fire past extinguishment. But providentially it escaped such a catastrophe Repairs will be commenced, probably to-morrow morning.

In connection with this lightning stroke a circumstance requires the attention of the philosopher of Brooklyn Heights, and occasional correspondent of the Portsmouth Journal, E. Merriam, Esq. The fact claiming his and other scientific men's attention, is this:—The electric bolt, or it may have been a portion, a fragment, of it, that shattered the house, as above stated, struck the lightning rod at its point, some feet above the apex of the steeple and vane; melted off the points of the rod and passed harmlessly along the rod to the ground, over the northerly side of the building, doing no damage whatever in that direction or part of the house. The rod is made of about half-inch square iron; the points were tipped with silver. The distance between the top of the spire and the point struck on the bell deck is, I should judge, forty feet. This being the case, are lightning rods as perfect protection as Mr. M. and many others suppose? G.

Kittery Point Meeting House was struck by lightning about thirty years ago. At that time there were two small rods, one on the north and the other on the south side of the steeple, both connected with the rod and points at the top. To make some repairs about the belfry door, a piece about six feet long, of the southerly rod, near the ground, was taken off, and carelessly left off. When the lightning came, it entered the belfry at this point, smashing the door and making other marks that endured for years.

Early in March 1730-31, the elegant new meeting-house which then stood on the same spot, was burned on Saturday night, supposed by lightning, in a violent rain storm, in which the thunder and lightning were incessant.

No human eye witnessed the burning, nor human being knew the fact till next morning, when the weather having become fair, a boatman rowing out of Spruce Creek missed the meeting-house, but soon found its remains of charcoal and ashes, the rain having quenched some coals that burnt finely 109 years afterward, when we cooked a dinner with them.

☞ Prof. Clarence Butler, it will be remembered, is to lecture at the Temple this, Wednesday, evening. Those who have listened to him in other cities, speak highly of his abilities as a popular lecturer.

☞ The thunder-storm on Monday was succeeded by a violent storm of wind, which raged throughout Monday night and nearly all of Tuesday. There were also several violent snow squalls in the evening. The weather also became much colder, and as the snow was blown about furiously by the wild gusts of wind, locomotion through the streets was extremely difficult and unpleasant both to riders and pedestrian.—The mercury fell from 45° to 5° in a few hours, and altogether, the "term" was remarkable for its unpleasantness as well as its novelty. Qwing to the blowing in of the snow no trains arrived from the East on Tuesday.

Messrs. Editors:—Please inform through your paper, whether there is not some box preparing, to send articles for the comfort of the wounded and sick soldiers? And if so, to what place in this city they can be sent, as there is certainly an urgent appeal for such a box to be sent, after the battles so bravely fought, yet purchased by so much suffering.

If a box is preparing, to what part of the country is it to be sent? and should not it be sent to some director of the "Sanitary committee?"

By answering these questions, you will oblige A SUBSCRIBER.

THE ROCKINGHAM COUNTY TEMPERANCE SOCIETY held its annual meeting at the Congregational Meeting House in Rye, Saturday, Feb. 22, 1862.

Rev. Mr. Dinsmore was chosen Chairman.

Rev. Mr. Chase opened the meeting by prayer.

Washington's Farewell Address was read by Rev. Mr. Dinsmore, followed by singing the 46th Psalm, and by remarks from Rev. Messrs. Miller, Otis, Chase, Pearce, and Dinsmore, and Mr. Cotton of North Hampton.

Notice was taken of the fact that intoxicating wines and liquors are more frequently offered at social parties, now, than in some years past,—affording prospect of an increased crop of drunkards shortly: and also of the usual effect of war, to increase dissipation and excess.

It was recommended to ministers and sabbath school teachers, to get up or revive Bands of Hope, or Cold Water Armies, among youth and children, pledging them as extensively as may be, to abstinence from intoxicating drinks; and to extend the pledges among all children in district schools and neighborhoods, as may be found practicable.

Favorable notice was also taken of the Sons and Daughters of Temperance.

The following officers were elected.

County Committee.—Revs. John Colby, Hampton; Ebenezer G. Parsons, Derry; J. H. Stearns, Epping; T. H. Miller, Portsmouth, Secretary.

Derry District Com.—Revs. E. G. Parsons, Derry; James Holmes, Auburn; H. O. Howland, Chester.

Deerfield Dist. Com.—Revs. Geo. W. Sargent, Raymond; S. P. Heath, Deerfield; J. H. Stearns, Epping.

Exeter Dist. Com.—Revs. Elias Nason, O. T. Lampbear, Exeter; Winthrop Fifield, So. Newmarket; Wm. H. Jones, Newmarket.

Portsmoeth Dist. Com.—Revs. T. H. Miller, Portsmouth; John Dinsmore, North Hamptoa; Eleazer Smith, Greenland.

Town Committees.—Rev. Mr. Hood, Nottingham; Josiah Robinson, Fremont.—In other towns, the same as last year.

The meeting was adjourned to meet at North Hampton in October.

☞ We received on Friday night, too late for our paper of the next morning, an account of the exercises at the Haven School on Friday afternoon. And we have not space for the communication this morning. We learn from it that this school, ordinarily numbering 150 scholars, under the superintendence of Mr. T. D. Foss, with two assistants, on that afternoon was reinforced by 50 boys and girls from the Intermediate Department, thus comfortably filling the school room, and presenting a beautiful assemblage of 200 bright and happy faces, surrounded by their parents and friends, the School Committee and their former beloved teacher, Mr. Alfred M. Hoyt The exercises began by the reading of the Farewell Address by Masters Arthur W. Fitzgerald and Frank W. Pickering, who alternately read sections until the whole was finished; performing the pleasant task in true manly style and receiving the enconiums of all. The whole school then sang the national hymn, "America," till the very school room seemed vocal with the patriotic strains. Brief and appropriate addresses were made by John E. Rider, Esq., Chairman of School Committee, Rev. A. J. Patterson, Rev. N. Medbury and Rev. Mr. Waterhouse.

☞ Rev. C. W. Denison, Chaplain in the U. S. service, will deliver a free lecture in the Temple on Friday evening next, on the duties of Union men in the present war for the Union. Mr. Denison has been with the U. S. troops on the coast since April, and has obtained many facts of interest and importance in relation to the present struggle. He lectured in Concord on Sunday evening last to an audience of over a thousand persons, and as he is well known to many of our citizens, we doubt not that an equal number will desire to listen to him here.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

MISSING:—PRIVATE WILLIAM SMITH.

Sergeant! enter on your roll,
Missing—Private William Smith."
Death is but a passing dream,
Life a false and shadowy myth
Comrades, close your gaping ranks!
He was of the first platoon
Missing private William Smith
Doubtless will be heard of soon.

Missing private William Smith
Led the charge that turned the day;
Through the thickest of the fight,
Step by step, he led our way
When I lost sa'w Private Smith
He was grimmed with smoke and gore;
What if Private William Smith
Should be heard of never more.

Comrades! soldiers should not mourn
He was every inch a man!
Men have fallen in the fight
Ever since the world began.
Yet I would I knew for truth,
Now the fight is past and done—
Missing private William Smith
Has a wife and little one.

Would I knew that clanking chains
Bound his iron muscles o'er!
Would I knew a prison wall
Hold his limbs, though wounded sore!
Would that missing Private Smith
May be heard of once again!
Wounded, captive, so that he
Be not of the nameless slain.

Missing private William Smith
Has a wife and little one;
She was once a love of mine,
Ere my life had acted on
I should hardly like to speak
To her of so strange a myth,
When the war is over, as
Missing private William Smith.

☞ The first Weekly newspaper in England was "The Weekly News" from Talie, Germanie, &c., "1622. The first advertisement was inserted about 1648. The first Daily morning newspaper was "The Daily Courant," London, 1702. The first evening paper was established in 1778—the first Sunday paper in 1788. The London Times first applied steam to printing in 1814.

It is recorded that Charles the Fifth, when he had abdicated the throne, and retired to the Monastery of St. Just, amused himself with the mechanical arts, and especially with that of a watchmaker. He was heard to exclaim one day, "what an egregious fool most I have been to have squandered so much blood and treasure in an attempt to make all men think alike, when I cannot even make a few watches keep time together."

An ill-mannered English officer lately had a lesson in etiquette taught him by the sabres of the Pope's guard for driving into the escort of his holiness on the public highway. The rude clown was nearly killed for his presumption. Decent people turn out or give full way for the Pope, but the Britisher thought it was pretty to disregard the custom.

A North Carolinian upon hearing that grass was growing in the streets of his native city became frantic with joy. The idea that grass would grow any where in North Carolina was perfectly delightful to him.—Pest.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (as per the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Elliby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the Un ted States: also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

This, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form so favorable for the speedy and early consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no runners or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive the same personal attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Ida Pike, daughter of Fife Major F. H. Pike, of the 4th N. H. V., was badly burned in Manchester, on Monday evening last by the upsetting of a Kerosene Lamp. She was attended by Dr. Wheet, but is in a critical condition.

—— The Mirror states that on Saturday evening, while a crowd were gathered around a bonfire in Manchester, some one thought to raise a little sport, and opened the engagement by projecting a snow ball to the opposite side of the crowd; it was returned, the missiles flew thicker and faster, the contestants came nearer, and the engagement was general. Finally some one was hurt, and, waxing wrathy, substituted pieces of ice for snow balls; others followed suit, and ice was again exchanged for firebrands and every shape of missile the combatants could lay hold of. The presence of the police was found necessary to quell the tumult. Several were more or less bruised, but none seriously.

☞ The Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Players, opened Naughton's new Music Hall, in Columbus, Ohio, on the 6th inst. The Ohio Statesman says hundreds were unable to gain admission. The Alleghanians are under the skillful "agency-ship" of Mr. D. G. Walton, for many years connected with the press on the Pacific coast.

☞ A correspondent recently returned from Richmond, Va., thus alludes to the position John Minor Botts is now placed in

"When in Richmond I saw Mr. Botts.—He is virtually a prisoner in his own house. When he gets a chance to speak he denounces the secession of Virginia, and says that it was a fatal act, and he hopes that a restoration of the Union may be effected."

☞ During the great storm of the 25th ult., so much snow blew into the river at Bennington as completely to dam it up, leaving the fish high and dry in the bed be low, where they were picked up "in quantities to suit consumers."

An exchange says: In England a fluent speaker is regarded as insincere. They do not believe that a conscientious adherence to truth can co-exist with rapidity of utterance. Gladstone and the Bishop of Oxford are the two most eloquent men in England, and no two are so universally distrusted.

In a church in Scotland the singers executed a fugue, and the hearers were astonished at the following entomological lesson: "And we'll catch the flee,
And we'll catch the flee,
And we'll catch the flee-ting hour."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischiefs are sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

A Washington dispatch says it is very evident from circumstances that Gen. Smith's division, including Gen. McCall's Pennsylvania reserves, will soon be encamped at Centreville.

From reconnoissances made it appears that the rebels are concentrating large forces on hills opposite Gen. Hooker's division.

It is supposed that no considerable force of rebels is left at Manassas. Many of their reenlisted men have gone home on furloughs for sixty days.

Dispatches from the West say the occupation of Nashville is confirmed. On Monday, 20,000 troops under Gen. Buell, entered and took possession without opposition. The telegraphic reports say:—

"Floyd fled as usual. The report that Gov. Harris had ordered all the Tennessee troops to lay down their arms and go home, is confirmed. It is reported that Commissioners have been appointed to confer with the Federal authorities at Washington to arrange terms for the transfer of allegiance, and that Gov. Harris offered to turn the rebel forces over to the Union. A gentleman from Nashville reports that the rebels will make another stand at Murfreesboro'.—All the troops had left Nashville except a police force.

"The Tennessee Legislature adjourned on Saturday week to meet again at Memphis on Monday next. When Gov. Harris fled with the Legislature to Memphis he burned the State library and distributed a large amount of commissary stores among the citizens. The stores were closed and business entirely suspended. The secessionists were leaving with their sick and negroes, following the Confederate army. No opposition to Union movements is made anywhere on the Cumberland.—It is reported that white flags are flying at Memphis."

Gen. Halleck on Tuesday morning telegraphed Gen. McClellan as follows:—

"Gen. Price's army has been driven from his stronghold at Cross Hollow. The enemy left his sick and wounded and such stores as he could not destroy. He burned his extensive barracks at that place to prevent our troops occupying them." Gen. Curtis says: "Most of our provisions for the last ten days have been taken from the enemy."

The Times' Washington dispatch says Gen. McClellan has received a dispatch from the West confirming the report that Nashville is taken by Gen. Buell's army, and the rebels have fallen back on Murfreesboro', about thirty miles South of Nashville.

The Tribune's dispatch says a proposition from the rebel leaders for a compromise has been submitted to our government, the gist of which is an armistice with a view to a peaceful adjustment of the difficulties and a convention of the States for a revision of the Constitution.

The gunboat Forbes was seen ashore near Sag's Head, on Friday.

☞ The attempt to lay a telegraph wire to connect Fortress Monroe with Washington, has failed. The steamer Hoboken laid 16 miles most successfully on Monday.—On Tuesday she was occupied in taking soundings, when the gale struck her. Her steam pipe broke soon after, and becoming unmanageable, she drifted ashore upon Cape Henry, and broke in two. She is a total loss. All hands were saved.

☞ The draft of 205 men for the sloop-of-war Constellation at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, arrived in this city on Wednesday, having come by railroad from Charlestown Navy Yard, under the charge of eight acting masters.

Lieut. G. M. Blodgett, the instructor in gunnery on board the Ohio at Boston, has been detached for duty on board the Sebago at Portsmouth.

IN THE U. S. CONGRESS on Tuesday, both Houses agreed to the report of the Committee of Conference on the Treasury Note bill. It retains the provisions that the notes shall be redeemable in five years, or payable in twenty years at the pleasure of the Government. It also makes duties on imports payable in coin, and pledges it to the payment of the interest on the notes and bonds. It strikes out the pledge of the public lands. The only amendment made to the United States Note Bill by the Committee of Conference at their second meeting, was of a very important character, viz: to receive $50,000,000 of demand notes heretofore authorized in payment of duties on imported goods, while apart from these such duties are to be paid in coin.

In the Senate, on Tuesday, a bill was introduced by Mr. Fessenden, and passed, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue to public creditors certificates of debt, in sums not less than $1000, bearing six per cent. interest, and payable within one year. This bill was also passed by the House.

The bill to prohibit officers of the army from returning fugitives from labor, on pain of dismissal from service, was taken up in the House, and amended so as to make the provisions of the bill apply to all persons employed in the military and naval service. As thus amended the bill finally passed by a vote of 83 yeas to 42 nays.

INDEPENDENT NOTES, No. 1.

Messrs. Editors:—I wish, with your permission, to present, from time to time, some notes and comments on various matters and things—facts and fancies—not connected or assorted, but "just as they come."

In view of the present war among ourselves, does it not seem a new illustration that nations, like individuals, do not, will not learn from the experience of others, nor heed the teachings of the past—but each rush into the same follies as their predecessors.

Who, but the wisest, would have ever believed that our country would ever be plunged into such a dreadful conflict?—Yes, we think all wars are dreadful, and not to be justified. Not that we would condemn our Government—that must be sustained, must sustain itself, if possible—and the only basis of human governments, so far, is the sword. But why could not the agitators of each and every section, long ago, have heeded the warning voices of statesmen, who predicted just this state of things? To be sure, "Man proposes, but God disposes;" but as far as mortal vision extends, it is the everlasting nigger question, mainly, which has brought us to this pass. Now we submit that the game is not worth the powder which is being expended upon it. That is to say, neither the success of pro-slavery or anti-slavery, in States or territories, is worth this horrid war. Better, on the one hand, for the North, that the slavocracy should have retained all the power the North charge it with having long unjustly wielded, in the Government; or on the other hand, better for the South, that the free soilers should gain forever all the power in the Government, which was the South's fear—better anything, almost, than this war.

"As much as is possible with you, live at peace with all men." How sweetly all agree to this, until our provocation comes—then off goes the coat, and our insult is avenged,—our wrong righted, perhaps.—Does anybody suppose that any quarrel was ever entered into, without each side justifying itself? And are not both sides usually to blame?

One of the saddest spectacles presented in this war, is the hostile attitude of the two sections of the Christian Church, North and South—or loyal and rebel, if you please. Names are not of much account—but it is the antagonism among men, among brothers, especially among christians, which we deplore. Think of holy men in each contending army, petitioning God for victory to perch on their opposing banners. Had the press and the church, in both sections of the Union, habitually discountenanced all sectional and hostile movements; in fact, had the church always kept itself aloof from party politics,—which it is easy enough to do, for those who are wise as serpents and harmless as doves—the evils we now deplore, might have passed from us or been materially lessened. And while we fully justify the Government in its offensive, or perhaps only defensive, movements to sustain itself—we see no justification for the carnal-mindedness of the Church.—That professes a different and higher basis than force, and should have been true to itself and its office, in persistently, consistently, preaching and praying for peace, peace; and not, forgotten its high mission, have helped to urge on the dogs of war. Alas! how are the mighty fallen! More anon.

YOURS, INDEPENDENT.

We have sometimes been curious to know if Prof. Agassiz writes his admirable articles for the Atlantic Monthly, for love or for money, as when we were once looking with delighted eye on his collection in Natural History at his house in Cambridge, he alluded to the great work of his life, "The Contributions to the Natural History of America," the publication of which was not then commenced, and said he "had no time and could not afford to make money," but at the same time offered, if we would start a New Hampshire Society of Natural History to give it an initiatory lecture free. Manchester Journal of Agriculture.

TERRIBLE FLOOD AT MECCA.—The following letter has been received at the office of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Boston:—

"BEIRUT, Jan. 15, 1862.

There has been a flood of rain at Mecca. Three hundred lives were lost, and one-third of the city destroyed; the great sacred mosque, Haram esh Sherif, flooded; the Holy Black Stone submerged, and the great library destroyed.

It should not be forgotten, in view of this, that the massacre in Damascus was planned and decided upon in that so-called holy city."

☞ The superintendent of the naval school at Newport is very much troubled by the dealers in liquor supplying the students with intoxicating drinks. The removal of the school is threatened, unless the City Council take immediate and severe measures for the suppression of tippling shops and houses of ill-fame.

☞ George Barstow, who was elected speaker of the House of Assembly of California, last month, was formerly a practitioner at the Suffolk bar, and is well known as the author of a history of New Hampshire.

☞ Secretary Stanton has granted a furlough of thirty days to the returned prisoners from Richmond.

ADDRESS OF THE N. H. UNION STATE COMMITTEE.

[Published by request.]

The people of New Hampshire, at the ensuing election, are invited to leave old party organizations, and to cast their votes for Paul J. Wheeler for Governor, always, in times past, acting with the democracy, and Josephus Baldwin, formerly a Whig, and more recently a Republican. These gentlemen are the nominees of a party which held its first Convention in this State on the 6th of this month. It is proper that those who have inaugurated this Union movement, should lay before the people some of the reasons which have impelled them to this course of action.

It will be remembered that, immediately after the fall of Sumter, there was, throughout the North, a general uprising of loyal sentiment in favor of the Constitution and the Union, and in support of the Government. Congress met, and it became their imperative duty, in order to satisfy the loyal feeling of all parts of the country, to declare the object of the war. There was then a wonderful unanimity of opinion on that point in Congress and out of Congress. Party strife was hushed for the moment in the presence of a common danger. It was universally known and acknowledged that the Constitution furnished the ground, and the only ground upon which the different parties could meet. Loyal men throughout the Union could join together in the contest to maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve it unchanged. The Representatives of the people in Congress assembled, faithful to the wishes of all loyal citizens, passed what is generally known as the Crittenden resolution. This resolution was in reality an invitation to patriotic men of all parties, and in all parts of the country, to rally to the support of the Government, for the purpose of crushing out rebellion and maintaining the Constitution, and for no other purpose whatever. We need not say that the invitation was accepted by the people in good faith, and responded to with zeal and alacrity. The doctrine of the Crittenden resolution became the settled policy of the President. No temptation was powerful enough to induce him to deviate therefrom. In word and deed he has proved himself a faithful servant of a loyal people.

These facts were all well known to the people of New Hampshire, before any movement was made in regard to the approaching election. The Union feeling was strong and outspoken throughout the State. There was an ardent desire among the loyal men of the Republican and Democratic parties to stand side by side, and vote together for the good of their common country. They were agreed; agreed, too, upon vital issues; on issues of overwhelming importance; upon the only issues involved in the election. Why should they be obliged to stand apart, and forced to assume the attitude of political enemies?

It was surely a very just expectation on our part, that those who had been selected as managers of the two political parties, would do whatever might be in their power to consolidate the Union sentiment of the State, and not to divide it.

How did the State Central Committees of the two parties deal with it?

No overtures looking to a possibility of a union were made by either Committee to the other. The Democratic Committee entirely ignored the existence of any desire for a union among the people, and called their convention as though nothing of much importance to the country had happened since the election in 1861. The Convention met and nominated a strictly party candidate. A platform was adopted, the merits or demerits of which we shall not pause to discuss at length. It proclaims many doctrines which an earnest people engaged in a life-and-death struggle for national existence, cannot fail to consider obsolete and impertinent. It suffices to say of it that, in time of war it is deemed enough to announce that the Army of the Democracy "the only sure means by which the present war can be brought to an honorable close," and thereby places itself in an attitude of avowed hostility to an administration which has been tried and found faithful. It also offers to the people, not the entire Crittenden Resolution, but only an expurgated edition, ignoring its declaration of the object of the war, and while it contains covert charges that very many of the acts of the administration are unconstitutional and despotic, there is nowhere an unqualified denunciation of the present treasonable armed attempt to subvert the Constitution. It honors the motives with which brave men have joined the army, but studiously fails to approve the act, and insinuates that the support of their families be made dependent upon private benefactions.

As to the Republican State Central Committee, we can say that they seemed to yield to the wishes of the people, and called a Union Convention in name. Beyond doubt very many leading men of the Republican party desired that their Convention should afford a ground of union for all loyal men in the State, and that it should be a Union Convention in reality.

Some Democrats were chosen as delegates to the Convention, in consequence of the liberality of the call; still, it is well known that the principle upon which the Convention was called in consequence of his claims growing out of party usage. Those claims were undoubtedly well-founded, if the Convention was a Republican Convention. But it is impossible to discover the least shadow of foundation for them, if the Convention was in truth, what it purported to be—a Union Convention. Of course, it is mere foolishness to talk about the claims of any person upon a Convention which originates a new political movement. Now it could hardly be expected that Democrats, in any considerable number, should leave their own party and give their support to an organization which was more intent upon maintaining its own existence, than upon giving a true expression to the Union sentiment of the people.

We, therefore, call the Convention a failure as a Union Convention, though sufficiently successful as a Republican one. Its nominations were not Union nominations, and its platform was not a Union platform. It is quite a significant fact, considered in connection with the history of the times, that the platform contains no endorsement of the Crittenden Resolution, and makes no allusion to it whatever. It is quite as significant, that it contains no endorsement of the policy of the President. We desire to fix the attention of the people upon the real nature of the endorsement, which this adroitly worded plat form gives, of Mr. Lincoln's administration.

The 2nd Resolution states "That the present war is prosecuted for the integrity of the Union, the preservation of the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Government." This is all right, so far as it goes, but it will be observed that no pains are taken to guard against the inference that the war may also be prosecuted for some purpose other than those stated in the Resolution. The 3d Resolution is as follows:—"Resolved, That we fully endorse the wisdom, patriotism and ability of the President and his Constitutional advisers, and that as the great work of the administration is the suppression of the rebellion and the salvation of the country, that administration deserves and ought to receive the cordial and earnest support of every true and patriotic citizen." Notice, first, that the Resolution studiously avoids endorsing the policy of the President in conducting the war. Notice, in the second place, that the declaration that the administration deserves the support of every true and patriotic citizen, is coupled with a clause which reads very much like a provision.

What was the difficulty in making the recommendation to support the administration absolute? What was the necessity of impairing its force by connecting it with a sentence which certainly gives a very guarded and defective description of the "great work" of the administration? We feel sure that the President considers that it is a part of the "great work of the administration" to see that the war is prosecuted with no "purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any of the States." Will the Republican party all unite in recommending that the President be cordially supported in carrying on that "great work"?

We earnestly desire that the voters of New Hampshire will take the trouble to contrast this carefully-written, equivocal and defective endorsement, with the Resolution passed by the Union Convention on that point. They will discover how easy it is to endorse an administration, when its policy is really approved of.

We may add that the other Conventions in this State have been called and held, with scarcely an exception, strictly as party Conventions. Thus no ground of Union has been furnished to the people of the State, notwithstanding their desire for it; and notwithstanding that, when the nation is engaged in a struggle for its very existence, a struggle that is taxing the whole power of the loyal States, the safety of the country must depend, not on the triumph of one party or the other, but on the united efforts of all loyal men to sustain the Government, and to maintain the integrity of the Union and the supremacy of the Constitution.

The patriotism of that man at the North must be weak indeed, if it will permit him to cling to his old party organization, when he sees that the treason at the South has effaced all party distinctions, except that between loyal and disloyal men. Can not a union of loyal men, to save their country from the attacks of disloyal men united to destroy it, be effected? Is it not most desirable to have such a union, and in what way can it be brought about? Obviously not by one party giving up its organization and joining the other, while that other continues to maintain its old organization, and recognizes the claims upon it of objectionable men to be nominated by its Conventions.

Clearly, then, Republicans who insist upon clinging to their old organization, and refuse to act politically with loyal Democrats, earnest in support of the President and his policy, unless such Democrats will join their party, are open to a charge of regarding the welfare of their party above that of their country. Loyal men now offer to all other loyal men in the State an opportunity to come together upon an equal footing, no matter whether they have acted heretofore as Democrats or Republicans.

For the foregoing reasons, we do not hesitate to assert that a union of loyal men is necessary, and is ardently desired by the people of New Hampshire: that the opportunity for such union is now for the first time offered them. We say, further, that the Union party is the only party in the State which is heartily and unconditionally loyal to the administration and its policy; and it is a matter of congratulation that in thus being loyal, we are also heartily and unconditionally loyal to the Constitution and the Union. We therefore invite all loyal men to join us.

☞ An important order was issued on Tuesday from the War Department, to the effect that on the 26th inst. the United States Government would take military possession of all telegraph lines. The transmission by telegraph of any intelligence relating to the war, except by permission of the military authorities, is forbidden; and the publication of any such news, however obtained, is prohibited, unless the consent of the same authorities is first obtained.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE BLIND, or those who are nearly so. Dr. Dessauer is coming this way again, and will be at the Franklin House on the 3d March, with a full assortment of spectacles, eye glasses, etc. Dr. D. has so frequently traded with our people that no word of recommendation is necessary.

☞ On Tuesday afternoon, at Newington, Mr. ISAAC DOW, aged about 74 years, was killed by the falling of the roof of his shed, which was heavily laden with snow. He was an active man for one of his years, and had been out of his house alone, perhaps half an hour, attending to his stock, as usual; and when found was lifeless.

Mr. Dow was a native of Rye, and formerly lived in this city, where he was generally known and respected as a faithful mechanic and worthy man. For many years past he has lived on his farm in Newington, where he leaves a family and a social circle, in which his loss is severely felt. His funeral is to take place on Saturday.

☞ The schooner Anaconda, Ward, from Parsboro', N. S., for New York, loaded with potatoes, put into the Lower Harbor on Monday afternoon, and near Clark's Island cast two anchors for the night. In the gale of that evening, she dragged both anchors, (an instance almost unknown there before, so an old sea-faring man tells us:) and was only prevented going ashore on Gerrish's Island, by cutting away her masts. She now rides clear, except at low water, though much loaded with ice; and will probably be towed up to this city to-day, for discharge, repairs, &c. But one man and a boy were aboard at the time; two men having come up to town for provisions. On their return where they left her, they could not find their vessel; and after suffering considerably from exposure to the storm, they rowed to Newcastle and spent the night.

☞ During the gale, Monday night, part of a chimney was blown down at the house of Paymaster Bleecker, at the Navy Yard here, some of the bricks passing through the roof, but fortunately no person was injured.

The ship Constellation also twice broke her fasts, but was brought to an anchor by the watchmen.

☞ A house was struck by lightning in Lowell on Monday afternoon, and badly injured.

☞ A verdict has been rendered in Col. Kerrigan's case, the court martial finding him guilty of unbecoming conduct as an officer and gentleman.

Punch says that the Americans have got the tic dollar eux! and is sadly perplexed to know how they are to be cured.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partizan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution, and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MONTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be ganged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Morning Chronicle.

From the Saturday Evening Gazette.

A WORK-DAY LYRIC.

Put on thy working dress, my soul,
The sabbath-time of rest give o'er;
Too long has slumber held thy body,
With labor spread thy steps before.

Tis not for thee in halcyon bowers
To taste the sweets of summer calm,
And wear away the decling hours,
Mid dulcet strains and airs of balm.

Thou'rt called unto a precious trust—
A wide domain demands thy care,
To vivify its torpid clay,
And raise a grand perfection there.

Illimitable is the field
On which thou destined art to toil,
That good and evil fruits will yield
From active seed and teeming soil.

God help thee in thy strong essay.
My soul, scarce med to strife like this;
With an abiding trust in Deity,
And find, in duty done, thy bliss.

Pluck up the tares of sin and pride,
Prune off excrescences of vice,
Till in this garden is decided Similitude of Paradise.

This garden is thine own domain,
Its flowers and weeds are all thine own;
And every muscle in thy frame,
Else good in thee is overgrown.

Toil on until the Master choose,
And then, when summoned by His love,
No guerdon for thy toil thou'lt lose
In the great Harvest Home above. B.P.S.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents not to be obtained by the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all four of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

THE INTELLIGENT ARMY.

The Boston Post has an editorial article on "the Intelligence of our Army," based on the large number of letter writers, and readers, and the abundance of books and papers in our army, and after a favorable estimate of our soldiers on these accounts, it comes to this happy conclusion:

A Davis and a Beauregard could never take such men, either as citizens, or soldiers, and make them believe in any such accursed heresy, as that of secession, and influence them to take up arms and sustain them in an insane crusade upon the Union. If the citizens of the South—the soldiers taken at Hatteras—had had the advantages of schools, of religious instruction, of newspaper and miscellaneous reading, which have been enjoyed by the soldiers of the North, they would not have been deluded into this suicidal contest.

All this is perfectly true; and now, asks Uncle Toby, why do not the citizens of the South, and the soldiers of Hatteras, have these same advantages as the soldiers of the North? No true answer can be given, except that the system of slavery, which crushes down the black men, drags down the poor white man also into ignorance, and the richer white man into a vicious selfishness, and creates a social system favorable to such adventurers as Davis and Beauregard. This system enabled them and such as they to make the rebellion and the war.

And this, (continues the Post,) is what we are fighting for to-day, to keep the Government to that high standard of justice which will not rest content without providing for the utmost liberty of the citizens, and for these advantages that will give the highest possible intelligence and culture to all. For this we are fighting.

This is all very good, and we hope it may prove to be true. But will it be constitutional for the Government of the United States to have a standard of justice, so high as to give the citizens of the South as much intelligence as the soldiers of the North now have? This would require an entire reconstruction of Southern Society, including the destruction of the slave system, and "giving the highest possible culture to all."

In the same paper, close at hand, we find this item:—

Victory without abolition, peace without the aid of negroes, returning allegiance without the violation of a single principle of our institutions—these, says the Detroit Free Press, are the glorious fruits of the resistance by the President, McClellan and Stanton, of the Abolitionists. The South begins to know that its leaders have lied—that the North does not desire to rob it of its property. Hence the tide is turning—the Union sentiment revives, and followers drop off from Jeff. Davis. These are the fruits of a conservative policy.

As a curious commentary on all these things, we have now before us a statement from Mr. Pierce U. S. Government Agent at Port Royal, that he has before him 200 plantations, and near 10,000 people, late the slaves of rebels, for whom he asks a system of organized and paid labor, to be set in motion immediately. He says:

The laborers themselves, no longer slaves of their former masters, or of the government, but as yet in large numbers unprepared for the full privilege of citizens, are to be treated with sole reference to such preparation.

When we read these three variant extracts, we were disposed to think a great revolution is going on, and will go on, not such a revolution as the leading rebels aimed at, but the real consequence of the ball they set in motion. That ball rolls in a different direction from their desires, but it has got a rolling, and neither they nor their treacherous allies can stop it. They have struck a fatal blow, aimed at liberty, but in its recoil it has inflicted a mortal wound on their peculiar institution, which was to be the foundation of their New Kingdom.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Cairo says:—

"The mortar fleet is finished. Nothing has transpired in reference to Columbus.—Reports from rebel sources represent that a stand will be made at Columbus, Randolph and Memphis. Forces are concentrating at the latter place and the streets are barricaded with cotton bales. The reports of the pacification of Tennessee are denied. The last Murfreesboro' papers contain a savage war speech from Gov. Harris."

The accounts respecting the retreat of the rebels from Nashville and the occupation of the city by the Fedralists, are in some respects contradictory, but of the principal fact—viz., that the city is in possession of our troops—there seem to be no doubt. A dispatch from Fort Donelson, dated Tuesday, says:—

"A boat just from Clarksville, reports the evacuation of Nashville by the rebels. The Union citizens of that place sent a boat to Clarksville, which towed up one of our gunboats for their protection. The rebels, with Gov. Harris, retreated to Murfreesboro'. Harris burnt all the State documents before leaving. Gen. Grant has declared martial law over Western Tennessee, with the understanding that when a sufficient number of citizens of the State return to their allegiance and show a desire to maintain law and order over the territory all military restrictions shall be withdrawn. Postal facilities are extended to Clarksville, and the mail will follow the flag."

The Navy Department has received dispatches from Commodore Goldsborough, dated Feb. 20. The light house at Cape Hatteras may now be lighted with perfect safety. The names of the rebel vessels destroyed by our vessels since the fleet reached Hatteras Island, are the Sea Bird, Forrest, Curlew, and Fanny—all steamers, and schooner Black Warrior. The steamer Ellis was captured. A new gun-boat on the stocks at Elizabeth City was destroyed. Six of the above vessels were well-armed. All except the Curlew were destroyed or captured in the attack on Elizabeth City. All except the one on the stocks were struck by our projectiles.

The actual number of prisoners taken at Roanoke Island is 2488.

It is reported that John Bell has become insane, that Floyd has been killed, and that Breckinridge is now a notorious drunkard.

Gens. Buckner and Tilghman passed through Cleveland on Thursday, en route for Fort Monroe, Boston, in charge of a Col. Coates.

THE TREASURY NOTE BILL has passed both Houses of Congress, been approved and signed by the President and is a law. The new Notes are made a legal tender, and the same provision is now applied to the first fifty millions of demand notes. The bill authorizes the issue of $150,000,000, a legal tender in the payment of all debts public and private. It withdraws the fifty millions of the July issue as soon as it can conveniently be done, makes the new notes fundable at any time in six per cent. twenty year bonds, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after five years; makes the interest on the notes and bonds payable in coin, and makes the duties on imports payable in coin or treasury notes, and devotes them to the payment of the interest on the notes and bonds and the creation of a sinking fund by setting apart one per cent. of the amount. The provision insisted on by the Senate, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to sell six per cent. bonds, for what they will fetch, in order to raise coin for interest, is retained in the bill. At the funded debt is exempt from taxation. Authority is given to temporarily deposit demand notes, to the extent of twenty-five millions of dollars, on an interest of six per cent. after thirty days.

The bill has received the advice, revision, and sanction of merchants, bankers, and men of business, in New York, Boston, and elsewhere:—and it is an important step, not only as affording relief to a scanty treasury, —but as providing a uniform currency for all parts of the country.

The provision for funding $500,000,000 in U. S. Bonds, with interest paid in coin, will afford a chance for safe investment of trust funds of all descriptions.

It was strictly a war measure: but its consequences reach forward to years and business of peace, long in the future.

It agrees in some particulars with Gen. Jackson's idea of a national bank, but not with Mr. Benton's hard currency.

☞ The new tea plants are now in bloom in the national conservatory at Washington. They bear a white flower, and fill the air with a delightful perfume.

A proper regard for the feelings of our fellow-men in one's breast, and a civil tongue in his head, are better weapons of defence to the person than bowie knives and revolvers.

MOUNT WASHINGTON IN FEBRUARY. One of the party has furnished the following account of an ascent of Mt. Washington in February,—a feat, it is said, never before accomplished in winter:—

Mr. Editor:—Early in the morning of February 10th, 1862, F. White, C. C. Brooks and J. H. Spaulding, all of Lancaster, N. H., started from that place for the top of Mount Washington. We found the roads bad, and arrived at the Glen at dark that day. Having previously determined to spend the first night at "the Ledge," (half way up the mountain,) we resolved to go on without sleep. After partaking of a substantial supper at the Glen House, Mr. Thompson and wife kindly offered us any needful thing that might be lacking for our excursion. When all had expressed good wishes for our success, we said "good night" and started at 8 o'clock up the mountain.—The moon was shining brightly as, with ample packs, filled with blankets and provisions, we slowly walked up the Carriage Road on snow-shoes. The night was still, and highly excited as we were by the thoughts of the adventure before us, the spring of our shoes on the glittering crusts seemed music to us, while the tree-shadow thrown across our path, and the white winding road contrasting with the dark evergreen thickets, combined to make our night walk quite varied in incidents; and it was past midnight when we arrived at the Ledge.—The great barn built there last season, we found in ruins; and this with the fire-scathed trees, boldly relieved by moonlight—the glittering ledge, and the dark old shanty in the back ground—combined to present a wild picture. At the shanty we kindled a fire—took a lunch— and upon an old straw bed lay down on a snow drift and drowsed till daybreak.

At sunrise we started for the "Tip Top," without snow-shoes. Soon began the labor of advancing by cutting steps in the ice.—When we halted to rest we noticed the stillness that reigned around; not a breath of air—not a sound of running water—for beneath a wintry robe every waterfall was chained. How like, blank solitude was this death-like silence! yet, its loneliness was enlivened by the wonderful and wide-spread landscape beneath and around us. Far away, and near at hand, arose glittering peaks: a thousand pyramids of smoke hung above dark objects, that were roughly set in wide white margin. What a host of hopes, fears, joys and sorrows, were grouped in these homes below! About five miles up, we came to a wide field of ice, where we could not possibly advance without cutting deep steps. As the pieces of ice went whirling down like a heavy shower of hail, at least eight hundred feet below, a shudder, such as teaches poor mortality its weakness, came over us. One false step or careless motion, in such a place, would have sent us down—down and given us a name with other victims of rashness. About six miles up, we came to a deep drift that covered many acres, and here, not being able to follow the road, we wandered a long way over snow thrown up and hardened in fanciful wavy shapes. At one place we climbed through the tops of a dwarf growth, that had the appearance of a buried wilderness. Here we took a lunch, and in a brisk south wind that had been rising for the first half hour, found the temperature 27° above zero.—Looking toward Mount Carter, we beheld a long line of black storm-clouds, with rainbow-tinted borders, whirling wildly over, and filled with fear for the coming night, up we hastened—yet gained our object slowly—for at one time, when I had slipped down, I looked, and both of my companions were down too; but remembering the old adage that "misery loves company," I kept silent.

As we approached the Tip Top, a heavy black cloud was wildly whirling over; and as the wind with a roar like thunder drove the wintry mass toward us, we became enveloped in its embrace, and soon the snow and frost had so whitened us, that perchance old winter was never better personated. Words imperfectly picture the scene that the Tip Top presented. The two houses stand out in bold relief, and every rock heap and great rock about the summit is now to be seen through a thick covering of glittering ice. Crusted leaves of snow stand out from the jagged parts on the northerly side, in all the imaginable and fanciful shapes that the frost ever painted on window glass. For the last half mile below the top, we could distinctly see, through the ice and snow, the wheel tracks made in the carriage road last season; and with the exception of now and then a deep drift, the whole mountain summit showed its rocks. There is a great drift at the southerly end of the two houses, and hardened snow has levelled up the irregular top, so that with the exception of the eternal wind, it is comfortable walking on the crusted or ice-pointed snow. The tops of both houses are thickly coated with solid ice—rough and pointed in all imaginary shapes. We walked up on to the drift—broke away the ice from the southerly gable-end window of the Summit House, and taking out a window, entered the attic, where, after removing the snow, we brought up from the darkness and icy confusion of a lower room, a stove—got some wood from the Tip Top House—kindled a fire and piling around our little stove a barricade of mattresses prepared to pass the night. The heavy wind swept by like thunder as we slept. Two days' labor and excitement, with our midnight walk to "the Ledge," had imposed quite a tax upon our powers of endurance, and we heeded not the tempest then gathering, but late in the morning we found our habitation in a wild, thick storm. Language cannot paint the hopes and fears that struggle in the mind at such a time—but to make the best of our condition, we prepared for a siege and looked about. The interior of both houses we found much deranged by the winter storm. Snow and ice, from three inches to five feet thick, lay piled in all directions—the furniture being most curiously set in white feathery casings. In the bar-room we noticed a spade which was cased in clear ice, and in one place a little cord suspended from the roof had assumed the appearance of a glass tube some two inches thick and two feet long. The cloth roofing and wall paper are in many rooms torn down, while fancy snow wreaths and icicles are all around upon the walls and roofs. The darkened windows, with the thick covering without, combined with the ceaseless roar of the wind, gave the whole scene a chilling air of desolation.

To conclude without longer taxing the reader's patience, we stayed two days and two nights on the top of Mount Washington—experienced the effect of a wild snow storm that drove by us for thirty-six hours—had one of the most magnificent sunrise scenes that imagination can picture—saw the sun go down in a vast snow-bank—saw moonlight upon a hundred glittering peaks—found the most extreme cold while there indicated at 5° below zero—returned to the Glen in a thick snow storm, and now feel perfectly satisfied with our trip.

We were remarkably well favored by the weather, and were very lucky about climbing over ice-clad rocks. Should others attempt to go up among the clouds, for their own sake they should go thoroughly prepared for the worst. An iron-pointed staff, with an axe, and plenty of food and clothing, are indispensable. J. H. S.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.

Messrs. Editors:—The anniversary of Washington's birth-day has been celebrated to-day with more than ordinary zeal, from one end of the island to the other, and flags in large numbers float from house and store-tops, to arouse the patriotism of the citizens, already exuberant over the Union victories in the West.

The streets abounded in ice, mud, pretty women, boot-blacks, and soldiers;—George Washington, in bust, of every material, from plaster to marble, ornamented the windows, and flags floated over the doorways, mottoed with quotations from speeches, which spoken by any other man would have been stale long ago, while diminutive specimens of humanity, in ragged apparel, retailed colored wood-cut representations of the patriot, with the cry of "'Ere you are, George Washington only 'er cent!"

Most of the stores closed at noon, salutes were fired, and bells rung at morning, noon and eve, the 8th, 11th, 22d, and 71st Regiments paraded at 2 o'clock, followed by a partial illumination of the city in the evening.

The grand event of the week has been the annual recurrence of the ball given by the "Light Guard," (a favorite military organization since 1827,) always one of the greatest festivals of the season.

Language cannot adequately describe the splendors of the occasion, or convey to you any idea of the grand effect of the magnificent preparations. The whole body of the Academy of Music was floored over, and crowded with dancers,—so crowded in fact that proper sets could not be formed till midnight—and all this throng in their gay apparel, the familiar white coats and blue trimmings of the "Light Guards," the music camp at one end of the room, arrayed with cannon, ammunition and equipage, the music of Dodworth's two bands, the warbling of a thousand canaries, who in cages hanging from the "dress circle, in gushing trills from their tiny throats seemed to struggle for the supremacy of nature over art, the thousands of richly attired spectators in the boxes," and the decorations of the building, all combined to form a scene of magnificence, to dazzle the eye and call forth spontaneously an enthusiastic burst of commendation. The struggling beams of the rising February sun lighted homeward many of the revelers.

On the day before the anniversary we celebrate, Gordon, for transporting a cargo of benighted negroes from the horrors of African barbarism, was hung. While in the torpor resulting from the poison taken, the time for the execution was hastened two hours, lest the twelve judicial murderers should be cheated of their victim; and while they were sipping their wine at dinner, the soul of the prisoner was ushered into eternity from the end of a hempen rope—and the page of history, already darkened by the vilest deeds, blotted with a crime which overshadows them all.

Two years ago to day the mail bag took to you my first letter, and with some fear I waited the coming of the paper which bore the imprint of my first attempt—a lonely bark launched upon the sea of public opinion, and since then one letter has followed another, and I have discoursed to you of politics, military, private and public gossip—ideas having, if none other, the merit of originality; and trust I have to yourself and readers acceptably filled the space allotted. Two years have flowed by, bringing varied results to us all, for even as the roses are composed of the sweetest flowers and sharpest thorns, as the heavens are sometimes overcast—alternately tempestuous and serene, so is life intermingled with hopes and fears, joys and sorrows with pleasures and pains—but even to those most sorely afflicted, there must come golden moments which in fleeting, leave a memory lingering and precious, like those rare perfumes contained in crystal tubes that must be shattered before the hidden essence can be exhaled.

Leaving the past, we look forward, knowing that One who rules the future will so temper our joys and sorrows that we may bear them, trusting that the Divine Hand leading us through paths that we know not, will at last bring us to a place of rest so blessed that we shall hardly know how to realize our own happiness; and so, kind friends, with a grateful heart for the favors and honors at your hands we enter upon another term;—who of us shall see its close?

☞ The snow which was blown upon the track by the high wind which prevailed on Monday night and throughout Tuesday, has seriously interfered with the running of the railroad trains since then. This has been particularly the case with the trains running between this city and Portland. The trains which left here on Tuesday morning and afternoon did not reach that city until one o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They remained at South Berwick on Tuesday night, as three engines were off the track at Wells,—badly damaged and completely blocking up the track.

The passenger trains from this city and Portland on Wednesday proceeded as far as the scene of this disaster, where the mails and the passengers were exchanged, and the two trains returned to their starting-points—that for this city arriving here about eleven o'clock P. M. On Thursday, the track having been partially cleared, the two trains from Portland arrived in this city in the afternoon.

The snow had blown in upon the track to a great depth in some places, and was so extremely hard and solid that it was removed with great difficulty. This has occasioned the most serious detentions of trains that have occurred during the present winter; indeed they have seldom been equalled for several years past.

☞ Rev. Mr. Denison is to give a free lecture at the Temple this (Friday) evening, upon a subject which now deeply interests all classes of persons; and as he has been in the service of the government since the commencement of the present war, he will doubtless be enabled to present it in such a manner as well to repay his audience for their attendance.

☞ Ship Prima Donna, Harriman, at San Francisco, from New York, was 40 days to the equator in the Atlantic (15 days becalmed in lat. 30 N.) 31 days thence to lat. 50 S.; was off Cape Horn 18 days; was 24 days from the Cape to the equator in the Pacific; 21 days thence to port; made the entrance to harbor of San Francisco 134 days out; after then was off the port with thick fogs and heavy weather; was up to the bar three times in 8 fathoms water, but was forced to keep off the land, it blowing very heavy; split sails in trying to get off.

Ship Henrietta Marcy, Keyser, from Rio Janeiro for Payta, with coal, which put into Valparaiso Jan. 6th, was leaking. She was in port repairing on the 18th.

The Louisville Journal gives currency to a rumor that the notorious Gen. John B. Floyd was killed the night he so ingloriously fled from Fort Donelson. There being a great scramble to get aboard the steamers, Floyd stood at the gangway of one of the boats, and with a drawn sword beat off the troops, permitting only his favorites to get aboard. A lieutenant not in that category was advancing to embark, when Floyd ordered him off, but not being obeyed struck him on the shoulder with his sword, inflicting a severe wound. The lieutenant thereupon instantly drew his pistol and shot Floyd dead. So the story runs, but it is hardly probable.

NAVAL.—Capt. Philip F. Voorhees, U. S. N., died in Annapolis very suddenly on Monday morning. He was appointed from New Jersey, but has long resided at Annapolis.

Commodore Stringham will be presented on Thursday evening with an elegant sword by a committee of the citizens of Brooklyn, N. Y.

☞ A Washington dispatch says the Senate Naval Committee will report a reduction in the salaries of navy officers, 20 per cent. on the highest, 15 on intermediate, and 10 on lower; also the abolition of all navy agencies and naval storekeepers' offices and live oak agencies, transferring the duties thereof to paymasters on duty at or near the different navy yards.

☞ Mr. Thomas Biddle of Pennsylvania has been confirmed as Secretary of Legation to Brazil. This is the place to which Rev. J. C. Fletcher was said to be appointed, some time since,—but before the appointment was made he had withdrawn his papers, it being necessary for him to visit Brazil on quite a different mission.

—— On Thursday last, as Mr. Luther Wallace was assisting in removing an engine in the Northern Engine House, Concord, he was crushed between the engine and an iron post, and injured so that he died, on Monday night.

☞ Col. Washington Seawell, Sixth Infantry; Lieut. Col. George Andrews, Sixth Infantry, and Maj. Wm. Austine, Third Artillery, U. S. A., have been retired by the Board of Examination—their inability to perform duty having resulted from long and faithful service.

☞ A large fire on the main land was seen from Hatteras on Monday morning. It was still burning when the steamer Spaulding left in the evening.

☞ President Felton, of Harvard College, died at Chester, Penn., on Wednesday.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, a resolution was adopted tendering the thanks of the Board to Capt. Davidson and the officers and men under him, for performing escort duty on the 22d inst.; also, to the society of Odd Fellows and other associations participating in the celebration of that day.

The committee on the Fire Department reported it was inexpedient to procure a building in which to wash hose, and recommended that water be introduced into each of the engine houses.

A special committee reported that, as the city now has six fire engines in good order and as the city has no reservoirs of sufficient capacity to supply a steamer, it was not expedient to procure a steam fire-engine at the present time: it was recommended that a reservoir be built upon Haymarket square, and that when it becomes necessary to purchase an engine, it be a steamer.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

A SEAL SHOT IN SALEM HARBOR.—On Friday forenoon a seal was seen in North River, above the bridge, swimming up and down the stream. He was fired at twice by Mr. L. A. Smith, who lives in the neighborhood, the second shot making the water bloody and evidently killing the seal, which sunk and floated down the stream. The seal was taken near Carlton's wharf, on Saturday. It measured five feet in length, and weighed 134 pounds.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him, able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PRAYER.—If, however, man be a moral agent, having the power i. e. to choose between right and wrong, to do right and wrong, susceptible of approval and blame, and responsible; if, again, he be intelligent and reasonable, capable of foresight and of understanding the results of things—if thus he be verily in the image of God, a free agent and a spiritual being, with some decisive power over his destiny, the objection is baseless and prayer sustained. Talk of prayer changing the counsels of the Almighty for such a being! Why, the very idea of his being free excludes the possibility of any such counsels. The only counsels of the Almighty possible for him, are that his freedom shall be respected, that every right aid required shall be given, and that every motive shall be presented that can legitimately be brought to bear on a moral agent to save him from wrong and lead him to perfection. Such counsels need no changing. In making man free and reasonable God gives into his hand the making of his own future.

He respects the freedom he gives, too much to interfere with it. He treats man as one free being will treat another—letting him alone i. e. unless where his aid is sought or required. So careful is he to do this that he never obtrudes himself into our presence, tho' ever by to watch over and protect; so scrupulous that he will not give us even a potato unless we pray for it with plow and hoe; nor a gunboat unless we ask him with all the prayer that the mechanical science of the world has taught us. He has put within us the power to ask him and given us there an assurance so strong that he will hear and help us, that in the unaffected moments of childhood, and of awful peril, we cry out to him as if we saw him with our eyes. What more have we a right to expect? To do for us exactly as well as if we used every power were not a kindness but an interference, highly perilous to our souls. No right mind could desire that, nor could any true love do it.

Nor need we say that henceforth we will refrain from asking, and confine ourselves to thanksgiving, praise and contemplation. Asking is natural to us. We cannot avoid it without doing violence to our nature. It is not necessarily selfish. It is often the very triumph of humility. Every busy devoted life is a life of asking. From the laborious toiler in the earth's spring furrow, covering the seed of future bread, up to the lonely Saviour on his mountain top, continuing all night in prayer to God, asking is the voice of all human toil. Tho' one asks for pity, and another for the good of all souls, it is asking still. Nor is it absurd to ask because we expect to receive. It is what we are pretty sure will come, that we are apt to ask for. Only he of uncommon resolve can ask where he has no hope of receiving. Where he knows he will not receive, no one will ask.—Frothingham.

☞ Four of the Illinois regiments that share in the glory of Fort Donelson were fresh from the camps of enlistment, which they left within two weeks of the battle.—Senator Trumbull stated in the Senate that there were but 23,000 instead of 40,000 or 50,000 troops, as first reported, in Gen. Grant's army, which defeated a body of Rebels of about the same number in their chosen and strongly intrenched positions.

CABBAGE.—A New Haven boy finding a load of cabbages standing on the street, mounted the wagon and began to sell the vegetables. He had a good trade and sold most of the goods, when he saw the proprietor coming and left.

M. Fould has given the sum of 30,000 fr., or £1200, for a stallion. This, according to the Sport newspaper, is the largest sum ever given in France for a horse.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—It commonly and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1862.

☞ What are called by the newspapers carnivals on the ice are quite fashionable in many of the cities. They have had one or two in Portland recently, which have been very successful and have given a large amount of pleasure both to participators and spectators.

A pleasant feature in the celebration of the 22d in Portland, was a grand free ride for the children: the city and express teams, and many private teams were furnished gratuitously, and about 1200 boys and girls enjoyed the afternoon hugely,—175 vehicles of all descriptions being supplied for them.

The sleighing on the Milldam, out of Boston, having continued briskly all through the season and attained its greatest excitement on Washington's birth-day, such a spectacle has scarcely ever been witnessed in that neighborhood before. Somebody had the curiosity to make a count, and counted over thirty-one hundred teams, none of which were loth to enter upon a short "spurt" with anything else on the road.

THE CHARGE AT FORT DONELSON.—A letter from Capt. L. D. Wadd-H, of Co. E, 11th Illinois volunteers, to his father in New York, says that out of eighty five men in his company but seven remain alive—the most wholesale slaughter that was ever heard of. This was the color company, at which the rebels took particular aim; as fast as one man who carried the colors would be shot, another would take his place; but the flag was brought through. Only one hundred and sixteen remain in the 11th regiment uninjured.

☞ A few mornings since, while some of the troops encamped at the United States Arsenal at Augusta, Me., were discharging their muskets, a bullet entered a dwelling on State street, passed through a room, and lodged in the partition opposite. And a few days after, while the House of Representatives was in session, a sharp snap was heard at one of the windows, and the Messenger picked up a pistol bullet which had carelessly been discharged in that direction.

HORRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A steam engine on the New York and Erie Railroad, while crossing a road near the Dunkirk station, ran against a sleigh occupied by Mr. James of Sheridan and his wife. The latter jumped to the track immediately in front of the engine, and was instantly crushed beneath it. Mr. James escaped harm, but on seeing his wife, thus mangled, leaped from his sleigh, exclaiming, "You have killed my wife!" and fell to the earth dead.

☞ Secretary Stanton has appointed a special commission, consisting of Maj. Gen. John A. Dix, and the Hon. Edward Pierrepont, of New Jersey, to examine the cases of the State prisoners in the military custody of the United States, and to determine whether they shall be discharged, or remain in military custody, or be remitted to the civil tribunals for trial.

The York State Republican leaders are beginning to talk about cutting loose from the Union party and running their own machine again. They had hoped by the "Union" dodge to steal the thunder of the Democracy; but they have found that none but Democrats can wield the bolts with safety to the country—and, unluckily, safety to the country is death to "Republican" projects and prospects. It's no use kicking gentlemen,—let the "sick man" die decently, and don't spoil the looks of the corpse by galvanic convulsions. That's the advice of an outsider, who loves to see propriety at funerals.—Boston Post.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Thursday, the bill to increase the efficiency of the medical department of the army was amended and passed. The case of Mr. Stark of Oregon (appointed by the Governor of the State to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Col. Baker) was then taken up. After further discussion, Mr. Stark was admitted to a seat in the Senate, by a vote of 25 yeas to 19 nays. The House was engaged upon contested election cases.

☞ The trains and mails in Maine during the present week have been disarranged even more seriously than in this city.—The Bath Times of Thursday morning, states that since Monday it had not received an exchange, excepting two Augusta papers that came to hand Wednesday afternoon.

Why is it impossible for a person who lisps to believe in the existence of young ladies? He takes every Miss for a Myth.

THE REBELLION.

The troops under Gen. Curtis, in close pursuit of Price and McCulloch, entered Fayetteville, Washington county, Arkansas, Feb. 23d, capturing a number of prisoners, with stores, baggage, &c. The enemy, after partially burning the town, fled in great confusion across the Boston mountains.

The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says that Gen. Bushrod Johnson and all his staff, except Capt. Moorman, escaped from Fort Donelson on Monday, Feb. 17, after they had been prisoners but thirty-six hours. No trick was resorted to in order to effect their escape; they simply mounted their horses and rode through the lines.

The New Orleans Bee confesses the magnitude of the calamity of Fort Donelson, and condemns the neglect and apathy of the Confederate Government in not sending a sufficient number of troops Westward. It says that a general call to arms has become inevitably necessary. The Governors of Alabama and Georgia have each called for twelve more regiments, and threaten that, if the requisition is not filled by March 4th, a draft will be ordered.

Rev. C. W. Dennison will lecture in this city to-morrow evening, upon the "Contrabands," founding his remarks upon the passage in Genesis—"Am I my brother's keeper." The place has not yet been determined upon, but will be announced from the several pulpits. He lectured in Concord on Sunday evening last, and the Independent Democrat thus refers to him:—

Mr. Dennison is truly a philanthropist, and is engaged in a noble work. He volunteered among the first at the breaking out of the rebellion, and has been at many of the prominent points where our army has advanced. He has seen and conversed freely with the negroes at Fortress Monroe, Beaufort and many other places where they are assembled by thousands, and they are all willing to learn, and manifest a desire to elevate themselves from the miserable condition in which they have been compelled to live. Mr. Dennison speaks with great power, in a clear, fair and logical manner, and cannot fail to produce a good impression upon the audience which has the good fortune to hear him.

☞ Mr. Ben. Osgood, the original proprietor and manufacturer of the famous "Russia Salve," died in Lawrence, Mass., on Saturday, at the age of sixty-five. He was formerly a blacksmith by trade.

☞ Edwin James, ex-Queen's Counsel, England, has made his first appearance in a New York Court. His only peculiarity seems to be calling the Judge "my lad," instead of "your honor."

☞ The English papers are denouncing the Ministry for allowing themselves to be drawn into the alliance against Mexico;—a scheme, they say, to give France and Spain the glory of a new crusade and the patronage of an empty throne for which the tax-burdened English are to pay.

A NOVEL SWINDLE.—We hear of a shrewd dodge which has been practised upon the retail trade of this city. Some knave cuts the coupons off the $50 seven-thirty Treasury notes, and passes the note as a decomposed note in trade, thus pocketing some $10.95, the amount of the coupons for three years, which he may collect half yearly upon presenting them. There are no $50 demand notes, only $5's, $10's, and $20's. New York Evening Post.

☞ The efficiency of the blockade, and the low state of the mechanic arts in the rebel States, is proved by an advertisement in the Richmond Enquirer, which states that "for want of the colors heretofore used in the manufacture of the Confederate States postage stamps, hereafter the five-cent stamps issued will be blue, and the ten-cent stamps red."

THE REASON.—A shop was broken open one night; but strange to say, nothing was carried off. The proprietor was making his brag of it, at the same time expressing his surprise at losing nothing.

"Not at all surprising," said his neighbor; "the robbers lighted a lamp, didn't they?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Well," continued the neighbor, "they found your goods were marked so high they couldn't afford to take them."

☞ Special dispatches from Washington say the Republican newspaper intimates that there is truth in the story that Jeff. Davis has made overtures for compromise. It is said that he asks for a convention of all the States, to definitely adjust the questions at issue, and requires new guaranties for slavery.

It is now said that Buckner, at Fort Donelson, to be prepared for any turn of fortune, had a couple of flags, tied to opposite ends of a long pole,—a coat stolen from a neighboring farmer for a black flag, and a shift stolen from his wife for a white one.—While the Federals kept at a distance from the fort, he displayed the coat end of his flag-staff, but as they approached, he—shifted.—Post.

The poor fellow "did'n't know as he was much hurt until he went out at recess, but when he had taken off his coat and measured his arm, he found it girted 21-2 inches more than the other." ☞ Winter's last day, Friday, was improved by the abdicating old chap in a manner to make all rejoice that his reign is soon to give place to a more genial rain.—What banks about here are so well supplied as the snow banks? We wish they would reduce their capital stock. If they don't soon, snow and ice ought to be declared legal tender, tough as they are. To-day they call Spring, and we hope that fickle young lady will intimate to old Winter that his lingering in her lap will not be long allowed.

By the way, we wonder where those weather-wises are, who predicted an open winter? Such predictions, from mouth or almanac, are about as reliable as Secretary Seward's in reference to this war.

☞ They have been having sleighing and skating carnivals in Boston, Portland and New York; and we had the most of a sleighing carnival we ever saw in Portsmouth, on Washington's Birthday. Besides the people who thronged the sidewalks, the streets were occupied by teams decorated with flags, &c., and filled with happy riders. Among the rest, Mr. Perkins hitched up four grey horses to one of his nice hacks,—making quite a stylish turnout; and perhaps it is not too late to acknowledge his courtesy in calling to offer the Chroniclers a ride, though they were all off on private account.

Speaking of Perkins's hacks, reminds us of a short ride we did take in one of them, during the severe snow storm of Monday night last. Our hosts for the evening thought "the hack certainly wouldn't come," but at the appointed hour of half-past ten, Mr. R. O. Shannon was on hand. We think we never encountered a more severe storm, and we must say we did have some fears that the carriage would blow over. On account of a more unconquerable fear of the same sort, quite a company of ladies and gentlemen visiting in the same neighborhood, struggled home through the snow on foot—their safe arrival proving their skill and good pluck, as well as ours did our driver's.

☞ There appears to be more dancing in Portsmouth this winter, than usual, though perhaps fewer balls. Besides private parties, Irving Hall is much used of late. Among other good times there, have been a subscription series of half a-dozen Assemblies, of about thirty couple, with ladies to spare, (though all were not "spare," and none could be well spared.) The course closed with February, though a grand reunion, at the Ocean House or elsewhere, is hinted at for the next moon. Lamprey's Quadrille Band of course furnished and will furnish the music.

SAD DEPRIVATION.—We have received no Portsmouth Chronicle for three days.—Dear Frank, let your revenge take any form but that. Remember that

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the wisest men," and don't deprive us of reading of the Chronicle.—Exeter Ballot, Feb. 26.

Well, Thomas, you don't deserve a Chronicle, that's a fact. And you ought to take it for granted that it "has died out for want of wind" since you moved out of town. But our mail-clerk tells us that the paper has been sent daily, as usual; and perhaps Thomas will now believe that folks do sometimes steal Chronicles. Yes, we will try to relish "a little nonsense" once a week, for a spell longer; but don't surfeit us.—When you make the Ballot a daily, we will cut off the exchange, sure. For the present, the only form our revenge shall take is, wishing that some of those Exeter girls would run off with your form, and reform you.

Mr. Miles Buzzell, of Dover, while engaged in cleaning out the gutters over the office of the Dover Gazette, fell, and coming in contact with the frame of an awning, tore away the frame and came to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. Mr. Buzzell was injured inwardly very badly, although no bones were broken. At last accounts he was doing well.

An accident very similar to this came very near "happening," from the roof of the store adjoining the Chronicle office, a few days since, as Mr. Frank Shores was clearing the rear roof, when a large mass of snow slid from under him, taking his axe with it to the ground, and barely not taking that startled individual—who could not at the instant catch his safety rope, and could only hang on to the slates by his finger nails! Since that, when we have wished our roof cleaned, he has always been busy.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. Nathaniel S. Folsom will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. Winthrop Fifield, of South Newmarket, will preach at the North Church to morrow.

POLICE COURT, Feb. 27.—A. H. Hoyt Presiding. Chas. Willey for being drunk on Market street, was fined $3 and costs, $3.86.

☞ Richard's new Blacking for boots and shoes, advertised by Mr. J. C. Carr, they do say will stand a brush with anything of the sort ever used.

☞ A recent visitor to John Tyler's homestead at Hampton, Va., found it occupied by his late slaves: there must have been over a hundred in the house. "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." What a history in twenty-one years! President, exile, dead among strangers; and the victims of his tyranny enjoying his goods, chattels and estates.

Special Notices.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE BLIND, or those who are nearly so. Dr. Dessauer is coming this way again, and will be at the Franklin House on the 5th March, with a full assortment of spectacles, eye-glasses, etc. Dr. D. has so frequently trafed with our people that no word of recommendation is necessary.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Burns & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery.—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

THE CITY OF THE LIVING.

In a long-vanished age, whose varied story
No record has to day,
So long ago expired its grief and glory—
There flourished, far away,
In a broad realm, whose beauty passed all measure,
A city fair and wide,
Wherein the dwellers lived in peace and pleasure,
And never say died.
Disease and pain and death, those stern marauders,
Which mar our world's fair face,
Never encroached upon the pleasant borders
Of that bright dwelling-place
No fear of parting and no dread of dying
Could ever enter there—
No mourning for the lost, no anguished crying
Made any face less fair.
Without the city's walls, death reigned as ever,
And graves rose side by side—
Within, the dwellers laughed at his endeavor,
And never say died.
O, happiest of all earth's favored places!
O, bliss, to dwell therein—
To live in the sweet light of loving faces
And fear no grave between!
To feel no death damp, gathering cold and colder,
Disputing life's warm truth—
To live on, never lonelier or older,
Radiant in deathless youth!
And so they lived, in happiness and pleasure,
And grew in power and pride,
And did great deeds, and laid up stores of treasure,
And never say died.
And many years rolled on, and saw them striving
With unabated breath,
And other years still found and left them living,
And have no hope of death.
Yet listen, hapless soul whom angels pity,
Craving a boon like this—
Mark how the dwellers in the wondrous city
Grew weary of their bliss.
One and another, who had been concealing
The pain of life's long thrall,
Forsook their pleasant places, and came stealing
Outside the city wall,
Craving, with wish that brooked no more denying,
So long had it been crossed,
The blessed possibility of dying,—
The treasure they had lost.
Daily the current of rest-seeking mortals
Swelled to a broader tide,
Till none were left within the city's portals,
And graves grew green outside.
Would it be worth the having or the giving,
The boon of endless breath?
Ah, for the weariness that comes of living
There is no cure but death!
Ours were indeed a fate deserving pity,
Were that sweet rest denied;
And few, methinks, would care to find the city
Where never say died!

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin cough, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. REV. ED. EDWIN BENHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1266

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see Act of the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the usual terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining Patents, so extensively that the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in securing inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of your talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE BLESSING OF PEACE.—Messrs. Editors,—I agree with your correspondent of the Independent Notes, that peace is desirable, and yet that our government must be sustained, and also that the question of slavery, or as he bitterly calls it, "the everlasting nigger question" has brought about the war.

But I do not, like him, think it of little consequence, whether freedom or slavery should rule. I do believe that there are such things as right and wrong, and there is some difference between them.

His remedy for the war, except "the sword," we have not yet seen, but his way in which it ought to have been prevented, will bear looking at, for one moment.

Had the press and the church, in both sections of the Union, habitually discountenanced all sectional and hostile movements; in fact, had the church always kept itself aloof from party politics,—the evils we now deplore, might have passed from us or been materially lessened.

This is only saying in other words, had there been no dispute and no quarrel, there would have been no war; and if the church members, all through the land, would only have had no opinions or principles, and never voted with any party, north or south; if the newspapers had never discussed this question, nor any other,—why then, how peaceable we should all have been! as quiet as a congregation on a summer's afternoon, when parson Drowsy has got to his fifth head of discourse, and his audience are mostly snoring.

But no such thing has happened, and no such thing can happen. Church members are usually living men and women, who have opinions and prejudices; suppose there is some difference between good and evil, and try to act accordingly.

And then, the press, to keep all still as a duck pond, must have neither been for nor against the Missouri compromise forty-five years ago—must not have said a word about Texas or the Mexican War, the Nebraska bill nor the Lecompton swindle.—It should not have noticed the Dred Scott decision nor President Buchanan's gloss of it. Such a press as that could not print newspapers, surely. And if it printed Almanacs, they must be old ones.

The whole thing must be a dreamy abstraction. But the events of to day should keep us WIDE AWAKE.

WELLINGTON NEVER LOST A GUN.—It is a singular fact in this man's history that he never lost a gun to the enemy.—"Returning with him one day from the hunting field," says Lord Ellesmere, "I asked him if he could form any calculation of guns he had taken in the course of his career?" "No," he replied, "not with accuracy; somewhere about 3000, I should guess."

Charlotte Smith was walking along Piccadilly, when the tray of a butcher's boy came in contact with her shoulder, and soiled her dress. "The deuce take the tray!" she exclaimed in a pet. "Ah! but the deuce can't take the tray," replied young rumpsteak, with the greatest gravity.

A firm faith is the best divinity; a good life is the best philosophy; honesty the best policy; and temperance the best physic.

That was a pretty fast nag that ran away the other day without leaving a trace behind.—Boston Post.

The Confeds have come to the conclusion that Donelson is not their forte.—Louisville Democrat.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the bladder and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm; improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, pearl like color and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MARCH 3, 1862.

☞ Bishop M'Ilvaine, one of the ornaments of the Episcopal Church in this country, writes from London, that he has been in a convocation of three hundred clergymen of the English church, who expressed their joy at the news of our confirmed peace with England as verified in the Mason and and Slidell affair.

He states also, that the "religious people of England—sympathize with us in our trials, and in our efforts to sustain government against unprovoked sedition and conspiracy—and are strongly opposed to England's helping a Confederation built on slavery, which they abhor." The Bishop adds, very truly, "of the large part of the English population, those journals (i. e. the Times and others,), which have dealt so largely in exasperating articles toward us, are not representatives."

The Times, and its fellows, do not represent either the religious, liberal or philanthropic portions of the English people. It has been recently said by papers in this country, that the Earl of Shaftesbury had said to Thurlow Weed,—

"I, in common with almost every English statesman, sincerely desire the rupture of the American Union. It has been the policy of England to brook no rivalry, especially in the direction of her own greatness.—We justly fear the commercial and political rivalry of the United States. With a population of thirty millions now, they will soon, if not checked, overshadow Great Britain. We cannot look upon such a monstrous growth without apprehension."

Not believing the statement, and yet regarding its contradiction, if untrue, as important, it was communicated to an English friend, who brought it to the notice of the excellent nobleman; and he denies the truth of the statement in those emphatic terms:

"Mr. Thurlow Weed I never saw in my life, and I have had no such conversation with any gentleman, English or American. I trust I have more sense than to use such language as that imputed to me."

A LONG PASSAGE.—Schooner Rainbow, of Searsport, Havener, master, arrived at Portland on Saturday. She sailed from Boston for Calais, Nov. 13th, took in a cargo of lumber at the latter place, and sailed for New Haven, after which time, nothing was heard from her till lately. The vessel has been in Wood Island harbor for fifty-two days. She had been given up as lost.

This puts us in mind of a similar long voyage, which occurred forty two or three years ago. At that time, there were several vessels, sloops and schooners, which ran as Packets between Newburyport and the Eastern ports in Maine, carrying freight and passengers. One of these vessels, bound to Eastport on her last trip down for the Fall, sailed from Newburyport about the first of November, with seven or eight passengers, two of them being women. The wind, fair when she started, came round N. E. in a few hours, and blew a gale: of course the vessel stood off, and being well manned and found, got clear of Cape Ann and Cape Cod; but the gale held on, the wind varying a few points, always blowing from a northerly quarter.

Other vessels that sailed about the same time, arrived here and there, with sails split, men frost-bitten, &c. Some went ashore. After waiting a long time, everybody had concluded that our Eastport packet had gone to the bottom with all on board. Winter wore away, and Spring came. With it came the lost vessel, after more than four months' absence. Having been driven off very far to the South by successive gales, she wintered in the West Indies, we think at St. Barts, and brought home all her passengers safe and well, though the cargo was pretty well eaten up and spent, and the sails and rigging worse for wear.

FOREIGN.—An order has been received at Portsmouth, E., to reduce the number of men and guns of the ships of war in commission. A Paris letter says Mr. Slidell had been received by M. Thouvenal in a private capacity, his diplomatic assumption of character being distinctly ignored. The cotton manufacturers at Genoa, who employ upwards of 25,000 hands, have held a meeting to consider the means of alleviating the effects of the present crisis in the cotton trade. The Sumter was still at Gibraltar, although the British authorities had given her notice to quit. Several of her crew landed, and would not re-embark. The January mails from the West Coast of Africa, have reached England. Increased activity in the slave trade is reported. The withdrawal of the American squadron led immediately to a large increase in the number of vessels carrying the American flag.

☞ Mrs. Fremont's health is improving, though she is still confined to her room.—For many weeks she has been engaged in writing a book for publication.

Michelet, the French author, says: England was always a mystery to me until I visited it. I found it a great sand bank enveloped in fog. The fog fed the grass, the grass fed the sheep, the sheep fed the men.

THE REBELLION.

The Burnside expedition has cut off the communication of Norfolk with the South by seizing a point upon the Seaboard and Roanoke R. R. The privates taken prisoners at Roanoke Island have been released on parole. The rebels have imprisoned two men charged with piloting our vessels to the Island.

The wrecked steamer R. B. Forbes has been burnt, to prevent her falling into the hands of the rebels.

The Savannah Republican says communication with Fort Pulaski is effectually closed by the Federals.

Rebel papers state that Fayetteville, Ark., has been burnt to the ground by Ben. McCulloch, the mili ary stores there being first destroyed; and that the rebels under him and Price, are now at Boston Mountains, preparing for battle. They also state that Gen. Polk has given orders to tear up the track of the Memphis and Ohio R. R., and to destroy the bridges, preparatory to the evacuation of Columbus, Ky., and the demolition of the fortifications. [Not credited at Washington.]

Gen. Banks' army has crossed the Potomac and occupied Harper's Ferry and vicinity without opposition. Refugees, driven away by the lawless acts of the rebels, are returning to their desolate homes.

The Paris (Ky.) Citizen says intelligence has reached that place, through an officer of the army, that our forces have occupied Cumberland Gap, without resistance. The Louisville Journal has advices from our forces at that point to the 17th, and at that time no serious opposition was anticipated to our advance.

Neither Jefferson Davis nor any other person has made any communication to our Government concerning terms of submission or compromise.

The Government censorship of the telegraph is limited exclusively to military movements, so as to prevent the enemy from learning from our papers where they are to be assailed by our armies. All other communication is open and free to the public as ever.

Great indignation is expressed at Nashville, against Gov. Harris, who was fairly driven away by the Union men, they having become emboldened by the approach of our troops. Before leaving, he made a speech, advising the people to burn their property, and to rally and meet him at Memphis; but the people "didn't see it."

The Southern people who are in rebellion are our enemies. There is no description of property in their possession, which it is not our direct interest to destroy—even to the taking of their lives. When they lay down their arms and submit to the jurisdiction of the Government, there is no description of property in their possession which it is not our interest to protect. These are the laws of war. The same with us and our Southern enemies, as between all other belligerents; and every relinquishment of their absolute stringency in favor of our foes, is war against ourselves. Let us strike, therefore, as if in earnest. Fiercely, because that is mercifully; and as we march, let us put the conquered territory up at auction, in order that the thousand million debt, now in process of accumulation, be expiated by the traitors who created it. That is the way to make war do its work. That is the way to teach treason a lesson, that will be a warning to insubordination in the future. Any milder treatment, any general act of grace, before such penalties are levied, would insure a new insurrection at the hands of "gallant" rebels, at the end of every presidential election.—Geo. Wilkes.

"MONEY" DEFINED.—"Do you call this money?"

Leaning over the counter, a puzzled volunteer was endeavoring to reckon up the change just paid out by the sleek haired clerk. Before him lay a quantity of mutilated bills, ragged and dirty pieces of paper, bits of card-board, printed checks, a few copper pennies, milk tickets, postage stamps, and a few other specimens of the present outrageous "coin of the realm."—Over and over again the puzzled volunteer essayed to count the pile of villainous currency and over and over again he failed to find it satisfactory. It was too much for his rustic arithmetic; the problem was too difficult to solve upon only ten fingers. The bystanders laughed.

The money was spread out upon the show-case, as young ladies lay cards upon a table in telling fortunes, and the soldier stood before it searchingly examining every piece. "Do you call this money?" holding up an advertisement of fine Havana cigars—"and this"—a bill for 15 cents in which some weak-minded printer had gone raving mad in different kinds of type. "Good for one Shave; (reading slowly) Dick the barber—Do you call this money?" The sleek haired clerk was puzzled also. "It'll pass all over town, indeed it will, sir." Once more the soldier scrutinized the ragged and incongruous pile, and grasping it in one hand soliloquized: "So, this is money—money? ha! I call it stuff. Why, a man might hold his hand full, and then have but thirty seven cents in money."—Norfolk Corr. Richmond Dispatch.

☞ The people of Troy, N. Y., are just now wondering at the ingenuity of W. E. Hagan, the popular druggist and chemist of that city, who has just succeeded in burning water, in a new kind of stove, which they think is destined to work a revolution in domestic economy.

☞ A young lady in Portland sent a little boy on an errand, and bade stout Bridget go with him to show him the way.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

TAR, FEATHERS, &c.—Months ago, soon after the rebellion got under way, Mr. Ambrose L. Kimball, editor of the Haverhill (Mass.) Democrat, published secession and pro-slavery matter, something like the Concord Democratic Standard. His friends remonstrated; his opponents, the loyal men, protested. He armed himself, and threatened. A mob rode him on a rail, and tarred and feathered him. For these acts several of the actors have been indicted, and other indictments are threatened.

A few evenings since, a large meeting of citizens of Haverhill was held, and resolutions or stat ments passed, two of which we copy, showing that these citizens deem Kimball a traitor, and think he deserved the punishment, though it was illegally inflicted. They say—

That in the publication of the speech of the traitor Breckinridge, the treasonable speech of Vallandigham, the discouragement of enlistments in the Federal army, the abuse of the Government by contemptuously referring to it, in the heat of a rebellion, as "the government that was," in aiding in the attempt to create a "peace party," which is known to have been a movement for the benefit of the rebels, in denouncing the Government, in its struggles against the rebellion, as being "engaged in an "unholy war," and in its general spirit sympathizing with the rebellion, the Essex County Democrat was truly deserving of the title of a secession paper, and its editor and proprietor that of a traitor.

And that the event, unlawful as it truly was, gives no indication of a general spirit of violence in this community, but is only kindred to the punishment meted out in certain cases to the tories of the Revolution, and indicates that the loyal spirit is too deeply fixed in the public heart to long submit to the abuse of traitors.

The Boston Courier, in commenting on the event, remarks:—

It is a subject of profound regret, that a meeting of this description was held—though it can certainly have no effect, except to the prejudice of the parties engaged in it, and of those who are under indictment for the original offence.

We can think of one other effect, very likely to follow, viz., that juries will not readily agree to convict the persons indicted for this crime; but some stubborn fellow will say they served him right, as his own townsmen have twice declared.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mrs. Abigail Ruffle, of Keene, has five sons and a son-in-law in the army, ready to offer their lives for the Union.—This is quite a feather in Mrs. Ruffle's cap.

—— The Manchester American anticipates that the vote for Governor in this State will be light. It states that a reliable canvasser has ascertained that in some wards in that city the falling off is quite one third. The relative strength of each party is about the same; rather in favor of the Republican side if anything.

—— Parson Twiss, of New Hampshire, according to the story, had just married a lady who is Christian name was Desire, and it being in his course of remark on a certain Sunday to illustrate the difference between the renewed and unrenewed man in the exercise of love, he thus did it:—

"Formerly I had no Desire to love, but now I have a Desire to love, and I love freely."

☞ Henry C. Webster, of this city, Master's Mate on board the U. S. steamer Commodore Perry, was wounded two days after the taking of Roanoke Island. The fleet, it will be remembered, at that time ascended the river and destroyed the rebel gunboats. The Com. Perry, which was in the advance, made for the rebel steamer Sea Bird, the flagship, in which was Com. Lynch, and cut her through. Mr. Webster was shot through the leg, but the wound is now healing, and he expects to be able to walk again in a few weeks.

☞ One night this week, the Philadelphia Inquirer says, a contractor called on an officer of the Quartermaster's Department, at Washington, to borrow as much money as would take him home to Cincinnati. On Monday he had signed documents entitling him to receive over $60,000, which amount he had drawn and lost in gambling at a celebrated hotel in Washington.

☞ The brave Union soldier who carried captive the heart of a beautiful and wealthy beiress at Richmond, and is soon to be married to her, is Sergeant Moulton, of New Haven, of the 3d regiment. He was taken prisoner at Bull Run, sent to Richmond, and attracted the notice of the young lady, who supplied the object of her affection with clothing, luxuries and money, exchanged miniatures with him, and has eloped from the rebel capital in order to share his fortunes.

☞ The Traveller asserts that there is a man now in Boston, so crooked in thought, that he generally believes himself wrong when any person agrees with him.

THE KNICKERBOCKER magazine for March, is issued. The Editor's Table is decidedly rich, and many of the articles have considerable merit.

☞ The Maine Legislature have passed to be engrossed an act repealing the law establishing normal schools.

$200 Reward.

Of the above Reward, $100 will be paid by the City, and $100 by the subscriber, to any person or persons who will bring to conviction the incendiary who set fire to a Barn, November 1858, and also to a Barn in Feb. 1862—both situated on the Langdon Farm, so called, on Lafayette Road in Portsmouth. NOTES ON STRAWBERRY BANK.

The editor of the Lancaster Republican, Col. H. O. Kent, a short time since left his mountain home and came down unto the sea. The narration of his experience by the way, and such he published in his paper, would seem to indicate that everything which is pleasant and desirable fell to his happy lot—which, indeed, should always be the case when the traveller is a gentleman, and especially when that gentleman is an editor. Some of his "jottings" we are pleased to transfer to our own columns, although a press of other matter has long deferred them :—

An important measure for Portsmouth, Manchester, and indeed Concord, is the new arrangement, generally known as the Candia Branch. By this, the coal, cotton and heavy freights of the great manufacturing cities can be taken, from tide water at Portsmouth, and the business of all sections improved. To the energy of Hon. J. A. Gilmore, Supt. of the Concord road, is in a great measure due the success of this undertaking.

PORTSMOUTH.

A delightful old city is our only seaport ;
"With its dim associations Hallowed by the touch of time;"

with its mansions of colonial days, its legends sung by its own poets, and the busy hum of labor and traffic which rises along its streets. Of course the Rockingham House was the first point, and Major Coburn, "may his shadow never be less," extended his wonted hearty greeting. Chief among hotels is the Rockingham, and a genial host is its proprietor. The quaint style of the building has been remodeled. One of the old "Porters' Lodges" has disappeared, and a two story edifice, running from the street to the main building, takes its place. The change was needed for additional room, but the general effect of the old manse is to our mind impaired. The house has been recently sold to Col. W. S. Hadley, an enterprising and thriving gentleman.

A HAPPY EDITOR.

We looked in upon our newspaper brethren of the Chronicle, and found them beaming with happiness over the good times there, which have been hard times for most of the craft. An appreciative subscriber had just forwarded, express paid, a splendid pickerel, measuring 24 inches. After that, who wouldn't be an editor and live in Portsmouth?

FAMILIAR NAME AND ANCIENT MANSION.

We had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of John L. Sheafe, Esq., formerly a resident of our County, and well known to many of our present citizens. Latterly he has resided in New Orleans, but left that city after the secession of that State, being a passenger on the last boat that passed Cairo. Proposing a drive, he delighted us with the object of our visit, the old mansion occupied by Benning Wentworth, Royal Governor of New Hampshire, and which is now in the possession of the family of our host. It is situated at Little Harbor, and preserved in its pristine form, particularly the hall, which has constant visitors.—Old portraits look down from the walls, an old spinet of the last century and the old furniture, almost recalled the days of the colony. The house, then a vice royal residence, in its quaint architecture, the stables underneath, for the safe keeping of the horses from Indian depredations; the narrow stair, down which, to the water's edge, Madame Wentworth was accustomed to pass to her carriage, which was kept there for similar reasons,—all seemed the faint precursors indeed, of that civilization and expansion which has blessed the land and its interests, over which the Royal Governor held authority. With a few sprigs from the hedge of box around the garden, and a glance into the summer cottage of our host, we returned into town, doubly pleased in the meeting and its pleasurable results.—Did our hospitable entertainer know of the cordial queries we have answered from his numerous friends since our return, he would pardon, as he will, this allusion to the topic.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.

Activity prevails in each department, over 2000 men answer daily to roll call, and the capacity of the Yard is taxed to its utmost. Everywhere the sound of organized labor is heard, and a navy is growing rapidly from the forest trees. Capt. George Pearson is commandant of the Yard. The 1st Lt. is Lt. J. M. Bradford, a son in-law of ex-Gov. Goodwin. Mr. Bradford is an Alabamian, but loyal, as are his family connections. Hon. T. L. Tullock, the Navy Agent, has had severe duties imposed upon him by the increase of work, but energetic and systematic as ever, he dispatches it with rapidity and economy.

REMINISCENCES OF THE SECOND.

What habitant of Portsmouth does not remember the "gallant Second" that was, during its formation, the recipient of the smiles of its ladies and the pride of its solid men? It has indeed gone, but pleasant associations linger behind, and the incidents of its sojourning there are chronicled with pleasure. The old barracks are closed, its entrances removed, and the houses tenanted as officer's quarters, now betoken domestic occupancy by their curtained windows. Old recollections come back and the encampment rises in imagination. It was a good regiment and has done brave service, and the kindly wishes of thousands who were its friends, when it quartered in Portsmouth, have followed it and will remain with it till it comes back, on the attainment of an honorable peace. When it returns it shall fill again for one night the old barracks at Portsmouth and there receive the congratulations that will go out toward it.

FORT CONSTITUTION.

Incomplete would be the recollections of a visit to Portsmouth and the associations of thought with the Second, without a drive to Fort Constitution. Down through the paved streets, carefully round the sharp turn by the bridge, down again between the Arsenal and the Portsmouth School and we breath the air fresh from the salt water; with our tribute paid to the presiding genius of Newcastle Bridge, we rattle across its planks and drink in the bracing air of winter. The Navy Yard and the old redoubts are on the left; to the right is Little Harbor, and as we drive on, down we go upon the beach near the fishing schooners and between the rows of "fish-flakes" that line the road. A sharp turn and we are in front of the Newcastle School with its never-ceasing, ever multiplying group of children; we rise a ridge and the glorious Atlantic is beneath us, while in front are the yellow walls of Fort Constitution. In the distance gleam the Shoals, clearly defined, while the lighthouses fairly shine in the offing. Capt. Davidson, bronzed and hearty, gives us a hearty welcome, and anon we look in upon the quarters of Capt. Gillis. Fort Constitution is now garrisoned by a company of infantry, and although inadequate to a seige, is affording a good school for artillerists.

The defenses of Portsmouth Harbor and the Navy Yard have been strangely neglected. While Maine has made successful representation to Government and fortifications are going up, Portsmouth is passed by. The immense importance of the Yard and the strategic and commercial value of the town have been ignored. The armament of the fort is barbette 24s with one pivot gun. It is understood that by the report of an Engineer officer, recently there, the battery fronting the sea is to be changed to the river side, thus doubling that, while rifled guns of extreme range will take their place and that a redoubt will be constructed and mounted in the same way, running from the bastion in rear of the quarters and across the outer parade on the seaside. Added to this, a battery with rifled guns on Jerry's Point, one and one-half miles further out, would effectually resist ordinary attempts at attacks. This, we learn, is contemplated, and we trust that it will be executed soon, if by the general government, as the present exposed condition is neither creditable to State or Nation and immeasurably unsafe.

☞ The heavy, shifting snow-storm of last week, blockaded streets, roads and railroads more than anything we have had this winter. On Friday and Saturday, trains and mails were nowhere; and the upper telegraph line being out of order, so pressed our telegraph with through business, that it was almost impossible to get a dispatch to or from Boston to this or other way stations.

The Boston train due here at 5, Friday, did not arrive till about 6, P. M., Saturday; and the rest of the trains about ditto. It took till Monday morning to get all straightened out.

But there was not much news of importance or interest, after all the impatience; and no doubt the world will go on as usual, if one or two mails and editions of papers were delayed a few hours.

☞ Prof. Peabody is acting as temporary President of Harvard University, since the death of Pres. Felton.

Special Notices.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE BLIND, or those who are nearly so. Dr. Dessauer is coming this way again and will be at the Franklin House on the 3d March, with a full assortment of spectacles, eye-glasses, etc. Dr. D. has so frequently traded with our people that no word of recommendation is necessary.

This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.

Patented June 23, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MONTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; SAVE LABOR; SAVE WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gugged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

IMMORTELLES.

PRAYER.

"Ask and receive," we sweetly said;
But what to ask, for know I not,
For tho' it worried, wish o'erpaid,
And aye to thanks returns my thought.
If I worry
Pre nought to say

ut this, that God may be God still.
For Him to live
Is still to give,
And sweeter than my wish, His will.

LOVE.

Your heart is a music box, dearest!
With exquisite tunes at command,
Of melody sweetest and clearest
If tried by a delicate hand;
But its workmanship, love, is so fine,
At a single rude touch it would break;
Then oh! be the magic key mine,
Its fairy like whispers to wake!
And there's one little tune it can play,
That I fancy all others shove—
You learned it of Cupid one day—
It begins with and ends with "I love"
"I love;"
My heart echoes to it "I love"

Frances E. Osgood.

From the near city comes the clang of bells:
Their hundred jarring diverse tones combine
In one faint misty harmony, at fine
As the soft note you winter rain swells —
What to Thee in Thine Infinity
These multiform and many-colored creeds
Seem but the robe worn by some temple's weeds
Round the one living truth Thou givest him—Thee!
What if those varied forms that worship prove,
Being heart-worship, Thy perfected ear
But as a monotone, complete and clear,
Of which the music is, through Christ's name, Love?
For ever rising in sublime increase
To "Glory in the Highest—on earth peace?"

—Miss Malock.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the shortest notice and dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or establishing the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The fact that no patent has ever given rise to a single suit, or been adjudged invalid, prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber: and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as ample and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to make their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE WIND AND THE BREEZE

A mighty wind went raging by—
It was a wondrous sight;
Stout trees bent down their branches high;
Dark clouds of dust whirled through the sky,
And sought around one could pry,
But traphies of its might.

A little breeze passed gently o'er—
I scarcely heard its tread;
Yet freshness to the flowers it bore,
And through the open cottage door,
Their fragrance floated in once more,
Around the sick man's head.

Then thought I—it were grand, I know,
The strong, proud wind to be;
But better far, subdued to go
Along the path of human woe,
Like the mild breeze, so soft and low,
In its sweet ministry.

☞ A farmer, who had come to Eastport, Me., with a load of straw, experienced an uncomfortable, creeping, slimy sensation moving swiftly up and down his back, across his shoulders, and down his arms, causing him to feel faint and alarmed.—He consulted a physician, but obtaining no relief hurried home with great apprehensions of death. His wife assisted him into the house, and was siding him in taking off his coat, when out jumped a mouse. "The man recovered from the bite, the mouse it was that died."

☞ A marble worker, from Bangor, lately visited a town in Aroostook county, Maine, and received orders from over forty families for grave stones to be placed over children and others who have recently died of the diphtheria. Three families have lost all their children, one has lost five, and twelve have lost three each, and about half of the forty families have lost two each—over one hundred in all. One in eleven of the whole population has died, mostly children and youth.

ONE OF THE SENATORS.—The Washington correspondent of the New York World thus describes Senator McDougall of California, as he appeared on one occasion:

Mr. Dougall of California, being drunk as usual, attempted to make a speech, and failed, as always. He was very drunk, so drunk that even the official reporters will have hard work to make English of the few uncouth sentences which rattled from his lips. Three thousand people knew he was drunk, and I see no reason for not recording the fact in this letter. It is a pity that there can be no expulsion from the Senate for outrages of legislative decency.

A writer in the S. S. Times, speaking of persons who give as a reason for their not being Christians, that there are so many inconsistent church-members, says that he was impressed with an incident related by a chaplain in one of our regiments in a sermon the other evening. He said a young man came into his camp, and in conversing on religious matters, he asked him why he was not a christian. "Why," said he, "because there are so many hypocrites in the church." "Well, are there not hypocrites out of the church?" "O! yes."—"Well, what are you doing out of the church?"

A pompous young preacher once asked Dr. Emmons how he liked his sermon.—The doctor (then ninety years old) rose from his chair, protruded his cheeks, inflated his chest, gave a significant puff, and then sat down without saying a word. To another young man he said, "Your sermon was too much like Suskonk Plain, long and level." When he heard a licentiate's sermon that went over the whole catechism, he inquired, "Young friend, do you ever expect to preach again?" "Yes sir, I hope to."—"Well, if you do, what in the world will you preach about?"

The meeting at Columbian Hall on the 22d was particularly noticeable for its "go off" tendency. First the Mayor, after calling the meeting to order and nominating a chairman, had to take his hat and leave to attend to imperious professional duty; then the chaplain, after performing his service, took his hat and left; then the chairman, after setting the reader of Washington's farewell address to work, took his hat and left, though he subsequently returned.—When one speaker commenced, the people in the galleries went off, and at the close of his remarks all went off with very little regard to ceremony or propriety. Judge Nourse made a few patriotic remarks, which did much to enliven an otherwise very solemn meeting.—Bath Times.

A MODERN DOGBERRY.—A superintendent of police once made an entry in his register, from which the following is an extract:—"The prisoner set upon me, called me an ass, a precious dolt, a scarecrow, a ragamuffin, and an idiot—all of which I certify to be true."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 1862.

NOT A NEW THING.—It appears the head rebel, Davis, has never cherished a sincere devotion to the Union, but on the contrary, has been, at heart, a disunionist through his whole political career. Several years ago, Col. Benton warned the country to beware of Jeff. Davis, in the following language:—

"He is a martinet, puffed up with West Point science, dogmatical and pragmatical, within his circle; but that circle is a narrow one, and he moves uncontrolled within it. He is an avowed secessionist."

Time has shown the sagacity of the great Missourian, though his declaration, when made, was generally discredited. Davis, and a few others of the same type, regarding the Union as worthless unless they could control it, have been exacting, arrogant and dogmatical—threatening, flippantly, to dissolve the Union, unless their wishes were gratified, and frequently running as Disunion candidates for high office.

They have now attained to the full magnitude of the crime of high treason, by levying war against the Government of the United States.

The Manchester Union remarks:—

"Unquestionably this highest offence known to our laws would have been committed long ago, had they believed that the consummation of their purposes was probable; but fearing that they might fail, and their necks be the forfeit of their crime, they desisted till now."

They expected to consummate their purpose of ruling the Union, by tricks and judicial shams:—but the election of 1860 spoilt this hope, disclosed their treachery and showed up their thefts. Then they levied war on us,—and we had only the alternative, submit or fight.

NAVAL.—U. S. ship-of-the line Vermont, which went to sea from Boston Feb. 24th, bound to Port Royal, S. C., lost her rudder, and was separated from the gunboat Kensington during the gale which occurred the same night. She was last seen about 95 miles E. S. E. of Highland Light, Cape Cod, drifting in a northwesterly direction. She spoke a schooner, which put into Chatham, Mass., for assistance to be sent her. The San Jacinto, the tugboats Relief, Rescue and Walpole, and the steamship Saxon, sailed from Boston on Sunday in search of her. Steam sloop Dacotah, Com'r Kinstry, sailed from New York for the same purpose. There is every reason to think that we shall soon hear of the Vermont's arrival at some of our New England ports, as she would be able to rig a temporary rudder to enable her to maintain steerage way until fallen in with, or perhaps to beat into port.

P. S. The Vermont was seen at anchor on Friday last, on the southeast side of George's Bank. Steam tugs have gone to tow her back to Boston.

The U. S. steamer Tuscarora is reported at Gibraltar, where the Sumter still remains, without coal.

☞ The district in Boston burnt over by the fire on Monday night, presents a lively appearance. Not less than five hundred men are at work removing the debris, preparatory to improvements. Commencing to rebuild before the ashes are cold, or the ruins free of smoke, illustrates the business character and enterprise of our people.—The Post says, the total insurance on the fire will exceed a million, and the loss is daily proving to be more than the first estimates. It will probably come very nearly up to two millions.

BRIG. GEN. FREDERICK W. LANDER died at Paw Paw, Western Virginia, Sunday afternoon, from the effects of his wound received at the battle of Ball's Bluff. Gen. Shields succeeds him in the command.—Gen. Lander, a native of Salem, Mass., had a national reputation, acquired by his skill evinced as superintendent of the wagon-road expedition across the Plains in 1859-60. At the outbreak of the rebellion he received the appointment of Brigadier-General of Volunteers, and was assigned to duty in Western Virginia. He was insensible to fear. At the fight at Rich Mountain he rode fifteen feet ahead of our forces, notwithstanding a shower of bullets greeted his presence as soon as discovered by the enemy. He bore a prominent part in the battle of Ball's Bluff, receiving the wound which has at last proved fatal. A few weeks ago he resumed his command, and on the 13th ult., by a forced march of 43 miles, broke up a rebel nest at Blooming Gap. For this act he received the special commendation of the Secretary of War. Gen. Lander married, a few years ago, Miss J. M. Davenport, an actress of talent and a worthy lady. Miss Lander, the sculptress, is his sister.—Boston Adv.

OUR NAVY.—Perhaps, the grandest special result of the war is the prestige which has been earned by our newly-created navy. It has never yet struck without the most complete success, and, adorned with the glories of Hatteras, Port Royal, Fort Pickens, Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, it will issue in the broad oceans of the world, after this war is over, with a pride and confidence that will go far toward making it invincible. Those, therefore, who look upon this domestic war as an unmixed injury, or even as a National loss, do not give proper consideration to the exigencies of the future.—Geo. Wilkes.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Mercury of Sunday morning editorially states that Gen. Hooker's division has crossed the lower Potomac. The 2d N. H. Regiment is in this Division.

The President has appointed Hon. Andrew Johnson a Brigadier General, and he will proceed immediately to Tennessee, to organize a military provisional Government, until the civil Government of the State shall be reconstructed. Mr. Johnson now represents Tennessee in the United States Senate.

The War Department having authorized the raising and arming of volunteer troops in that State, the indications are that a large force of loyal Tennesseans will soon be under arms to aid the U. S. forces.

A dispatch from Com. Foote says that by means of a flag of truce he has learned that the rebels are evacuating Columbus. They were burning their winter quarters and removing their heavy guns, although those in the water battery were untouched.—Fires visible in the town showed that the work of destruction was going on.

Official information to the War Department, from Nashville, represents that the military work in that State is about completed, and that it only remains to effect a civil reorganization of the State Government. It was believed that the U. S. forces would occupy Columbus, official information having been received that the rebels were burning their quarters and dismounting their guns at that place, preparatory to a removal. The rebel forces under Albert S. Johnston are being steadily forced backward by General Buell. Cotton to the value of $100,000 has fallen into our hands at Nashville, and the Treasury Department has taken measures to have it brought to New York.

The Times' Washington dispatch states that Gen. Buell telegraphed to Gen. McClellan on Monday night, that the rebels have abandoned Murfreesboro', and are in full retreat toward the Tennessee river. Crossing this river will place them in Alabama, and free Middle Tennessee of every armed rebel force. As the enemy retreat along a railroad line and are tearing up the rails as they pass, it will be difficult for Gen. Buell to catch them.

The Tennessee and Cumberland rivers will be opened this week to free and unrestricted commerce, under the order of the Sec. of the Treasury. This measure will be one of great relief to the commerce of the Western States, and it will be a boon to the loyal people of Tennessee, who have been suffering for tea, coffee, salt and other necessaries.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, says:—"we learn via Norfolk that the steamer Nashville arrived at Wilmington, N. C., Saturday, having run the blockade at that place."

The Philadelphia Inquirer says it is rumored upon rebel authority, that the rebel Generals Kirby, Smith and Jackson are at Winchester, with 20,000 men, over 30 pieces of artillery, and 3000 cavalry.

☞ The last account from Col. Corcoran represented him to be on his way from Columbus, S. C., to Richmond, to be exchanged.

REBEL ACCOUNTS.—The rebel War Department has called on Tennessee for 32 regiments. An official dispatch received at Knoxville, Tenn., says that an ample force will advance from Richmond to protect East Tennessee. Gov. Harris has taken the field in person.

The report of Gen. Beauregard's illness is unfounded. He left Corinth for Columbus on the 19th.

The Memphis Avalanche, of the 24th, says, persons reported to have left Gen. Johnston's command say that he entertained no doubt of his ability to re-enter Nashville whenever he wished to do so.

☞ One year ago to-day, President Lincoln assumed the reins of the U. S. Government. We then remarked that he might go out of office in as bad odor as did his two immediate predecessors—and who shall now say that he may not?

SLAVE YOKE.—The way in which "human cattle" are treated when they incline to go beyond defined bounds, has been illustrated to us in the shape of a slave yoke taken from the neck of a fugitive last September, on the Maryland side of the Upper Potomac, by a member of the First Massachusetts Regiment, after two hours hard filing of the rivet which bound the collar and two Antler-like prongs, about ten inches long round the negro's neck. It seems the "boy" had run away from his master, a Virginia secessionist named Hinton, and had been caught, when his neck was placed in the yoke, which is an article well calculated to hinder locomotion where the bush is dense, although its weight is not more than five pounds. A second time the man, whose name is Robert Willard, made his escape and secreted himself in the woods until he discovered one of our army wagons, which he followed into camp at Graham Woods, Lower Marlborough, Maryland, and was denuded of his collar by Charles H. Hatch, a member of the First Massachusetts Regiment, and the article sent home by him.—Boston Journal.

☞ The Homestead bill passed the U. S. House of Representatives, on Saturday, 105 to 16.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Lebanon Press states that in the high wind of Monday night, Feb. 24th, the Claremont stage was blown over nine times in going from Lebanon to Claremont.

—— In a school house in the suburbs of Manchester there is a ventilation tube opening from the plastering through the roof of the house; and the teacher, in replying to the question in the school register, "How is the room ventilated?" says, "like a bottle with the cork out."

—— L. W. Durant, a prominent and much respected citizen in East Jaffrey, committed suicide by hanging himself in his store, on Thursday morning last about 7 o'clock. No cause is assigned for this rash act, except a slight depression of spirits, which his neighbors noticed of late.

—— The new Union party have nominated a ticket for County, Senatorial and Councillor elections, in Hillsboro' County.

—— Mr. James Coleman of Great Falls, while opening his store on Tuesday morning last, fell upon the sidewalk near the store-door, and expired immediately. Mr. Coleman was about 63 years old. Supposed cause, heart disease.

—— A young child of Mr. Moses R. Kelley of Dover, about four years old, being left alone for a few minutes Wednesday evening, 19th ult., by its mother, was badly burned by its clothes taking fire from the stove or matches, and died Thursday morning.

☞ A member of Co. K, 2d N. H. Regt., at Camp Beaufort, Charles Co., Md., writes us a letter, of which the following is an extract:—

Since the new year came in there have been many deaths in some of the regiments of the Division. Sometimes there have been as many as three funerals in a day.—In this respect our regiment has been very fortunate. We have lost but very few men, in comparison with the number which have died in other regiments. And the most fortunate company in the regiment is company K. We have lost only one man by a natural death since we left home. This is principally owing to the medicine chest presented to us by Doctor Preston. It has been the means of keeping a great many of the company out of the hospital. When we first arrived in Washington, his Cholera Morbus and Dysentery Elixir saved many from a long sickness, and perhaps death.—Many members of this and of other companies, have cause to remember him for his generous gift.

BLACKWOOD'S Edinburgh magazine, for February, (Leonard Scott & Co.'s reprint, New York,) is issued. An article on the defence of Canada will interest many in this country, even while they may not consider the writer's anticipations well-founded. "Wassail, a Christmas Story," is completed. There is also "an excellent new song" on the origin of language, which declares that

"What Adam in Eden might speak,
Could not be the tongue of his mother."

TALES OF THE DAY.—The March number of this publication, is just as beautifully printed and contains just as choice a selection of tales and poetry, as have the previous numbers,—and this is high praise.—Price, 25 cents a number.

☞ Ship J. Montgomery, previously reported ashore on the rocks foot of Ninth street, East River, has been floated off, and now lies at Pierrepont Stores, Brooklyn. She has nine feet of water in her hold.—A steam pump will be put on board to keep her free. The cargo between decks had been discharged 1st inst., and it was expected that she would be pumped out the same evening.

Tears at a wedding are only the commencement of the pickle that the young folks are getting into.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs Editors.—The wonderful freak of lightning which performed such antics at the photograph saloon of Mr. Salen in Congress Block on last Monday afternoon, prostrating a chair, separating a stove pipe, upsetting a chair, and throwing down pictures without injuring them in any manner or disturbing their fastenings or leaving any visible traces, would seem to make the saying that "Franklin tamed the lightning and made it subservient to man," literally true. But the lightning which played about so harmlessly there, was of a much tamer spirit than that which Franklin drew from the clouds, and seems to have been characterized by decidedly negative rather than positive qualities. There are strong suspicions not to say positive evidence, that "some one was in the room at the time"the strange phenomenon occurred, and what was attributed to electricity is due to human agency. ONE WHO WAS THERE.

P. S.—Whether the points of the North Church were taken down by a similar agency, your correspondent is unable to say, not being present; but it is hinted that there never were any there.

☞ The lecture by Rev. C. W. Dennison, which was delivered in the Middle Street Church on Sunday evening last, was largely attended, the spacious building being filled. Many were compelled to stand in the aisles, and a large number went away, being unable to obtain that privilege even. His discourse was founded upon the passage in Genesis—"Am I my brother's keeper?" and was attentively and closely listened to. Although he devoted the time mainly to the discussion of a subject upon which there is an essential difference of opinion among the people, yet it was treated in such a manner, as it seemed to us, as to offend neither the most radical nor the most conservative. His account of what has been done by some of the contrabands, was of deep interest to his auditors.

☞ The snow-blockade was nearly "raised" on Sunday afternoon, and on Monday, the trains ran pretty regularly on the Eastern and P. S. & P. railroads. On Saturday, no trains were started from Portland, in any direction. On that day, the snow banks on the side of the track of the P. S. & P. R. R., at the Scarborough marshes, were so high that it was necessary to construct platforms, and shovel the snow from one platform to another. The snow plow, with all the locomotive force that could be brought to bear upon it was of no use in such a case as this—it required manual labor.

What they have suffered down East may be inferred from the following, which we find in the Portland Argus:—

A passenger by the Grand Trunk train informs us that during the storm on Monday night, a house in the town of Mexico, occupied by two families, was entirely covered by the snow. An attempt was made by the occupants Tuesday morning, when they had discovered their condition, to knock off some boards from the gable end of the building; but this was unsuccessful. Their neighbors, however, had discovered their situation, and set to work to relieve the occupants. By tunneling forty feet through the enormous bank, they succeeded in reaching the front door of the house, which was immediately opened, and the frightened occupants of the dwelling were released from their precarious situation.

☞ The Odd Fellows, with their lady friends and other ticketed outsiders, to the full number the Temple will accommodate, are to have a grand time this (Tuesday) evening. See their detailed notice, in the advertising columns.

☞ "The Portsmouth Brass Band" announce a Promenade Concert at Jefferson Hall this (Tuesday) evening. Tickets only 15 cents.

☞ See the advertisement of Dr. Ross, in another column.

☞ A destructive fire in Milwaukie, Wis., Saturday morning, destroyed the entire block known as the Albany Buildings. The loss on the buildings is estimated at $75,000 upon which the insurance is $50,000. The amount of other losses is not yet ascertained.

BIG TRIP.—Schooner John J. Crittenden, McCarty, from Georges, which arrived on Wednesday, brought in 4762 round fish, which weighed 75,000 pounds: also 3000 pounds halibut. The net sock from this trip will not be far from $1200. This, we think is the largest trip ever landed from a Georgesman.—Cape Ann Adv.

☞ A special dispatch from Washington to the New York Post says the Judiciary committee of the House will report against all enactment of emancipation laws for disloyal States, taking the ground that the power to interfere with slavery rests upon the President as Commander-in-Chief.

CAUCUS.—WARD ONE.

The legal voters of Ward One, who are in favor of sustaining the present National Administration in a vigorous prosecution of the war against Treason and Rebellion, and of maintaining at all hazards the Constitution and the Union, are requested to meet at the Ward Room on Elm street, on THURSDAY evening, March 6, at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of nominating three candidates to represent the Ward in the next General Court.

Per order.

☞ Counterfeit five-dollar treasury notes have made their appearance in New-York. They are said to be good imitations, but can be detected by the letters U. S., one within the other, on the shield of the Goddess of Liberty, being left out.

A Boston paper thinks that the most difficult passage in the Scriptures to understand is the passage of the Israelites over the Red Sea. So thought Pharaoh and his mighty host.

☞ Garret Davis' Confiscation bill, introduced in the Senate on Thursday, proposes to take away the property of rebels during their lives, and appropriate it to the compensation of loyal men for their losses during the war.

Rowland Hill said, "He would not give a farthing for that man's religion whose cat and dog were not the better for it."—Religion has breath.

☞ Secretary Seward telegraphs to the N. Y. Supt. of Police rescinding the order requiring persons leaving the country to procure passports.

☞ The condition of the roads in the vicinity of Washington is greatly improved.

Special Notices.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE BLIND, or those who are nearly so. Dr. Dessauer is coming this way again and will be at the Franklin House on the 3d March, with a full assortment of spectacles, eyeglasses, etc. Dr. D. has so frequently traded with our people that no word of recommendation is necessary.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any family of um size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

Those burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

THE LIFE-CLOCK.

There is a little mystic clock,
No human eye hath seen,
That beateth on—and beateth on,
From morning until e'en.

And when the soul is wrapped in sleep,
All silent and alone,
It ticks, and ticks the livelong night,
And never runneth down

Oh! wondrous is that work of art,
Which knells the passing hours;
But art ne'er formed nor mind conceived,
The life-clock's magic power.

Nor set in gold nor decked with gems,
By wealth and pride possessed;
But rich or poor, or high or low,
Each hears it in his breast.

When life's deep stream, 'mid budding flow'rs,
All still and softly glides,
Like the wavelet's step, with a gentle beat,
It warns of passing tides.

When threat'ning darkness gathers o'er,
And hope's bright visions flee,
Like the sullen strokes of the muffled oar,
It beateth heavily.

When passion nerves the warrior's arm
For deeds of hate and wrong,
Though heeded not the fearful sound,
The knell is deep and strong.

When eyes to eyes are gazing soft,
And tender words are spoken,
Then fast and wild it rattles on,
As if with love 'twere broken.

Such is the clock that measures life,
Of flesh and spirit blended;
And thus 'twill run within the breast,
Till that strange life is ended.

— From the German.

A THOUGHTFUL WIFE.—A friend says he has a dear, loving little wife, and an excellent housekeeper. On her birthday she moved her low rocking chair close to his side. He was reading. She placed her dear little hand lovingly on his arm, and moved it along softly towards his coat collar. He felt nice all over. He certainly expected a kiss. Dear, sweet, loving creature!—an angel!! She moved her hand up and down his coat sleeve

"Husband," said she.

"What, my dear?

"I was just thinking—"

"Were you, my love?"

"I was just thinking how nicely this suit of clothes you have on would work into a rag carpet." He says he felt cross all day, the disappointment was so great.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of Patents furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, which cannot be rivalled, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that he is more SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that for the following sufficient reason he can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted. Such a run of success proving such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

"THE THUNDER PARTY."

Frankie Reed was always in pursuit of knowledge. He took in pieces his tin horse to see what made it go, picked a hole in his toy dog to find the bark, and thus lost it, asked questions that nobody could answer; and was into everything that his chubby hands could reach.

In his third summer the first thunder storm that he had ever noticed came on just at night. His mother and a lady friend were preparing to attend a party at the house of a friend, some three miles distant, when the storm came up. Frankie clapped his hands, and capered about perfectly wild with delight, when his mother came into the parlor with her new dress, then tucked his plump hands into his little sack-pockets, as far as they would go, and eyeing her gravely for some time with his head on one side, gave his opinion,

"Well, I think you are a real pretty mamma, now."

The next moment he was gone, and soon came back to say that the carriage was at the door. But the clouds had been growing blacker every moment and the rain now came down in torrents. The horse was taken to the stable, and Mrs. Reed and Miss Hamilton laid aside their party attire, and made an effort to entertain themselves with their books and needlework; but the lightnings flashed so fiercely, and the thunders rolled so heavily, that they could only sit in silent awe, waiting for this war of the elements to pass away.

Suddenly Frankie was missing, and his perfect stillness was proof that he was busy. His mother went to seek him. In an unoccupied room, at a window that looked out upon the black night, visible only when the shocted lightning blazed athwart the gloom, the child stood fearless, his eyes dilated with awe and wonder.

"Come away, Frankie," said Mrs. Reed, more timid than he.

"Hush! mamma!" said he, turning towards her with uplifted hands, speaking in a low and reverent tone. "Mamma, don't, I am waiting to see God. Look, look there, and in a minute the sky will open. It will, I saw it, and all the glory shone out. God is up there. Wait just a moment, mamma, and we shall certainly see him."

Mrs. Reed turned her eyes upward. Vast, black clouds, torn and rent by rapid lightnings, met her eye, and she almost quailed before the awful sublimity of the scene. "O! Heavenly Father," she breathed, "grant that this child may never lose the faith that enables him to see heaven and a loving Father, where my eyes behold only darkness, and fear only Thy wrath." Frankie watched until the storm passed, then went quietly to bed, hushed into silence by thoughts too big for utterance.—Some time after, he came running in, one night, to escape the big drops that pounded another storm.

"Come, mamma, come, Miss Hamilton," he cried, breathless with excitement; "quick! quick! put on your pretty silk dresses, there is going to be another 'thunder party.'"

In his inexperience, he supposed the dressing up a part of the Programme, and that the thunder and the party had some mysterious connection.—Watchman and Reflector

ABSENCE OF MIND.

What the world calls an absent minded man, is generally either a very affected one or a very weak one; but whether weak or affected, he is in company, a very disageeable man. Lost in thought, or possibly in no thought at all, he is a stranger to every one present, and to everything that passes; he knows not his best friends, is deficient in every act of good manners, unobservant of the actions of the company, and insensible of his own.

His answers are quite the reverse of what they ought to be; talk to him of one thing, he replies, as of another. He forgets what he said last, leaves his hat in one room, his cane in another. Neither his arms nor his legs seem to be a part of his body, and his head is never in a right position. He joins not in the general conversation, except it be by fits and starts, as if awaking from a dream. I attribute this evil to weakness or affectation.

His shallow mind is possibly unable to attend to more than one thing at a time, or he would be supposed wrapt up in the investigation of some very important matter. Such men as Sir Isaac Newton or Mr. Locke, might occasionally have some excuse for absence of mind; it might proceed from that intenseness of thought that was necessary at all times for the scientific subjects they were studying; but for a young man or woman, who has no such plea to make, absence of mind is a rudeness to the company and deserves the severest censure.

I never yet found a man inattentive to the person he feared, or the woman he loved; which convinces me that absence of mind is to be got the better of, if we think proper to make the trial; and believe me it is always worth the attempt.

Absence of mind is a tacit declaration, that those we are in company with are not worth attending to; and what can be a greater affront?—Besides can an absent minded man improve by what is said or done in his presence?—No; he may frequent the best companies for years together, and all to no purpose. In short a man is neither fit for business nor conversation, unless he can attend to the object before him, be that object what it may.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1862.

INTERNAL TAX BILL.—A bill for a Direct Tax on a great many articles, has just been reported in the U. S. House of Representatives. An abstract is published; but as it will no doubt be amended more or less, we defer any publication of it, till it becomes a law. The bill provides collectors and assessors;—but we believe each State may collect its own taxes.

☞ Speaking of Jeff. Davis's message, the Memphis Appeal says—"It (the message) is free to confess the errors of his (Davis's) past policy, and the disasters which have followed from it. We think the war will soon be made on the advancing columns of the enemy, and that we will attack, pursue and destroy, instead of being attacked, pursued and destroyed. The spade will be dropped and the bayonet resumed. In other words, the policy of the Fabian Davis will yield to that of the Napoleonic Beauregard. In view of these facts, we can see a little of Morning through the dark clouds that at present environ us, which will burst forth in less than 60 days in full resplendent lustre."

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Monday, the bill requiring the oath of allegiance to be taken by captains of vessels sailing to foreign ports, was passed. In the House, the tax bill was reported from the Committee of Ways and Means. It was made a special order for Wednesday of next week. The President was called upon to furnish any information in his possession relative to the affairs of Mexico. Mr. Cox of Ohio offered some resolutions favoring negotiations for the better definition of maritime rights. They were recommitted. The bill for the better administration of the law of prize, &c., was passed.

☞ In the New York legislature, recently, a resolution was offered, to have a certain clergyman address the house on the great Rebellion. One member objected, saying he would gladly hear from the clergyman a discourse from the Sermon on the Mount,—but deemed the clergyman out of his place when lecturing legislators on political topics.

Harper's Weekly thereupon lectures the objector, telling him that he, being a lawyer or a farmer, or mechanic, or of some profession in life, ought, by his own showing, to be neither a legislator nor politician! The clergyman, the farmer, the lawyer, the sailor, the mechanic, the doctor and the shopkeeper, all alike have an interest in our public affairs,—and it is every man's business to see to it, that he does his duty as a citizen.

☞ If any evidence were wanting of the pacific disposition of the British Government, it might be found in the fact that the navy estimates for the ensuing year, as prepared for the submission to Parliament, exhibit a very large reduction from the scale maintained for many years past. It is also understood that the army estimates will show a similar tendency to retrenchment.—These premonitions of what was not made public in England at the departure of the last steamer, may be received as entirely authentic.

☞ The last of the sons of the celebrated naturalist, Audubon, died at Audubon Park, Washington Heights, on Friday last. The widow of the elder Audubon survives at the age of 87 years, and still resides on the spot now surrounded by the city, which was a wilderness when she and her husband settled there, only as far back as 1833. This last son inherited much of the taste and talent of his father, and was engaged in bringing out a new edition of the birds of America, when arrested by the hand of death.

☞ Mr. James Patterson while clearing away some snow from the roof of a building in Lowell, Mass., on Saturday, lost his foothold and fell twelve feet upon the snow, with his face downward, and was taken up dead. He was a native of Galashiels, Scotland, but had long been connected with the carpet mills corporation in Lowell, in whose interest he has made thirteen voyages across the Atlantic.

☞ At a ball given at a fashionable hotel in Rio Janeiro last month, during the dancing of the Lancers, the ball-room was suddenly inundated by a rise in the river, the ladies being forced to get on to chairs and into the orchestra. In a few moments the water in the room was two feet deep, and many valuable jewels were lost. The ladies, who were all very wet, were eventually carried in the arms of the people to the upper rooms of the hotel. The inundation subsided in about two hours.

☞ The discovery of the fossil bones of a new and gigantic saurian, in a cut recently made for a railway near Poligny, has just been announced. The animal must have been between 90 and 120 feet in length, and must have existed towards the end of the Triassic period.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the Supreme Judicial Court, now sitting at Dover, was tried, last week, the case of Oliver L. Reynolds vs. Boston & Maine Railroad Company. Trover for the loss by Plaintiff of 20 Sewing Machines, valued at $480,00, Oct. 16, 1861, while in the possession of the company at Boston.—The agent of the company delivered the machines against the instructions of plaintiff. The person to whom they were delivered never paid for them, and Plaintiff brought the action against the Company to recover their value. Verdict for Plaintiff for $505. 20.

—— The Manchester American says that there are expectations that Rev. Arthur B. Fuller, at present Chaplain of the Sixteenth Massachusetts Regiment, may again be settled over the Unitarian Society in that city.

—— The quality of pluck was very decidedly exhibited on Friday last by a woman in Manchester, who had twenty-one teeth extracted at one sitting, without the use of ether or chloroform.

—— The Exeter News Letter says: Every visitor at North Conway must remember the very old lady, who it has seemed to us never does anything but escort her cow to the green pasture which borders on the Saco; always treating the animal as affectionately and seeming to love her as warmly as if she were part and parcel of herself. A lady meeting the twain began asking the old lady questions about the animal, and among other things, if she had given her a name. "A name," replied she indignantly, "why of course I have. Her name is Nelly Marcy." "How came you to give her that name?" "Why just because Nelly Marcy is the sweetest and most beautifullest lady that comes to these mountains.—I named my pig, which I love next best, for Miss —— who was always with Nelly—but my cow that I love better than any thing in the world, I name for her who always has been so kind and sweet to me, a poor old woman." Nelly Marcy is now the wife of Gen. McClellan—and is, we are told, the same sweet, amiable woman who won the heart of the old lady at North Conway.

—— The brigade in which is the second New Hampshire Regiment has been placed under the command of Brigadier General Nagle. He is a graduate of West Point, and a native of New Hampshire.

—— The Statesman says the Canterbury Society of Shakers have sold to the government eight as handsome masts as ever grew in a New Hampshire forest. They were felled upon the woodland of the Society, and are to be used in the gunboats building at the Portsmouth naval station.

—— On Friday, in the Police Court, at Manchester, Mary Ann Daley, for "shaking down" a man to the tune of $25, was committed to jail. But early Saturday morning, having procured a rope from the outside, she attached it to a settee, and let herself down to the ground from the third story window and escaped. She was subsequently arrested.

LENT.—The season of lent commences to-day, (Wednesday) March 5th, the day being termed, in the Ecclesiastic Calendar, Ash Wednesday. During the season of lent, which continues through six weeks, until Easter Day, the services of the Episcopal and Catholic Churches are more frequent than at any other period of the year. During Passion Week, which is the final one of lent, public worship is held on each day, while at least two services, other than those of Sunday, take place in the other weeks.

The prominent Fast days of this period, are Ash Wednesday, and Good Friday, the first occurring the present week, and the latter on the Friday preceding Easter. In countries where the Church of England or the Catholic Worship prevails, both these days are observed with marked solemnity, and generally, to the exclusion of all business.

☞ Oberlin, Ohio, has a new sensation. Two young ladies, attending school there, were poisoned by a third who was jealous of the attentions paid them by young gentlemen, and complaint was lodged against her before a magistrate. But ere she could appear for trial, she was assaulted by some men in disguise, and so roughly handled that she has since been unable to leave her room.

☞ The Paris women are excited about an electric head-dress invented for the Empress Eugenie. It is a crown formed of globules of glass lighted by electric light, and set with diamonds, rubies and emeralds. It emits such an effulgence as to light up of itself a dark room, and if ever put into general use will supersede the necessity of gas jets or wax candles. Every lady will be her own chandelier.

☞ The rebel Brigadier Generals, Simon Bolivar Buckner and Lloyd Tilghman, captured at Fort Donelson and Fort Henry respectively, arrived in Boston, on Monday afternoon, and were sent immediately to Fort Warren in the harbor.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels are said to be fortifying Island No. 10, 35 miles below Columbus, which place they will fall back upon if hard pressed. Island No. 10 is well adapted for planting batteries to command the Mississippi. It is supposed the rebels on Sunday night, burnt everything of an inflammable nature at Columbus, Ky., the light of a large conflagration having been seen in that direction.

Gen. Halleck, on Monday telegraphed to Gen. McClellan that it was officially reported that Jeff. Thompson having come North with a large force of cavalry and artillery, our forces advanced and met him at Sykestown. He was pursued into the swamps and three pieces of artillery were captured. Gen. Pope pursued another detachment South, capturing three more pieces of artillery one captain, one lieutenant and a number of privates.

A dispatch from Cairo says the gunboat Benton, with Gen. Cullum and Com. Foote went down the river on Monday on a reconnoissance, and found the rebels fled from Columbus, having removed their guns, laid the town in ashes, and destroyed everything that could not be carried away. They had also removed the guns from the Island below. The rebels retreated to Fort Randolph.

A letter in the N. Y. Times, dated Hooker's Division, Feb. 28, says there is every indication that the rebels are gradually evacuating the batteries at Evansport and Cock Pit Point. There is only one gun discernable at Evansport.

FOREIGN.—We have Liverpool dates to the 20th ult., via Londonderry 21st.

☞ In the House of Commons, on the 17th, the supplementary estimates for the naval and military expenditures in the Trent affair, amounting in all to $973,000 sterling, were moved and unanimously agreed to.—In response to Mr. O'Donoghue's call for information relative to vessels running the blockade, Mr. Bayard said he was unable to supply the return: even if able to it would be very injudicious to produce it.

The U. S. steamer Tuscarora left Gibraltar on the 13th, for the Spanish waters of Algesiras. She was watching the Sumter, which remained at Gibraltar, unable to procure coal.

It is asserted that the English Government has received confirmation of the news via America, that the Spaniards sustained a decided defeat by the Mexicans, and that the dispatch of reinforcements is rendered necessary.

It is reported that insurance is daily effected on ships and cargoes to run the blockade of the Southern ports. The highest premium paid is fifteen guineas. The ship is entitled to select any port.

The division between Prussia and Austria is continually widening.

☞ It is reported, on the authority of the New York World, that the rebel steamer Merrimac is not a failure.

Union Ticket.

For Governor,

PAUL J. WHEELER, of Newport.

For Railroad Commissioner.

JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partizan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, or with any direct object of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

LIME! LIME!!
900 CASKS of best quality Rockland Lime for sale for cash, by S. L. RUSSELL, feb25 36 WATER ST.

☞ Jeff. Davis, in his message to the rebel Congress, regrets that he has not yet received the official reports in relation to their discomfiture at Roanoke Island and the fall of Fort Donelson,—but adds:

"Enough is known of the surrender of Roanoke Island to make us feel that it was deeply humiliating, however imperfect may have been the preparation for defense.—The hope is still entertained that our reported losses at Fort Donelson have been greatly exaggerated, inasmuch as I am not only unwilling but unable to believe that a large army of our people have surrendered without a desperate effort to cut their way through the investing forces, whatever may have been their numbers.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the following nominations were made to the Senate, Monday:—As Major Generals, Gens. McDowell, Burnside, Buell, Pope, Curtis, McClernand, C. F. Smith and Lewis Wallace, Acting Major Generals at Fort Donelson. As Brigadier Generals, Cols. Oglesby, W. H. Wallace, Cook, McArthur, Lanman, who commanded the brigades at Fort Donelson, Cols. Berry of Me. and Ferry of Conn.

☞ About a fortnight since the townauthorities of Eastport, Me., seized from John Sheils between $3000 and $4000 worth of liquor, and three watchmen were appointed to guard it. Thursday night the store was broken into by a mob and the liquor taken, it is supposed, over to the British side.—Shots were exchanged, but no one was seriously injured.

A STRANGE STORY.—The Washington Republican states that the soldier (member of a New York regiment) who made a statement in regard to the alleged suspicious conduct of General Stone, lodged a few nights ago in that city. During the night his room was burglariously entered, and he was ferociously attacked by a midnight assassin who was compelled to escape by the timely arrival of a superior force, which the assailing party did not expect to encounter.

☞ The horsemen and people of Chicago have organized for the purpose of holding a great exhibition of horses in that city next September. The prizes for running are to be four, each a thousand dollars.—These will be at one, two, three and four miles. Prizes for trotting horses will be upon a scale equally liberal.

COUNTERFEIT TREASURY NOTES.—Since the first rumor of the existence of counterfeit $5 Treasury notes, on Friday night, diligent search has been made to find a specimen, but without success. The report is doubtless false, and probably had its origin in some unworthy motive.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ The King of Siam, in view of the supposed wonder and adpiration felt by the American people for the elephant, has offered to send us an invoice, to be turned loose to multiply. President Lincoln, however, does not see the utility of the thing and therefore declines the generous offer.

WHO IS IT.—The London Court Journal contains the following paragraph:

"One of the most charming authoresses, and one of the most beautiful women of her day, has lately been the victim of the most violent—and might have been the most fatal—conduct from her only surviving son. He has now left England."

It is understood that Col. F. P. Blair had an interview with the President on Monday on the subject of the appointment of Gen. Sigel as Major General, the result of which was the determination of the President to send in the name of General Sigel at once for confirmation.

Mr. Cameron stated that since he had left the War Department he had gained in weight twelve pounds.

Don't doubt it, and we have heard it stated that some of his relatives, while he was there, gained more than their weight in gold.

☞ The Iowa Legislature has adopted resolutions recommending Adjutant General Nat. B. Baker for appointment as a Brigadier General of the United States. Gen. Baker was formerly Governor of this State.

☞ The Herald says Gen. Lander resided some time in Newburyport, while a student at Dummer Academy, and subsequently when acting as surveyor on the Eastern Railroad.

☞ An Irishman in Boston sent to the City registrar on Saturday for a license of marriage. He buried a wife on Wednesday week. The license was refused.

☞ The frigate Vermont was seen at anchor, 1st inst., on Georges Bank, with all her masts cut away.

CAUCUS.—WARD TWO.

The citizens of Ward Two, who are in favor of giving to the present Administration a cordial support in its efforts to maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and the Union, against Treason and Rebellion, are requested to meet at the COURT HOUSE on SATURDAY Evening, March 8th, to nominate Representatives to the General Court, and to transact any other business that may come before the meeting.

Per order.

CAUCUS.—WARD ONE.

The legal voters of Ward One, who are in favor of sustaining the present National Administration in a vigorous prosecution of the war against Treason and Rebellion, and of maintaining at all hazards the Constitution and the Union, are requested to meet at the Ward Room on Elm street, on FRIDAY evening, March 7th, at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of nominating three candidates to represent the Ward in the next General Court.

Per order.

☞ In the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Monday, the amendment to the Constitution, relative to the qualification of voters (known as the two years amendment) was repealed, by a vote of 138 to 13.

☞ Francis A. Thornton, the oldest Paymaster in the Navy, died on Wednesday afternoon, at his residence in Baltimore. He was about 75 years of age, and was the first on the list of pursers.

☞ The Washington Star asserts that Gen. Bushrod Johnson was not captured in Fort Donelson. "He took to his heels an hour or two before the surrender of the fort, not thirty-six hours afterwards."

☞ The difficulties in the way of emancipation are real and great; but they are all among the whites;—not one of them among the bondmen. So it was in the West Indies, and so it is here.

☞ Telegraphic communication between Nashville and the East is re-established. Dispatches from that city were received on Saturday in Washington and New York.

GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

FROST FANCIES.

The frost is at work on the pane to-night,
Tracing his fancies, the artist-spirit!
His fancies so exquisite, dainty and rare,
They might be the dreams of the sleeping air,
Crystallized—showing what summer-things
She loves to fan with her faithful wings.
There are leaves and mosses, and vines and flowers,
Tangled in wild-wood, or trained in bowers;
With gems of snowbud, and dashes of spray,
All mixed—in a dream's fantastical way—
With plumes of feathery ferns, and bells
That chime, in odors, through forest dells;
And hunting-horns, from whose silvery throats
In flower-like forms wind frozen notes.
And maiden tresses, and wildbird songs,
And—O, there's no end to the wonderful things
Which the frolicsome Frost, the artist-sprite,
On my window traces this wintry night!

—Anna Mary Goldback.

LIFE.

Life has import more inspiring
Than the fancies of thy youth;
It has hopes as high as Heaven;
It has labor; it has truth;
It has wrongs that may be righted,
Noble deeds that may be done;
Its great battles are unfought,
Its great triumphs are unwon.

From strong limbs that should be chainless
There are fetters to unbind;
There are words to raise the fallen;
There is light to give the blind;
There are God and Heaven above thee;
Will thou languish in despair?
Tread thy griefs beneath thy feet,
Scale the walls of Heaven by prayer—
'Tis the key of the Apostle
That opens Heaven from below!
'Tis the ladder of the Patriarch
Whereon angels come and go!

—Anne C. Lynch.

A BLUE DAY IN WINTER.

The stormy night has passed; the eastern clouds
Glow with the morning's ray; but who shall tell
The peerless glories of this winter day?

One blaze
Of sparkling light and ever-varying hues
Burns on the enraptured sight.
The smallest twig with brilliants hangs its head;
The graceful elm and all the forest-trees
Have donned a crystal coat of mail, and seem
All decked and tricked out for a holyday,
And every stone shines in its wreath of gems.

—Rufus L. Fellen.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, who will receive subscriptions for the same.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (as fix the Act of 1836.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Extensions, Aids, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examinations into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not enjoyed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that there is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES, he feels that he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All worthless Patents sent to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE GOLDEN FUTURE.

Ah yes! ah yes! we see it all,
A golden country gleams before us,
God still is God, what'er befall,
Flowers bloom below, stars radiate o'er us,
There gleams a golden land before us.

Above the mist, above the cloud,
Above the darkness and the thunder,
While storms are roaring, wild and loud,
Calm shines a world of awe and wonder,
And there is silence o'er the thunder.

Then, O my brothers, trust and love;
A golden country lies before us,
With man around us, God above,
And truth and beauty dawning o'er us,
A golden country gleams before us.

GEN. MANSFIELD, (of the U. S. Army), who, in June last, forbade negroes to come within his lines, has lately had some experience which has changed his course. It seems that the General in command of the Department of Virginia sent down to Newport News, where Gen. Mansfield was stationed, for the purpose of collecting the money the contrabands had earned since they had come under the protection of the Union soldiers. Gen. Mansfield resisted the payment of this money, and, in reply to a Commissioner sent down to make inquiries, sent the letter to which reference is made. He says that the negroes can be divided into four classes:—Those who are abandoned by their masters; those who have abandoned their masters; those who have been set at work for the rebels against the United States Government; and free negroes. The question arising, what to do with them, Gen. Mansfield distinctly lays it down as his opinion that these negroes are not property, but persons held to labor in certain States, nowhere else; they are not bound to labor to the United States; consequently they are not slaves to the United States; consequently the United States Government is not compelled to hold them as slaves, nor has it the right to take their wages, or prevent them from going whither they will. It is clear, also, says Gen. Mansfield, that these negroes are not prisoners of war, for they have not been taken in arms; on the contrary they have run away to escape the necessity of bearing arms against the United States. Therefore he thinks and declares that all the earnings of the slaves should be paid to them, and they be allowed to go about, unrestrained of their freedom.

☞ A Richmond paper says the following will, in all probability constitute the Cabinet of President Davis:—J. P. Benjamin, of Louisiana, Secretary of State; Gen. Lee, Secretary of War; Brig. Gen. George Randolf, of Virginia, Secretary of the Navy; C. G. Memminger, of South Carolina, Secretary of the Treasury; Mr. Henry, M. C. from Kentucky, Postmaster General; Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia, Attorney General.

☞ Washington letters say the confirmation of the appointment of General Shields, who bears honorable scars of Chepultepec as a "decoration," has occasioned wild joy among the Hibernian regiments, who now hope to be brought together in a body, and rival Blenker's German division in deeds of daring.

☞ The Haytien Government have concluded an arrangement with an English company, by which a monthly line of steamers is to be at once established between New York and Port-au-Prince for the conveyance of our emigrants.

☞ A Russian student at Heidelberg has committed suicide in the cause of science. He wished to try on himself the effect of cyanure of potassium. He did so, and has left a record of the different phases of his self poisoning.

☞ The following postscript (says the Cincinnati Commercial) was added to a business letter written at Somerset, Ky., Feb. 21st:—

"Since the Cumberland river has fallen, forty or fifty dead secesh soldiers have been found with their hands cut off, supposed to have been the act of fugitives in crossing the river on their memorable retreat, to prevent the sinking of the boats."

☞ Richard Washington, brother of the late John A. Washington, is now confined at Harper's Ferry.
